Politics, Literature, and Film in Conversation Matthew D. Dinan, Paul E. Kirkland, Denise Schaeffer, Natalie Taylor, 2021-05-04 This volume presents a series of essays in honor of noted scholar of political theory Mary P Nichols. The essays reflect Nichols' pathbreaking work in ancient Greek political thought as well as her influential treatments of works of literature and film in conversation with political theory. Part I: Conversations Concerning Love and Friendship features essays about the philosophical meaning of human connection and affection. Part II: Conversations Between Politics and Poetry looks at the political significance of art and the ways in which political rule can be understood to be artistic or poetic. Part III: Conversations from Tragedy to Comedy considers whether the human need for community is something to be lamented or celebrated. Broad in scope and interdisciplinary in approach, the essays in this volume address authors such as Plato, Aristotle, Shakespeare, Machiavelli, Mary Wollstonecraft, G. W. F. Hegel, Jane Austen, Henry James, William Faulkner, Albert Camus, J. R. R. Tolkien, and Aleksander Solzhenitsyn, as well as the films of Woody Allen and Whit Stillman.

Political and Literary essays, 1908-1913 Evelyn Baring, 4th Earl of Cromer, 2019-11-27 In Political and Literary Essays 1908-1913, Evelyn Baring, 4th Earl of Cromer, offers a collection of incisive reflections that navigate the intersection of British imperialism and cultural criticism during a transformative era. This anthology encapsulates Baring's astute observations on the socio-political landscape of the early 20th century, blending eloquent prose with rigorous analysis. His essays, characterized by a blend of personal insight and expansive historical context, explore themes of governance, colonial policy, and the evolving role of literature in shaping political discourse. Baring's command of the English language and his sharp intellect provide a compelling narrative that challenges contemporary ideologies while reinforcing the complex dynamics of power and culture. Evelyn Baring, the 4th Earl of Cromer, was a prominent British administrator in Egypt, where he served as agent and consul general. His extensive experiences in colonial governance deeply informed his views on politics and literature, as he sought to reconcile the practicalities of empire with the moral and ethical implications of imperialism. His position allowed him insight into the intricacies of governance, and his literary pursuits reflect his commitment to critically engaging with the societal issues of his time. Readers interested in the dynamic interplay between literature and politics during the waning years of empire will find Baring's essays both enlightening and provocative. By offering a rare glimpse into the mentality of a key figure in British imperialism, this collection not only enriches our understanding of the period but also prompts reflection on the lasting implications of Baring's thought in contemporary discussions of power and cultural identity.
