The ^ANext Frontier David T Johnson, Franklin E Zimring, 2009-02-02 Today two thirds of the world's nations have abolished the death penalty either officially or in practice due mainly to the campaign to end state executions led by Western European nations Will this success spread to Asia where over 95 percent of executions now occur Do Asian values and traditions support capital punishment or will development and democratization end executions in the world's most rapidly developing region David T Johnson an expert on law and society in Asia and Franklin E Zimring a senior authority on capital punishment combine detailed case studies of the death penalty in Asian nations with cross national comparisons to identify the critical factors for the future of Asian death penalty policy The clear trend is away from reliance on state execution and many nations with death penalties in their criminal codes rarely use it Only the hard line authoritarian regimes of China Vietnam Singapore and North Korea execute with any frequency and when authoritarian states experience democratic reforms the rate of executions drops sharply as in Taiwan and South Korea Debunking the myth of Asian values Johnson and Zimring demonstrate that politics rather than culture or tradition is the major obstacle to the end of executions Carefully researched and full of valuable lessons The Next Frontier is the authoritative resource on the death penalty in Asia for scholars policymakers and advocates around the world

Escape from New York Davarian L. Baldwin, Minkah Makalani, 2013-09-01 In the midst of vast cultural and political shifts in the early twentieth century politicians and cultural observers variously hailed and decried the rise of the New Negro This phenomenon was most clearly manifest in the United States through the outpouring of Black arts and letters and social commentary known as the Harlem Renaissance What is less known is how far afield of Harlem that renaissance flourished how much the New Negro movement was actually just one part of a collective explosion of political protest cultural expression and intellectual debate all over the world In this volume the Harlem Renaissance escapes from New York into its proper global context These essays recover the broader New Negro experience as social movements popular cultures and public behavior spanned the globe from New York to New Orleans from Paris to the Philippines and beyond Escape from New York does not so much map the many sites of this early twentieth century Black internationalism as it draws attention to how New Negroes and their global allies already lived Resituating the Harlem Renaissance the book stresses the need for scholarship to catch up with the historical reality of the New Negro experience This more comprehensive vision serves as a lens through which to better understand capitalist developments imperial expansions and the formation of brave new worlds in the early twentieth century Contributors Anastasia Curwood Vanderbilt U Frank A Guridy U of Texas at Austin Claudrena Harold U of Virginia Jeannette Eileen Jones U of Nebraska Lincoln Andrew W Kahrl Marquette U Shannon King College of Wooster Charlie Lester Thabiti Lewis Washington State U Vancouver Treva Lindsey U of Missouri Columbia David Luis Brown Claremont Graduate U Emily Lutenski Saint Louis U Mark Anthony Neal Duke U Yuichiro Onishi U of Minnesota Twin Cities Theresa Runstedtler U at Buffalo SUNY T Denean Sharpley Whiting Vanderbilt U Michelle Stephens Rutgers U New Brunswick Jennifer M Wilks U of Texas at Austin Chad Williams Brandeis U

On the Causes of Economic Growth Carlos Sabillon, 2008 In a sweeping review of economic history the author presents the salient facts of booms and slowdowns in the major economies of the world in 50 year intervals and demonstrates the weakness of orthodox theories The only factor that consistently causes growth he shows is centralized support for manufacturing which spurs the creation of new technologies which lead to wealth creation Since the earliest of times human beings have endeavored to uncover the causes of prosperity Step by step Sabillon tests the principal theories on the causes of economic growth against the facts of history Here economic statistics of the world are presented in a rationalized format that allows for comparison across countries and through time with a challenge to those who study them to determine with an open mind what the statistics show and what are the trends beyond cherished theories that suit various political purposes Tested against the historical data textbook ideas and theories consistently come up short Such analyses are highly troubling because they reveal an absence of correlation between theory and reality The data statistics illustrating the development of the world economy during the last several centuries were extracted from economic history and economic history books from publications of the World Bank the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development the International Monetary Fund the World Trade Organization the United Nations specialized agencies research institutes and country statistical publications and other books and journals Analyzing the data over geography and time Sabillon concludes that contrary to contemporary wisdom left to market forces alone the economy will not and does not flourish Only decisive intervention in support of manufacturing and technological advancement can provide growth This systematic review of history and test of accepted dogma challenges economic theorists to consider one part of the equation of economic policy that has been wiped off the blackboard in today's politically correct debates Glimpses into Other Worlds Kristy Shanahan,2025-04-18
