God, Power, and Evil David Ray Griffin, 2004-01-01 The baffling age old question if there is a good God why is there evil in the world has troubled ordinary people and great thinkers for centuries God Power and Evil illuminates the issues by providing both a critical historical survey of theodicy as presented in the works of major Western philosophers and theologians Plato Aristotle Plotinus Augustine Aquinas Spinoza Luther Calvin Leibniz Barth John Hick James Ross Fackenheim Brunner Berkeley Albert Knudson E S Brighton and others and a brilliant constructive statement of an understanding of theodicy written from the perspective of the process philosophical and theological thought inspired primarily by Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne Divine Power and Evil Kenneth K. Pak, 2016-04-06 Evil perplexes us all and threatens to undermine the meaningfulness of our existence How can we reconcile the reality of evil with the notion of a God who is perfectly good and powerful Process theodicy whose foremost proponent is David Griffin suggests one answer because every being possesses its own power of self determination in order for God to attain the divine aim of higher goodness for the world God must take the risk of the possibility of evil Divine Power and Evil responds to Griffin s criticisms against traditional theodicy assesses the merits of process theodicy and points out ways in which traditional theism could incorporate a number of Griffin s valuable insights in progressing toward a philosophically and theologically satisfactory theodicy It provides a new and important contribution to a long standing debate within philosophy of religion and theology Evil Revisited David Ray Griffin, 1991-01-01 In this book Griffin responds to critiques of his earlier work God Power and Evil A Process Theodicy and discusses ways in which his position has changed in the intervening years In so doing he examines the problem of evil theodicy and philosophical theology and contrasts traditional theism and process theism with regard to the question of omnipotence The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien, 2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism atheism It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E Channing Ralph Waldo Emerson Horace Bushnell Henry Ward Beecher Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Charles Briggs Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom The Trauma of Doctrine Paul Maxwell, 2021-01-12 The Trauma of Doctrine is a theological investigation into the effects of abuse trauma upon the experience of Christian faith the psychological mechanics of these effects their resonances with Christian Scripture and neglected research informed strategies for cultivating post
