Divine Simplicity Steven J. Duby, 2015-12-17 Steven J Duby examines the doctrine of divine simplicity This discussion is centered around the three distinguishing features grounding in biblical exegesis use of Thomas Aquinas and the Reformed Orthodox and the writings of modern systematic and philosophical theologians Duby outlines the general history of the Christian doctrine of divine simplicity and discusses the methodological traits and essential contents of the dogmatic account He substantiates the claims of the doctrine of divine simplicity by demonstrating that they are implied and required by the scriptural account of God Duby considers how simplicity is inferred from God s singularity and aseity as well as how it is inferred from God s immutability and infinity and the Christian doctrine of creation The discussion ends with the response to major objections to simplicity namely that the doctrine does not pay heed to the plurality of the divine attributes that it eradicates God s freedom in creating the world and acting toward us and that it does not cohere with the personal distinctions to be made in the doctrine of the Trinity

The Christ's Faith Michael Allen, 2009-04-01 The Christ's Faith coheres with orthodox Christology and Reformation soteriology and needs to be affirmed to properly confirm the true humanity of the incarnate Son Without addressing the interpretation of the Pauline phrase pistis christou this study offers a theological rationale for an exegetical possibility and enriches a dogmatic account of the humanity of the Christ The coherence of the Christ's faith is shown in two ways First the objection of Thomas Aquinas is refuted by demonstrating that faith is fitting for the incarnate Son Second a theological ontology is offered which affirms divine perfection and transcendence in qualitative fashion undergirding a Chalcedonian and Reformed Christology Thus the humanity of the Christ may be construed as a fallen human nature assumed by the person of the Word and sanctified by the Holy Spirit The dogmatic location of The Christ's Faith is sketched by suggesting its potential function within three influential theological systems Thomas Aquinas federal theology and Karl Barth Furthermore the soteriological role of the doctrine is demonstrated by showing the theological necessity of faith for valid obedience before God
