Living within a Fair Share Ecological Footprint Robert Vale, Brenda Vale, 2013-09-02 According to many authorities the impact of humanity on the earth is already overshooting the earth's capacity to supply humanity's needs This is an unsustainable position This book does not focus on the problem but on the solution by showing what it is like to live within a fair earth share ecological footprint The authors describe numerical methods used to calculate this concentrating on low or no cost behaviour change rather than on potentially expensive technological innovation They show what people need to do now in regions where their current lifestyle means they are living beyond their ecological means such as in Europe North America and Australasia The calculations focus on outcomes rather than on detailed discussion of the methods used The main objective is to show that living with a reduced ecological footprint is both possible and not so very different from the way most people currently live in the west The book clearly demonstrates that change in behaviour now will avoid some very challenging problems in the future The emphasis is on workable practical and sustainable solutions based on quantified research rather than on generalities about overall problems facing humanity

Innovation in Developing East Asia Riikka Rajalahti,2021-12-29 Agricultural innovation has played a critical role in the economic transformation of developing East Asian countries over the past half century The Green Revolution in the form of modern seed varieties chemical fertilizers pesticides and modern machinery has contributed to increased crop yields and farm incomes and decreased poverty across the region Although policy makers traditional focus on expanding and intensifying agricultural production has brought many benefits the focus on productivity has come at a rising cost The environmental sustainability of agricultural production is increasingly under threat Moreover as countries in the region have become more urbanized and demand for processed foods has risen inadequate food safety systems and related food safety hazards have created a new form of food insecurity As detailed in Agricultural Innovation in Developing East Asia Productivity Safety and Sustainability a new generation of innovation in agriculture has the potential to address the challenges of productivity sustainability and food safety to deliver a triple win To make the most of this promising wave of agricultural innovations policy makers in the region will need to act to strengthen countries agricultural innovation systems This effort will require a cross cutting approach including policy and institutional reforms improved governance of countries agri food systems and efforts to build farmers and firms capacities to adopt new technologies and to innovate Sustainable Development Goals and Pandemic Planning Venkatachalam Anbumozhi,Kaliappa Kalirajan,Fukunari Kimura,2022-06-10 This book assesses the progress in the implementation of Sustainable Development Goals SDGs in ASEAN India and China using the above framework conditions in the context with three main propositions First translating the SDGs into regional economic integration strategies during the pandemic recovery can enhance the link between global objectives and the multifaceted reality of an ASEAN community building process and providing a strategic option to strengthen the regional approaches Secondly a regional approach on complementarities to SDGs can facilitate the definition of relevant targets indicators and enhance the monitoring and evaluation framework In so doing it could also offer the scope to integrate more closely ASEAN community's social and environmental concerns into existing economic social and political frameworks

Thirdly focusing just on the geo economic sphere the area where south east and East Asian economic integration is relatively more advanced will prove the hypothesis that effective regional integration through mega trade agreements such as the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership RCEP can support the Asia's transformation agenda and foster more inclusive and sustainable growth
