Educational Leadership and Changing Contexts of Families, Communities and Schools Luvern L. Cunningham, Brad Mitchell, 1990 Educational Leadership and Changing Contexts of Families, Communities and Schools ,1990 Educational Leadership and Changing Contexts of Families, Communities, and Schools Brad Mitchell, 1990 Coordination Among Schools, Families, and Communities James G. Cibulka, William J. Kritek, 1996-01-01 Addresses a relatively new emphasis in the educational reform movement the attempt to improve linkages between schools families and communities in the delivery of support services to children The Politics Of Linking Schools And Social Services Louise Adler, Sid Gardner, 2002-11-01 From the time the reform movement began in the progressive era with concerns about public health and universal access to education arguments have been raised for and against linking schools and social services and the merits or otherwise of each system A new argument for the collaboration is that integration will lead to substantially better services than those provided by separate organizations This volume brings together a wide array of cross national research and public policy issues to focus on a new framework of service provision It looks at the different networks of organizations of which schools and social services have been a part and at the political implications or results of bringing together the professionals from such organizations It takes into account the constraints resulting from the larger institutional network experience by such organizations The book also presents a range of perspectives on the way preparation is followed by four responses that present somewhat varying points of view The contributors come from a wide range of experiences including specialists in politics of education law urban studies children s issues and those providing reflections on practical experience School as Community Gail Furman, 2012-02-01 An increasingly important and appealing concept for school renewal is that of school as community While community holds multiple promises for schools little is known about the practice of community in schools This collection furthers our understanding about the nature of school community its practice in public schools and the role of leadership in this practice Of particular importance is the question of how community can be created and sustained in K 12 public schools with highly diverse populations

Shaping the Culture of Schooling Cheryl Taylor Desmond, 1996-01-01 Focusing on the cultural history of the origins of outcome based education OBE this book investigates the social and economic culture of Johnson City New York schools OBE has often been proclaimed the salvation for ailing American schools and has spread to thousands of school districts throughout the United States The reform has also been the lightning rod for fierce challenges from community members who oppose OBE s dismantling of the bell shaped curve and its promotion of secular humanism The author uncovers the messy business of school change and its deep roots in the values of the local community and economy Grounding the story historically and theoretically Desmond analyzes the reshaping of the Johnson City schools from a production mill for blue collar workers to a development center of technologically minded middle class well educated citizens She argues that the heart of successful synergistic school reform lies in the consensus that children have unlimited learning capacity and a long term moral leadership that is committed to caring reciprocal relationships of power The
