Essays On Religion And Education:

Essays on Religion and Education Richard Mervyn Hare, 1998 R M Hare one of the most widely discussed of today's moral philosophers here presents his most important essays on religion and education in which he brings together the theoretical and the practical The book opens with an exposition of his ideas on the meaning of religious language There follow several essays theoretical and practical on the relations between religion and morality which have deep implications for moral education The central question addressed in the rest of the volume is how children can be educated to think for themselves freely but rationally about moral questions and Professor Hare examines the effects on society of failure to achieve this He argues that those who want to dispense with morality are in effect resigning from a vital educational task Attitudes to euthanasia and to equality of educational opportunity are taken as examples of how our thinking can go wrong The former Professor of Moral Philosophy at Oxford has brought together a collection of papers exploring with his customary clarity of thought and elegance of expression the light which moral philosophy can shed on certain religious and educational questions it is illuminating to follow an eminent philosopher at work on matters of great practical importance and in prodding theologians to think more clearly Church Times a cogent and compelling vision enunciated with all the intelligence elegance and vigour for which Hare is justly renowned Times Literary Supplement All the essays are a delight to read clear succinct precisely expressed and devoid of technical jargon The collection will be welcomed by philosophers of education Theology an important resource for persons interested in clarifying the language of moral education in a religiously pluralist society Religious Studies Review admirably clear and straightforward I Journal of the American Academy of Religion It is a pleasure to receive for review a book by someone who is palpably expert in a particular discipline and able to deploy that discipline on topics which have a demonstrably practical relevance to education Most books satisfy neither criterion this one satisfies both Add Hare's well known clarity of style and presentation and we have something really worth reading Oxford Review of Education

Education, Religion and Society Dennis Bates, Gloria Durka, Friedrich Schweitzer, 2006-06-28 Education Religion and Society celebrates the career of Professor John Hull a leading figure in the transformation of religious education in English and Welsh schools and co founder of the International Seminar on Religious Education and Values He has also made major contributions to the theology of disability and the theological critique of the money culture Leading international scholars join together to offer a critical appreciation of his contribution to religious education and practical theology and explore the continuing debate about the role of religious education in promoting international understanding intercultural education and human rights The contributors also deal with indoctrination racism and relationship in Christian religious issues and examine aspects of the theology of social exclusion and disability This unique book includes a complete list of John Hull's writings up to the beginning of 2005 providing both an excellent introduction to contemporary issues of religious education in the West and the most complete critical account yet of his work

On Teaching Religion Jonathan Z.

Smith,2013-01-10 For more than thirty years Jonathan Z Smith has been among the most important voices of critical reflection within the academic study of religion Smith has also produced a significant corpus of essays and lectures on teaching and on the essential role of academic scholarship on religion in matters of education and public policy Education is not a side issue for Smith and his essays continually shed light on fundamental questions What differentiates college from high school What are the proper functions of an introductory course What functions should a department serve in undergraduate and graduate education How should a major or concentration be conceived if at all What roles should the academic guilds play in public discourse on education and on religion Most importantly what does it mean to say that one is both a scholar and a teacher and what responsibilities does this entail Smith's writings on these crucial issues for education have been largely inaccessible until now Some pieces in this book appeared in education journals while others were collected in specialist volumes of conference proceedings Many were originally delivered as keynote speeches to the American Academy of Religion and other major scholarly organizations and although scholars reminisce about hearing Smith deliver them the works themselves are not readily available On Teaching Religion collects the best of these essays and lectures into one volume along with a new essay by Smith

Should God Get Tenure? David W. Gill,2020-04-14 During the twentieth century theological and religious perspectives have been marginalized if not utterly excluded in many of our colleges and universities The essays in this book argue in different ways for the critical appreciative inclusion of theological and religious perspectives in higher education The contributors believe that even in our secular religiously disestablished era religion and God continue to occupy an important and dynamic role in personal and social life If our colleges and universities are to fulfill their higher aspirations of educating whole persons for the real world in all of its diversity and challenge we need to go bravely against the flow and give God tenure

