God, Marx, and the Future Russell Bradner Norris,1974      Marxism, Christianity, and Islam Julian Roche,2024-02-20
Roger Garaudy was for many years at the centre of the French Communist Party but was eventually expelled for his liberal views In the Seventies he strove to bring Marxism and Christianity together to include all humanity in a project to set all people free What emerges from Garaudy s project is a very modern Marxism with its emphasis on the individual its ecological politics and in its insistence on religion as central to human emancipation Although Garaudy himself became frustrated by the failure of Marxism and converted to Islam eventually resulting in his work being discredited in the West it is certainly possible that Garaudy s project represents a good perhaps even the best starting point for Marxism in today s world of mitigating if not preventing the continuation of this antagonism by historically moving toward a more reconciled and humane future global society Contributors are Branko An i Aleksandra Baranova Roland T Boer Francis Brassard Dustin Byrd Donald Devon III Neven Duvnjak Jan W R Fennema Denis R Janz Dinka Marinovi Jerolimov Gottfried K enzlen Mislav Kuko Michael R Ott Rudolf J Siebert and Ivica Sokol     Varieties of Christian-Marxist Dialogue Paul Mojzes,1978     The Encyclopedia of Christianity Erwin Fahlbusch,Geoffrey William Bromiley,1999 The Encyclopedia of Christianity is the first of a five volume English translation of the third revised edition of Evangelisches Kirchenlexikon Its German articles have been tailored to suit an English readership and articles of special interest to English readers have been added The encyclopedia describes Christianity through its 2000 year history within a global context taking into account other religions and philosophies A special feature is the statistical information dispersed throughout the articles on the continents and over 170 countries Social and cultural coverage is given to such issues as racism genocide and armaments while historical content shows the development of biblical and apostolic traditions This comprehensive work while scholarly is intended for a wide audience and will set the standard for reference works on Christianity Outstanding reference sources 2000 American Libraries May 2000 Comp by the Reference Sources Committee RUSA ALA     The Ecumenical Review ,1975     Marxian and Christian Utopianism John Joseph Marsden,1991     The Future of God Carl E. Braaten,2016-10-19 A recent movement in modern religious thought believes that the place to start in theology is at the end eschatology At a critical time in history when many are unsure of the future of faith in a secular age here is a call for believers to participate in God s activity in the future tense The basic theme in these pages is the idea of the future in the language of Christian hope and in the interpretation of history The rediscovery of the role of eschatology in the preaching of Jesus and of early Christians says Dr Braaten has been one of the most important events of recent theological history Eschatology has not al ways been taken seriously Theologians have often defined it so that the dimension of the future was allowed to slip into an eternal present God was thus viewed only in vertical terms as being above us The author feels that this loss of hope in the future precipitated the crisis known as the death of God movement In this book Dr Braaten joins those thinkers who are looking to eschatology as a point of departure for a total recasting of the Christian message He presents a constructive and systematic outline of the theology of the future and puts forth an understanding of God shared with early Christianity as being ahead of us The thrust of this theology of the future is an ethic of revolutionary change derived from the Christian vision of the kingdom of God Christianity s eschatological faith is shown to be closely connected to the revolutionary concerns of the modern world both as the sponsor of its driving images and as a companion in the struggle for its realization The final chapter turns to an ethic of revolution based on the politics of hope     On Synthesizing Marxism and Christianity Dale Vree,1976     Movements and Issues in World Religions: A Sourcebook and Analysis of Developments Since 1945 Charles Wei-hsun Fu, Gerhard E. Spiegler,1987-05-14 The religious world of the past forty years has been characterized by profound changes Western and

Eastern religions both traditional and new have rapidly developed into interactive socio political forces that cannot be ignored if we are to understand contemporary social forces Until now there has been no single scholarly work that deals with virtually all of the important postwar religious movements and issues in world religions This unprecedented collection offers critical insights into diverse political religious and ideological traditions and their interaction in different regions of the world today Worldview, 1974 The Age of Global Dialogue Leonard J. Swidler, 2016-11-08 Thinking beyond the absolutes Christians and other religious persons increasingly find deabsolutized in our modern thought world Swidler reflects on the ways we humans think about the world and its meaning now that increasingly we notice that there are other ways of understanding the world than the way we grew up in In this new situation we need to develop a common language we can use together both to appreciate our neighbors and enrich ourselves what the author calls Ecumenical Esperanto because it should serve as a common language without replacing any of the living languages of our religious and ideological traditions Of course such thinking anew about the world and its meaning must necessarily mean thinking anew about all of our religious beliefs but this time in dialogue Journal of Ecumenical Studies, 1978 Providence, the Reconstruction of Social and Moral Order Richard Quinney, 1980 Futures, Human and Divine Ted Peters, 1978 The Theology of the Cross and Marx's Anthropology Winston D. Persaud, 2005-09-13 This is a fascinating major articulation of a contemporary theology of the cross in response to the soteriological challenge of Karl Marx's anthropological Weltanschauung The author focuses primarily on the much neglected Early Writings 1844 Manuscripts in which Marx himself provides a necessary humanistic critique of official Marxism The theology of the cross which the author articulates is centered in Luther's theologia crucis Moltmann's crucified God and Latin American liberation theology's divine identification and solidarity with the poor and oppressed Specifically the context of the work is the Caribbean and the Americas Between Marx and Christ James Bentley, 2020-05-05 Christianity has for centuries been the dominant religion in Europe and in much of the world beyond Marxism has inspired the widest and deepest social movements of modern times The encounters between the two have been correspondingly arduous and complex ranging from drawn combat to dialogue In this absorbing study James Bentley reconstructs one key sequence in the history of the relationship the dialogue between Marxists and Christians in the German speaking countries of Europe over the past hundred years Bentley offers a rich and detailed discussion of the explorations debates and controversies of the period The Christian writers discussed here include Blumhardt Barth and Solle among Marxists such contrasting figures as Kautsky and Bloch receive concentrated attention The historical and political settings of the dialogue are constantly present in Bentley's study from the First World War to the Vietnamese revolution from the rise of Stalin to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia Between Marx and Christ makes a fascinating scholarly contribution to the history of European thought and casts unexpected light on the intellectual origins of latter day theology of liberation
