Gottfried Semper In Zurich An Intersection Of Theory And Practice:

Gottfried Semper in Zurich Mikesch Muecke,2023-03-15 In the past Gottfried Semper 1803 1873 has been framed as a significant theoretician but not an important architect Few scholars have until now examined the resonances between his writings and his built works This scholarly text explores the consequences of thinking architectural production as the intersection of theory and practice in six of Semper s little known works that he created during his tenure in Zurich Switzerland between 1854 and 1871 This book has three objectives the first is to retrace the tentative seams that link Semper s built and written works and in this process challenge the still pervasive assumption that the architect s buildings have little to do with his important theoretical and historical texts The second objective is to construct a detailed analysis of Semper s lesser known works with the intent to map a constellation of his theoretical and practical tactics The third objective is to show how these means of production may inform a different practice of writing and building that considers the expanded interdisciplinary role architecture can play in the twenty first century From this perspective Semper s hybrid work advanced via the roles of influential writer teacher and designer holds the potential to undermine the entrenched lines of division between disciplines at the same time that it promotes new linkages between design and building for contemporary practice

Gottfried Semper in Zurich Mikesch W. Muecke,2005 Until now Gottfried Semper 1803 1873 has been framed as an important theoretician but a merely historicist architect With a few exception no scholar has so far analyzed the resonance between his writings and his built works Rather than limit himself to a historical analysis of either the author explores in this text the consequences of thinking architectural production as the convergence of writing and building in six of Semper s lesser known works developed during his tenure in Zurich Switzerland between 1854 and 1871 How Architecture Learned to Speculate Mona Mahall,Asli Serbest,2009 For the first time the speculative in architecture becomes a topic of critical research It is investigated not as idealistic but as strategic acting within endless modernity This modernity implies that speculation as strategic acting is not only applied to economic but also to political and aesthetic values Values become mobile valuations become a play with highs and lows authors architects become winners or losers and culture becomes fashion Includes projects by NL Architects MVRDV Aristide Antonas FAT Ralf Schreiber Pascual Sisto Ant Farm Caspar Stracke OMA JODI Kevin Bauman and others From publisher s website

How to Read Architecture Paulette Singley, 2019-06-26 How to Read Architecture is based on the fundamental premise that reading and interpreting architecture is something we already do and that close observation matters This book enhances this skill so that given an unfamiliar building you will have the tools to understand it and to be inspired by it Author Paulette Singley encourages you to misread closely read conventionally read and unconventionally read architecture to stimulate your creative process This book explores three essential ways to help you understand architecture reading a building from the outside in from the inside out and from the position of out and out or formal architecture This book erodes boundaries between the frequently compartmentalized fields of interior design landscape design and building design with chapters exploring concepts of terroir scenography criticality atmosphere tectonics inhabitation type form and enclosure Using examples and case studies that span a wide range of historical and global precedents Singley addresses the complex interaction among the ways a building engages its context addresses its performative exigencies and operates as an autonomous aesthetic object Including over 300 images this book is an essential read for both undergraduate and postgraduate students of architecture with a global focus on the interpretation of buildings in their context
