Wolfgang Elfe, James N. Hardin, Günther Holst, 1992 Bulletin of the New York Public Library New York Public Library, 1927 Heimat, Space, Narrative Friederike Ursula Eigler, 2014 Explores how contemporary novels dealing with flight and expulsion after the Second World War unsettle traditional notions of Heimat without abandoning place based notions of belonging At the end of the Second World War millions of Germans and Poles fled or were expelled from the border regions of what had been their countries This monograph examines how in Cold War and post Cold War Europe since the 1970s writers have responded to memories or postmemories of this traumatic displacement Friederike Eigler engages with important currents in scholarship on Heimat the much debated German concept of homeland on the spatial turn in literary studies and on German Polish relations arguing for a transnational approach to the legacies of flight and expulsion and for a spatial approach to Heimat She explores notions of belonging in selected postwar and contemporary German novels

with a comparative look at a Polish novel Olga Tokarczuk's House of Day House of Night 1998 Eigler finds dynamic manifestations of place in Tokarczuk's novel in Horst Bienek's 1972/82 Gleiwitz tetralogy about the historical border region of Upper Silesia and in contemporary novels by Reinhard Jirgl Christoph Hein Kathrin Schmidt Tanja Dückers Olaf Müller and Sabrina Janesch In a decisive departure from earlier approaches Eigler explores how these novels foster an awareness of the regions multiethnic and multinational histories unsettling traditional notions of Heimat without altogether abandoning place based notions of belonging Friederike Eigler is Professor of German at Georgetown University

Sex in Imagined Spaces Caitriona Dhuill, 2017-07-05 From Thomas More onwards writers of utopias have constructed alternative models of society as a way of commenting critically on existing social orders In the utopian alternative the sex gender system of the contemporary society may be either reproduced or radically reorganised Reading utopian writing as a dialogue between reality and possibility this study examines the relationship between historical sex gender systems and those envisioned by utopian texts Surveying a broad range of utopian writing from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries including Huxley Zamyatin Wedekind Hauptmann and Charlotte Perkins Gilman this book reveals the variety and complexity of approaches to re arranging gender and locates these re arrangements within contemporary debates on sex and reproduction masculinity and femininity desire taboo and family structure These issues occupy a position of central importance in the dialogue between utopian imagination and anti utopian thought which culminates in the great dystopias of the twentieth century and the postmodern reinvention of utopia

Current Literature, 1894 Current Opinion, 1894

The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE This book tells the story of German language literature on film beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture It explores analyzes and contextualizes the so called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s the impact of sound on adaptation practices the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany in New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century many of German cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts popular plays and even children's literature Not being restricted to German adaptations however this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations by materialist conditions liberal economies and capitalist imperatives political agendas the mobility of individuals and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art Commercial cinema's adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship
