Education And Community The Politics Of Practice:

Education and Community Garth Allen, Ian Martin, 1992-01-01 Policy, Practice, and Politics in Teacher Education Marilyn Cochran-Smith, 2006-01-13 Marilyn Cochran Smith's keen insights about the politics and substance of teacher education reform focus like a laser on the central issues of educational equity and quality in our time. Anyone who wants to understand what's happening to teaching in this country and what's at stake should read this book. Linda Darling Hammond, Charles E. Ducommun, Professor of Education, Stanford University. Marilyn Cochran Smith is one of the strongest voices in teacher education today. By weighing the evidence, challenging orthodoxy, and analyzing the policies she has given teacher education a firm footing in the scholarly canon. Her leadership is vital to the field's viability. Gloria Ladson Billings, Kellner Family Chair in Urban Education, University of Wisconsin-Madison. Access the insight and wisdom of one of today's leading educational scholars in one concise volume. When it comes to determining the best approach to teacher preparation today, teachers, teacher educators, and school leaders face an overwhelmingly contentious environment. Through her influential essays in the Journal of Teacher Education, however, Marilyn Cochran Smith has consistently provided educators with a distinguished voice of reason, advocacy, inspiration, and social justice. This powerful text organizes all of her editorials for the first time into one concise volume, making this an essential guide to teacher preparation at its best. The New Politics Of Race And Gender Catherine Marshall, 2002-11. Provides an overview of the political/historical context of race and gender politics in schools, followed by an in-depth analysis. The chapters include work of scholars and policy analysts on policy and policy implementation at all levels of school politics in the USA, Australia, and Israel. Latinos and Education Antonia Darder, Rodolfo D. Torres, Henry Gutiérrez, 1997. This reader establishes a clear link between educational practice and the structural dimensions which shape institutional life and calls for the development of a new language that moves beyond disciplinary and racialized categories of difference and structural inequality. These highly accessible essays, which achieve a useful balance of theory and practice, discuss themes such as political economy, historical views of Latinos, and schooling identity, the politics of language, cultural democracy in the classroom, community involvement, and Latinos in higher education. Artistic Practices, Participation and Politics Hugo Cruz, 2025-08-29. I know of no other empirical study of community arts that is so widespread and executed so thoroughly. Eugene Van Erven, Utrecht University, Netherlands. The book focuses on participatory artistic practices with South of Europe and Latin America as the central geographical context for analysis. The book aims to redefine and explore key concepts such as community art practices, civic and political participation, and cultural and artistic involvement. Through in-depth case studies, the work re-examines the elements of community artistic practices and the quality of artistic and cultural participation, particularly in the context of Brazilian and Portuguese theatre groups. The Politics of Public Education Helen M. Gunter, 2018-11-28. At a time when public education and reform agendas are changing the way we approach education, this book critically examines the key issues facing the public with implications for education policy makers professionals and researchers Drawing on empirical evidence gathered over 20 years Helen Gunter confronts current issues about social justice and segregation She uses Arendtian ideas to help the reader to think politically about education and how and why public services education can be reimagined for the future Home, School, and Community Partnerships Larry E. Decker, Virginia A. Decker, 2003 Many Americans worry about what they see as a growing gulf between the American public and its public schools Troubling trends seem to indicate a fraying relationship among families schools and communities Education reform has become the topic of many conversations as well as books and articles There is widespread agreement that schools and education curricula need to be fixed but there is no agreement on how this can be accomplished Educators across the nation are implementing ideas and strategies that are making a difference in children's lives and in the health and well being of our communities Structured in ten chapters this book will help educators weave some of the best ideas for creating and sustaining family and community engagement into a comprehensive home school community partnership program tailored to their own communities Website references and URLs for additional exploration are included For educational leaders teachers and family and community advocates interested in creating and maintaining home school community partnerships and collaborative initiatives Handbook of Education Policy Research Gary Sykes, Barbara Schneider, David N. Researching the Socio-Political Dimensions of Mathematics Education Paola Valero,Robyn Zevenbergen,2004-08-25 Mathematics education research as a discipline is situated at the confluence of an array of diffuse seemingly incommensurable and radically divergent discourses Research claims that have grown out of mathematics education are wide ranging and antagonistic rather than circumscribed by hidebound disciplinary frames While there has never been a unified totalising discipline of knowledge labelled mathematics education research and while it has always been a contested terrain it is fair to say that the master paradigm out of which this field has been generated has been that of cognitive psychology Mainstream mathematics education knowledges refracting the master discourse of psychology whereby cognition serves as the central privileged and defining concept clearly delimits its possibilities for serving as a social tool of democratic transformation The central point of departure of this new collection is that mathematics education research is insufficiently univocal to support the type of uncompromising interpretation that cognitive psychologists would bring to it The hallmark contribution of this pathbreaking volume edited by Paola Valero and Robyn Zevenbergen is the paradigmatic shift the authors have effected in the field of mathematics education research taking up a position at the faultline of socio cultural analysis and critical pedagogy
