Tsohatzidis, 2020-08-24 This book collects twenty five of the author's essays each of which addresses a descriptive or a foundational issue that arises at the interface between linguistic semantics and pragmatics on the one hand and the philosophy of language on the other Arranged into three interconnected parts I Matters of Meaning and Truth II Matters of Meaning and Force III Knowledge Matters the essays suggest that some key topics in the above mentioned fields have often been approached in ways that considerably underestimate their empirical or conceptual complexity and attempt to delineate perspectives from which and conditions under which an improved understanding of those topics could be sought The book will be of interest to linguists working in semantics and pragmatics and to philosophers working in the philosophy of language and in epistemology

Essays in the History of Linguistics E.F.K. Koerner, 2004-05-28 The present volume follows the author's tradition of bringing together at certain intervals selections of articles which more often than not had previously been published in not easily accessible places or which had not been published before These papers do not typically represent mere reprints but in most instances thoroughly revised versions This volume contains twelve articles organized under three headings Programmatic Papers in the History of Linguistics Studies in Linguistic Historiography and Sketches historiographical and auto biographical plus as an appendix a complete list of Zellig Harris writings as an illustration of Koerner's penchant for and belief in the importance of good bibliographies as a basis for historical research While the first two sections which take up the bulk of the volume either show the author as an historian engag or demonstrate his work as a historiographer of 19th and 20th century linguistics the third section is much shorter and less heavy going Indexes of Biographical Names and of Subjects Terms Languages round out the volume which also contains a number of portraits of linguists and other illustrations

Hymes,1983-01-01 Anthropology and linguistics as historically developing disciplines have had partly separate roots and traditions In particular settings and in general the two disciplines have partly shared partly differed in the nature of their materials their favorite types of problem the personalities of their dominant figures their relations with other disciplines and intellectual current The two disciplines have also varied in their interrelation with each other and the society about them Institutional arrangements have reflected the varying degrees of kinship kithship and separation Such relationships themselves form a topic that is central to a history of linguistic anthropology yet marginal to a self contained history of linguistics or anthropology as either would be conceived by most authors There exists not only a subject matter for a history of linguistic anthropology but also a definite need Toward a Historiography of Linguistics E.F.K.
