Pursuing Excellence for the Glory of God Keith A. Currivean, 2022-01-13 What is education How and why do educators do what we do And in what way can and ought education be distinctively Christian These are a few of the probing questions for which this book seeks answers Among other contributions Currivean s book explores a biblical philosophy of Christian education with unprecedented breadth and depth To accomplish this objective it considers what education is chapter 1 what philosophy of education is chapter 2 and what the ultimate goal of education is chapter 3 Additionally this book provides a never before Christian overview of twelve philosophies of education chapters 4-15 Each of those chapters provides an introduction of a particular philosophy of education and some of that philosophy's exemplars Each of those chapters also contributes a constructive Christian critique Chapter 16 highlights a biblical philosophy of Christian education featuring some people some principles and some priorities for a biblical philosophy of Christian education viz pursuing excellence for the glory of God

Faith-Based Education That Constructs HeeKap Lee, 2010-08-09

Constructivism is everywhere It is a hot issue at this time in the field of philosophy education technology and religion However can constructivism be an alternative approach in faith based education While some conclude that Jesus knew learning was an active knowledge creating process and that he always encouraged his disciples to think deeply and go beyond the surface level others would find that constructivism undercuts faith based education because of its claims to relativity For example constructivists claim that meaning is imposed on the world by us rather than existing in the world independently from us Thus they proclaim that truth is relative to particular times places and people Christians hold that truth does exist absolutely So how can there be a way forward for faith based educators who see the good in the constructivist approach In Faith Based Education that Constructs readers will find a unique approach whereby constructivism may appropriately be applied to a faith based education setting Although disagreement can occur between constructivism and faith based education this book concludes that constructivist thought and Christian faith based education are in the end congruent and harmonious in significant ways Those faith based educators who continue to hold cautionary views of radical constructivist assertions against absolute truths need not disregard all other aspects of constructivism

Christian Education and the Emerging Church Wendi Sargeant, 2015-07-24 All signs point to Christian education having lost its theological location and prominence in the life of the Western Protestant church The Emerging Church movement as an intentionally postmodern approach to ministry in the contemporary context may however offer insights to reinterpret Christian education This significant movement in today's church gives Christian education a new interpretive framework that is theologically located at an intersection of doxology and doctrine In her examination of postmodern faith formation Wendi Sargeant explores the importance of the Christian worshipping community as the most appropriate setting for Christian education Practitioners and students will benefit from the ready to use teaching and learning matrix and all those with interest in the formation of faith in themselves and others will draw much from the way Sargeant situates worship as the basis for enhancing Christian formation and ethos

Wouldn't You Love to Know? Ian W. Payne, 2014-08-08 With all the jumble of human disagreements how can we know Can the Christian church think coherently about knowledge Can it regain confidence in teaching what it knows In an increasingly divided and pessimistic postmodern world this book offers a theology for epistemology and for pedagogy that aims to be faithful and fruitful Building on Karl Barth it argues that God's knowing guides how humans know We should imitate God's epistemic stance his love for that is the best model for knowing anything The Trinitarian theme in Barth identifies three key concepts committedness openness and relationality These mean being committed and open towards what we wish to know Relational open committedness also profoundly clarifies and shapes what love means in knowing and in teaching This book unpacks an epistemology and pedagogy of love Wouldn't you love to know

Integrating Faith and Special Education Bennett Nworie, 2016-10-10 There is an inherent connection between the Christian faith and special education For example both focus on the worth of the individual Both also focus on fairness and on caring for or helping the weak Similarly both aim to equip and support others This book helps the readers perceive this integral relationship that exists between the Christian faith and the special education discipline This book utilizes the chapters that stem from real life professional experiences and scholarship of the contributors to model and encourage special education practice from a Christian faith angle It is our view that special education practiced from this faith perspective will transform what is currently accepted as best practice into a new system of special education experience that is wholesome biblically based and characteristic of Shalom as wholeness not just peace Shalom in this sense has strong relevance in both the Christian faith and special education The first three chapters highlight the connection between special education and Christian theology and draw attention to the pivotal role worldview plays in being an effective special educator The bulk of the body of the text looks at different aspects of instructional effectiveness in special education from a Christian faith perspective their full potential For Life Abundant Dorothy C. Bass, Craig Dykstra, 2008-04-29 Bass and Dykstra have written extensively and collaboratively on Christian Practices arguing that the what Christians have done faithfully over time constitutes a life giving way of life and that this living of Christianity is more primary to what it means to be Christian than doctrinal confession that our confessions spring from faithful living rather than the other way around This book contains numerous essays that take up the question of Christian Practices and ministry the preparation of ministers theological education etc in a post Enlightenment understanding of the relationship of practice and head knowledge Because the book is the result of a community conversation it doesn't have a clear thesis but it models its conviction that reflection on theology arises from community conversation around our life in discipleship together An extremely helpful beginning to a conversation about ministry practices of faith clergy preparation etc as the time has come to integrate the kind of learning that comes in the classroom with the kind that only comes from living the faith with others Amazon.com Encyclopedia of Protestantism Hans J. Mikoski, 2009-07-02 In this book Gordon Mikoski examines how the sacrament of baptism the doctrine of the Trinity and the practice of Christian education together constitute a dynamic nexus that has the potential to foster congregations marked by the formation of both deep Christian identity and creative engagement in public arenas for the common good After establishing the necessity of holding baptism Trinity and ecclesial pedagogy together through his careful study of both Gregory of Nyssa and John Calvin Mikoski outlines how this nexus can function for contemporary Christian communities as they carry out the work of educational ministry He then explores the dynamics of faith formation in the contemporary American context concluding with a suggestive treatment of implications of the baptism Trinity pedagogy nexus for the educational ministry of a given congregation
