distinctive contribution to the desistance literature Dr David Honeywell draws on his own lived experience to consider his route through youth delinquency and prison to a life away from crime through education and ultimately towards academia Drawing on perspectives from criminology sociology and psychology this autoethnography offers a unique perspective to the desistance process and to social identity Honeywell considers possible convergences as well as marked differences between the desistance and the convict criminology literatures While desistance scholars have often emphasised the need for ex offenders to cast off their criminal identities Honeywell demonstrates how his own trajectory has involved him embracing this identity to develop an academic career In doing so this book emphasises the complexity of the desistance process and the role of stigma and also of hope An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology psychology and those interested in the lived experience of desistance Cultural-Existential

Psychology Daniel Sullivan,2016-04-06 Bridging cultural and experimental existential psychology this book offers a synthetic understanding of how culture shapes psychological threat In Search of the Real Max Weber Colin

Campbell,2025-09-01 This book uses the contrast between the theoretical positions of the two Max Webers that is the Weber of the Protestant Ethic thesis and the Weber of the theory of action as the basis for developing a theory of agency and an associated dynamic interpretive approach to action The book critiques traditional theories of action for neglecting the physical dimension for conflating agency with action and contrasting the latter with behaviour It argues that action is not just cerebral or communicative but inherently tied to effort emotion and imagination with voluntarism understood in terms of attention instead of intention and the exercise of will rather than choice This is the basis of a dynamic interpretivist approach one that integrates behavioural insights with interpretive sociology highlighting how actors actively maintain their power of agency The concept of character is also introduced as a crucial link between individual agency ethical values and cultural systems This book will be of interest to researchers and students of sociology anthropology media studies and criminology as well as social theorists Old Age and Agency Emmanuelle Tulle,2004 This book is about rethinking the ways in which we make sense of social action or agency in later life The contributions in this collection challenge traditional academic approaches to the study of later life which arguably often deny older people agency Social gerontology and the wider society should be more reflexive and rather than contribute to the continued marginalisation of older people should draw attention to the extent to which the latter's actions may be understood within the set of normalising discourses which people have to manage and negotiate as they get old The purpose of this collection is to continue this process by providing philosophical theoretical conceptual and empirical direction for a reflexive social gerontology This book argues that the management of later life has become complex caught as it is within a broad discourse which continues to construct old age as a time of decline and dependency but has shifted the burden of responsibility for the avoidance of decline on individuals Tourism,

Tourists and Society Richard Sharpley,2018-05-01 Tourism Tourists and Society provides a broad introduction to the inter relationship between tourism and society making complex sociological concepts and themes accessible to readers from a non sociological academic background It provides a thorough exploration of how society influences or shapes the behaviours motivations attitudes and consumption of tourists as well as the tourism impacts on destination societies The fifth edition has been fully revised and updated to reflect recent data concepts and academic debates New content on mobilities paradigm and the emotional dimension of tourist experiences New chapter Tourism and the Digital Revolution looking at the ways in which the Internet and mobile technology transform both tourist behaviour and the tourist experience New end of chapter further reading and discussion topics Accessible yet critical in style this book offers students an invaluable introduction to tourism tourists and society
