5 pages | 1091 words

Going to school can offer many experiences. We are taught that we must do well in school so we can finish, advance to college, and from there work. However what if we went to college where the scholastic dream indicated more than simply attending your normal classes? What if you not only discovered yourself, but you discovered your spiritual course also? Taking a look at colleges and finding the right one that provides what you require to succeed after graduation can be a lengthy task. There are numerous colleges now, and they all offer something various. Times have altered a lot that we can now attend college online. When reading Arthur F. Holmes book, The concept of a Christian College the 4 primary themes I discovered were; understanding the trainee life, how liberal arts applies to life, how a Christian college can inspire other parts of your education and the outcomes of education with Christian liberal arts. College Life as a Student According to Arthur F. Holmes' book The Idea of a Christian College, many youths go to college or university, and their moms and dads encourage them, without any gripping sense of what college is everything about, beyond tentative professional goals or questionable social goals. (Holmes pg 3). Numerous trainees are going to college due to the fact that they have actually been programmed that way. They appear for class day in and day out, not really sure of the function or indicating behind all of it. University student in this economy need to have a college education to get a task. A lot of trainees become misdirected by outdoors impacts of college life and wind up partying away their tuition cash. The social scene ends up being more crucial when the focus is lost. There is a great deal of stress placed on a brand-new college student from the start of the registration procedure all the way to the class. So how do you select the school and remain on track for success? Looking into a Christian college, you might think, "Why select a Christian college over a secular college?" Its unique atmosphere should support an education that cultivates the imaginative and active integration of faith and knowing, of faith and culture. (Holmes pg 6). With the idea of a Christian college, we have God-given, God-preserved, God-restorable potential, a possible to be established, disciplined, and invested in action to God. In a Christian college gaining our education, we are more than just becoming the future job; we are already molded and placed here for a reason, a reason that God knows and one we journey for self discovery. If we do not work on the entire being while we are expanding our minds and stretching the muscle, then how do we expect to become that person that God has placed us here for. We need to not only focus on our education but on the entire being from the spirit within. Why doesn't this all come easily since we are all made in God's image? It's because we are all human and given free will. The foundation of...
