From Contract to Community Fred R. Dallmayr, 1997      Community, Immunity and the Proper Greg Bird, Jon Short, 2017-10-02 It is widely apparent in our hyper globalized world that the epistemologies institutions and practices underwriting it have reached a state of profound crisis In the globalized world everything is inevitably brought into proximity and correlation Wars natural disasters climatic upheaval nor political and economic turmoil none of these can be effectively isolated insulated instituted even immunized as something apart something that might be considered proper only to itself This collected edition considers this crisis of the proper with a focus on Italian political theorist Roberto Esposito s work on community immunity and biopolitics This collection introduces Esposito s work to a wider English speaking audience and provides many important contributions to the burgeoning scholarship on his political theory Important international scholars working in this area examine and analyze his theory from a variety of perspectives including those of biopolitics feminism political theory the history of philosophy Spinoza Hegel Heidegger and Jean Luc Nancy property community and gift economies The collection also includes previously untranslated essays by Esposito and Jean Luc Nancy This collection will be of interest to those just discovering Esposito and for those who are already familiar with his work This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Angelaki Journal of the Theoretical Humanities      Reports of the Tax Court of the United States United States. Kirkpatrick, 2008-12-15 Community like love is a concept everybody talks about but nobody bothers to define From the community of scholars to the community of nations we passionately seek and widely take for granted a quality of interrelatedness that touches a chord deep within each of us whose vibrations we spend little time submitting to critical examination Frank Kirkpatrick s rigorous and detailed discussion of community places that notion within a discussion that has developed among philosophers over the past 200 years Beginning with the contractual model of Hobbes and Locke in which individuals work out rules to control their enforced proximity he moves on to the more complex organic model of Marx and Engles and beyond that the work of Whitehead in which individuals now interact with one another as organically related parts of a greater whole Finally he devotes most of his attention to a third highly personal model of community which owes its most sophisticated recent formulation to John Macmurray Within that model he sees the greatest possibilities for developing a coherent and comprehensive notion of community that takes seriously both the unique individuality of each person and the possibility for these individuals to commit themselves to loving fellowship with each other      Basic Laws on Housing and Community Development, Revised Through November 8, 1984 United States, 1984      Housing and Community Development Amendments of 1981 United States. Natural and Political Conceptions of Community Christoph Philipp Haar, 2019-02-04. In Natural and Political Conceptions of Community Christoph Haar examines the role of the household community in Jesuit political thought. Introducing a fresh perspective on the early modern Jesuit academic discourse, the book explores how leading Jesuit thinkers drew on their theologically inspired conceptions of the family community to determine the usefulness as well as the limitations of the political realm. Natural and Political Conceptions of Community is about the place of the household in Scholastic theoretical works. The book demonstrates that Jesuits considered the human being as a household being when they determined the origin and purpose of the political community, producing a notion of politics that integrated their account of human nature with the sphere of law, rights, and virtues.
