The Flight of Events German ARCE ROSS, 2024-05-31 The Flight of Events the second book of a Psychopathology of Melancholia Series after Manie m lancolie et facteurs blancs Beauchesne Paris 2009 is a work on altruistic anguishes in manic depressive suicides In this book German Arce Ross has chosen to focus on the psychological processes that occur prior to the act of suicide rather than on the act itself We can detect these processes in a subject during the period between the decision to commit suicide and the passage to the act In the consideration of certain moments preceding a suicidal or criminal act in the case of critical episodes that are non delusional non hallucinated and non acted but sometimes assimilated to psychotic or twilight moments where we locate in particular a discontinuity or a radical rupture albeit momentary with the Other we can observe that there are things facts or events that happen to the subject without any form of control over them whatsoever In these uncontrolled intersubjective events what the subject suffers from is a tendency to undergo the acts that he himself makes others perform During this flight of events it is not entirely true that the subject flees the events of his life it is rather the events that flee Confidential Confidential Samantha Barbas, 2018-09-04 In the 1950s Confidential

Femininity and Psychoanalysis Agnieszka Piotrowska, Ben Tyrer, 2019-05-29 For Freud famously the feminine was a dark continent or a riddle without an answer This understanding concerns man s relationship to the question of woman but femininity is also a matter of sexuality and gender and therefore of identity and experience Drawing together leading academics including film and literary scholars clinicians and artists from diverse backgrounds Femininity and Psychoanalysis Cinema Culture Theory speaks to the continued relevance of psychoanalytic understanding in a social and political landscape where ideas of gender and sexuality are undergoing profound changes This transdisciplinary collection crosses boundaries between clinical and psychological discourse and arts and humanities fields to approach the topic of femininity from a variety of psychoanalytic perspectives From object relations to Lacan to queer theory the essays here revisit and rethink the debates over what the feminine might be The volume presents a major new work by leading feminist film scholar Elizabeth Cowie in which she presents a first intervention on the topic of film and the feminine for over 20 years as well as a key essay by the prominent artist and psychoanalyst Bracha Ettinger Written by an international selection of contributors this collection is an indispensable tool for film and literary scholars engaged with psychoanalysts and anybody interested in different approaches to the question of the feminine

The Extension of Life R. A. York, 2003 Studies ten American novels from the later twentieth century in the light of theories of narration and of the recent debate on the nature of fiction After an introduction to the theoretical background it analyzes works by Malamud Bellow Capote Barth Doctorow Morrison Oates Ford Smiley and Kingsolver emphasizing the complementary tendencies in American fiction to documentation of historical conditions and to the free play of the creative writer to factual record and to self conscious fabulation It argues that the tension between these two tendencies expresses an acute concern with the limitations of modern life with the writer's drive to constitute a realm of freedom and with the challenges of reconciling the two

Divas on Screen Mia Mask, 2010-10-01 This insightful study places African American women's stardom in historical and industrial contexts by examining the star personae of five African American women Dorothy Dandridge Pam Grier Whoopi Goldberg Oprah Winfrey and Halle Berry Interpreting each woman's celebrity as predicated on a brand of charismatic authority Mia Mask shows how these female stars have ultimately complicated the conventional discursive practices through which blackness and womanhood have been represented in commercial cinema independent film and network television Mask examines the function of these stars in seminal yet underanalyzed films She considers Dandridge's status as a sexual commodity in films such as Tamango revealing the contradictory discourses regarding race and sexuality in segregation era American culture Grier's feminist camp performances in sexploitation pictures Women in Cages and The Big Doll House and her subsequent blaxploitation vehicles Coffy and Foxy Brown highlight a similar tension between representing African American women as both objectified stereotypes and powerful self-defining icons Mask reads Goldberg's transforming habits in Sister Act and

The Associate as representative of her unruly comedic routines while Winfrey's daily television performance as self-made self-help guru echoes Horatio Alger narratives of success Finally Mask analyzes Berry's meteoric success by acknowledging the ways in which Dandridge's career made Berry's possible

Making Peace with the 60s David Burner, 2021-07-13 David Burner's panoramic history of the 1960s conveys the ferocity of debate and the testing of visionary hopes that still require us to make sense of the decade He begins with the civil rights and black power movements and then turns to nuanced descriptions of Kennedy and the Cold War the counterculture and its antecedents in the Beat Generation the student rebellion the poverty wars and the liberals war in Vietnam As he considers each topic Burner advances a provocative argument about how liberalism self-destructed in the 1960s In his view the civil rights movement took a wrong turn as it gradually came to emphasize the identity politics of race and ethnicity at the expense of the vastly more important politics of class and distribution of wealth The expansion of the Vietnam War did force radicals to confront the most terrible mistake of American liberalism but that they also turned against the social goals of the New Deal was destructive to all concerned Liberals seemed to rule in politics and in the media Burner points out yet they failed to make adequate use of their power to advance the purposes that both liberalism and the left endorsed And forces for social amelioration splintered into pairs of enemies such as integrationists and black separatists the social left and mainline liberalism and advocates of peace and supporters of a totalitarian Hanoi Making Peace with the 60s will fascinate baby boomers and their elders who either joined denounced or tried to ignore the counterculture It will also inform a broad audience of younger people about the famous political and literary figures of the time the salient moments and above all the powerful ideas that spawned events from the civil rights era to the Vietnam War Finally it will help to explain why Americans failed to make full use of the energies unleashed by one of the most remarkable decades of our history

Shocking and Sensational Julian Upton, 2018-06-05 Already part of a genre known for generating controversy some true crime and scandal books have wielded a particular power to unsettle readers provoke authorities and renew interest in a case The reactions to such literature have been as contentious as the books themselves clouding the truth with myths and inaccuracies From high profile publishing sensations such as Ten Rillington Place Fatal Vision and Mommie Dearest to the wealth of writing on the JFK assassination the death of Marilyn Monroe and the Black Dahlia murder this book delves into that hard copy era when crime and scandal books had a cultural impact beyond the genre's film and TV documentaries fueling outcries that sometimes matched the notoriety of the cases they discussed and leaving legacies that still resonate today
