God Under Fire Zondervan, 2009-12-15 God Never Changes Or does he God has been getting a makeover of late a reinvention that has incited debate and troubled scholars and laypeople alike Modern theological sectors as diverse as radical feminism and the new open theism movement are attacking the classical Christian view of God and vigorously promoting their own images of Divinity God Under Fire refutes the claim that major attributes of the God of historic Christianity are false and outdated This book responds to some increasingly popular alternate theologies and the ways in which they cast classical Christian theism in a negative light Featuring an impressive cast of world class biblical scholars philosophers and apologists God Under Fire begins by addressing the question Should the God of Historic Christianity Be Replaced From there it explores issues as old as time and as new as the inquest into the openness of God How for instance does God risk relate emot and change Does he do these things and if so why These and other questions are investigated with clarity bringing serious scholarship into popular reach Above all this collection of essays focuses on the nature of God as presented in the Scriptures and as Christians have believed for centuries God Under Fire builds a solid and appealing case for the God of classical Christian theism who in recent years as through the centuries has been the God under fire

The Doctrine of God in Reformed Orthodoxy, Karl Barth, and the Utrecht School R.T. te Velde, 2013-06-27 In The Doctrine of God Dolf te Velde examines the interaction of method and content in three historically important accounts of the doctrine of God Does the method of a systematic theology affect the belief content expressed by it Can substantial insights be detected that have a regulative function for the method of a doctrine of God This two way connection of method and content is investigated in three phases of Reformed theology The first seeks to discover inner dynamics of Reformed scholastic theology The second part treats Karl Barth s doctrine of God as a contrast model for scholasticism understood in the framework of Barth s theological method The third part offers a first published comprehensive description and analysis of the so called Utrecht School The closing chapter draws some lines for developing a Reformed doctrine of God in the 21st century
