John Glenn's New Concord Lorle Porter, 2001 I've always believed that New Concord and Muskingum College are the center of the universe because if you get your start here you can go anywhere This quote from John Herschel Glenn Jr is the perfect summation of a wonderfully Midwestern town that produced one of the great American citizens of all time The Village of New Concord founded in 1828 had humble enough beginnings Over the course of the next century and a half however the growth of the entire country was played out on New Concord's stage as residents faced a series of revolutionary frontiers Zane's Trace the National Road U S Route 40 Interstate 70 and finally space New Concord like the rest of the country struggled through two world wars the Great Depression and social turmoil Unlike the rest of the country it also produced a hero

The Race to Space Erik Slader, Ben Thompson, 2024-06-04 In this second installment of the Epic Fails series explore the many failures that made up the Race to Space paving the way for humanity's eventual success at reaching the stars Today everyone is familiar with Neil Armstrong's famous words as he first set foot on the moon one small step for man one giant leap for mankind He made it look easy but America's journey to the moon was anything but simple In 1957 when the Soviet Union launched Sputnik the world's first satellite into orbit America had barely crossed the starting line of the great Space Race Later that year our first attempt was such a failure that the media nicknamed it Kaputnik Still we didn't give up With each failure we gleaned valuable information about what went wrong and how to avoid it in the future So we tried again And again And each time we failed we failed a little bit better The Epic Fails series by Erik Slader and Ben Thompson explores the humorous backstories behind a variety of historical discoveries voyages experiments and innovations that didn't go as expected but succeeded nonetheless showing that many of mankind's biggest success stories are the result of some pretty epic failures indeed This title has Common Core connections

Failure Is Not an Option Gene Kranz, 2009-06-23 The author flight director in NASA's Mission Control tells of the challenges in space flight from the very early years to the current time and of his own bold suggestions about what we ought to be doing in space now Jacket Tracking Apollo to the Moon

Hamish Lindsay,2013-11-11 One of the wonderful aspects of the US Manned Spaceflight Program was the opportunity for people around the entire globe to participate in one of man s greatest adventures As we laid out the plans for flying the first manned spaceflight program it was obvious that we would require extensive operations around the earth One of the most challenging features of this plan was to build a world wide network of tracking stations to provide communications with the orbiting spacecraft At the time about 1958 and 59 the construction of these facilities in what turned out to be some very interesting pieces of geography was a tremendous task Christopher C Kroft Jr Australia is located roughly 180 degrees longitude from the launch site Cape Canaveral and so occupied not only a unique position but a very critical one Determining the position of the spacecraft as it traversed the Australian continent was critical to the orbit determination This set of parameters was necessary to properly manage the entire operation Such things as the time of retrofire paramount to recovery of the crew and the information required for signal acquisition at each of the tracking sites around the world are but two examples Also because the status of the astronaut and the spaceship were extremely critical to the decision making process the stations down under provided vital data to evaluate the progress and to allow the flight control team to manage the problems that inevitably developed Mercury Rising: John Glenn, John Kennedy, and the New Battleground of the Cold War Jeff Shesol,2021-06-01

A riveting history of the epic orbital flight that put America back into the space race If the United States couldn t catch up to the Soviets in space how could it compete with them on Earth That was the question facing John F Kennedy at the height of the Cold War a perilous time when the Soviet Union built the wall in Berlin tested nuclear bombs more destructive than any in history and beat the United States to every major milestone in space The race to the heavens seemed a race for survival and America was losing On February 20 1962 when John Glenn blasted into orbit aboard Friendship 7 his mission was not only to circle the planet it was to calm the fears of the free world and renew America s sense of self belief Mercury Rising re creates the tension and excitement of a flight that shifted the momentum of the space race and put the United States on the path to the moon Drawing on new archival sources personal interviews and previously unpublished notes by Glenn himself Mercury Rising reveals how the astronaut s heroics lifted the nation s hopes in what Kennedy called the hour of maximum danger America - The Last Best Hope William J. Bennett,2008-04 Respected scholar Bennett reacquaints America with its heritage in this engaging narrative that slices through the cobwebs of time memory and prevailing cynicism to reinvigorate America with an informed patriotism Congressional Record United States.
