Romanticism and the Letter is a collection of essays that explore various aspects of letter writing in the Romantic period of British Literature Although the correspondence of the Romantics constitutes a major literary achievement in its own right it has received relatively little critical attention Essays focus on the letters of major poets including Wordsworth Byron Shelley and Keats novelists and prose writers including Jane Austen Leigh Hunt and Charles Lamb and lesser known writers such as Melesina Trench and Mary Leadbeater Moving from theories of letter writing through the period s diverse epistolary culture to essays on individual writers the collection opens new perspectives for students and scholars of the Romantic period

English Romantic Poets M. H. Abrams, 1975-09-11 This highly acclaimed volume contains thirty essays by such leading literary critics as A O Lovejoy Lionel Trilling C S Lewis F R Leavis Northrop Frye Harold Bloom Geoffrey Hartman Jonathan Wordsworth and Jack Stillinger Covering the major poems by each of the important Romantic poets the contributors present many significant perspectives in modern criticism old and new discursive and explicative mimetic and rhetorical literal and mythical archetypal and phenomenological pro and con      Essays and Dissertations Chris Mounsey, 2002 easy to follow methods on researching and writing essays clear broken down advice on gathering and developing information structuring and clarity time management printing and editing the final draft presentation deadlines excellent for exam practice makes a potentially dry subject fun      ,      English Poetry of the Romantic Period 1789-1830 J.R. Watson, 2014-03-18 On its first appearance English Poetry of the Romantic Period was widely praised as one of the best introductions to the subject This edition includes updated material in the light of recent work in Romanticism and Romantic poetry The book discusses the concerns that linked the Romantic poets from their responses to the political and social upheavals around them to their interest in the poet s visionary and prophetic role It includes helpful and authoritative discussions of figures such as Blake Clare Coleridge Crabbe Keats Scott Shelley and Wordsworth      Gender, Genre, and the Romantic Poets Philip Cox, 1996 This book offers new insights into the ambiguous masculinity within male romantic poetry discussing the work of Byron Wordsworth Shelley Keats and Coleridge among others      Romantic Generations Lene Østermark-Johansen, 2003 Unlike the first two volumes of ANGLES on the English Speaking World this special issue does not originate in a set of conference papers The idea of compiling a collection of essays on Romanticism emerged from the unusually strong concentration on Romantic studies among the graduate students of the English Department a couple of years ago This volume places their work in the context of distinguished international scholars of greater seniority scholars who have become academic contacts through conferences and assessment committees and whose contributions I am very pleased to be able to include alongside the works of local contributors The Romantic generations of the title of this volume thus strike a number of different chords generations of scholars in Romantic studies conventional divisions of Romantic poets into first second and possibly third generations the self generative aspect of Romanticism the awareness of poetic reputation and the image and afterlife of the poet The collection spans just over a hundred years from the 1780s to the 1890s and while not in any way attempting to define Romanticism or raise issues of periodization the volume allows for the continued existence of Romantic features right until the end of the nineteenth century Poetry looms large in this issue of ANGLES apart from Ian Duncan s essay on Hume Scott and the Rise of Fiction all the other essays are in some way concerned with the Romantic poet and his poetry The Romantic poet is thus represented as a collector and editor of ballads as a political radical and printmaker as other to himself essentially ignorant of the process of poetic composition as a rival and collaborator with other poets or as a poet long dead the subject of successive generations of poetic lament The boundaries between poetry and the visual arts is explored in a couple of the essays indeed the rivalry between portraiture and literature pervades no less than three of the contributions and no matter whether the subject of inquiry is the image of the poet or the image of the poet s mother the Romantic poet displays a high degree of self consciousness with respect to both literary and visual media Romantic generations generate both selves and others in poetry and portraiture