Educating for Shalom Nicholas Wolterstorff,2004-03-02 In addition to his notable work as a premier Christian philosopher Nicholas Wolterstorff has become a leading voice on faith based higher education This volume gathers the best of Wolterstorff's essays from the past twenty five years dealing collectively with the purpose of Christian higher education and the nature of academic learning Integrated throughout by the biblical idea of shalom these nineteen essays present a robust framework for thinking about education that combines a Reformed confessional perspective with a radical social conscience and an increasingly progressivist pedagogy Wolterstorff develops his ideas in relation to an astonishing variety of thinkers ranging from Calvin Kuyper and Jellema to Augustine Aquinas and Kant to Weber Habermas and MacIntyre In the process he critiques various models of education classic foundationalism modernization theory liberal arts and academic freedom

The Church and the Age: Essays on the Principles and Present Position of the Anglican Church [by A. W., W. D. M., and Others]. Edited by A. W. and W. D. M. Archibald WEIR (and MACLAGAN (William Dalrymple) successively Bishop of Lichfield, etc.),1870 Early Modern Natural Law Theories T. Hochstrasser,P. Schröder,2013-06-29 The study of natural law theories in the early Enlightenment continues to be one of the most fruitful areas of research in early modern intellectual history In recent years there have been substantial reassessments of Grotius Pufendorf Thomasius 1 and the whole university based tradition associated with the Fr haujkl rung The appeal of the discourse of natural jurisprudence to groups and individuals operating outside conventional educational and political structures such as the Huguenot diaspora has also been highlighted Moreover the contextual understanding of the work of unambiguously major philosophers such as Hobbes and Kant and its reception has been greatly enhanced by studies that have sought to view them as 3 participants in rather than bystanders alongside the discourse of natural law Thus thinkers previously not considered central to this discourse have been incorporated into it afresh However there is no danger of natural jurisprudence going unchallenged as the meta discourse of political theory in this period for recently new studies of the role of libertine and jansenist thought in shaping the priorities of the early Republic of Letters have challenged its position among the intellectual 4 achievements of the social and political theory of the early Enlightenment This volume therefore offers a timely opportunity to reassess both the coherence of the concept of early Enlightenment and the specific contribution of natural law theories to it Schools of Faith David Fergusson,Bruce

McCormack, 2019-01-10 Schools of Faith represents a diversity of essays from scholars in several continents. The contributors, all leading theologians and ethicists, offer reflections on historical and contemporary themes which are significant for wider debates in theological education and church life in today's world. The range of contributor and content provides a fitting tribute to the work of Iain R. Torrance over many years. Amid the numerous subjects discussed, the authors focus on liturgy, textual criticism, public theology, the ethics of war, Christian doctrine, divine action, ecumenism, interfaith dialogue, spiritual formation, the office of the minister, and the interface between religion and literature. The multifaceted nature of this collection signifies its importance for historical, systematic, and practical theology. Focus on Religion in Teacher Education Western Michigan University, 1955 Religion, Politics, and the Higher Learning Morton Gabriel White, 2011-10-01 The Essay Raphael Dorman O'Leary, 1928 Islam and Society Mujibul Hasan Siddiqui, 2020-01-01 An Abrahamic monotheistic religion teaching that there is only one God, Allah, and that Muhammad is a messenger of God. Islam is the world's second largest religion with nearly two billion followers. It teaches that God is merciful, all-powerful, and unique, and has guided mankind through prophets, revealed scriptures, and natural signs. Islam and Islamic society are widely debated topics and again on several forums. Amidst the plethora of literature on the theme, this book focuses on Islamic society from various perspectives. Consisting of fifteen well-researched papers authored by different scholars of repute, this book furnishes vital information on diverse aspects of society, e.g., religion, education, family, and marriage, women, politics, terrorism, human rights, and reforms and revival from an Islamic point of view. Definitely, this will prove a vade mecum to one and all concerned.
