From Grief To Grace Images For Overcoming Sadness And Loss:

From Grief to Grace Helen Reichert Lambin, 1997 A collection of images to assist people in naming processing and overcoming grief caused by illness a loved one's death a job loss or similar difficult situations Jesus Wept Gregory P. Wynot, Sr., 2006-11-22 One of the less formal but most important functions of parish ministry entails providing counseling to parishioners in need of sympathetic hearing and understanding advice from someone they personally know and trust Jesus Wept provides a theological psychological and doctrinal foundation of the Eastern Orthodox Christian view of death that counselors can pass along to help the bereaved place the decedent's passing into proper spiritual context It also discusses the psychological functional and spiritual aspects of the Eastern Orthodox funeral services Author Gregory P Wynot Sr focuses on the especially traumatic circumstances connected with the death of a family member or loved one and details the stages of dying and the grieving process He also discusses how to diagnose and categorize different kinds of grief as well as how best to approach specific situations Finally Wynot looks at the impact of bereavement counseling on the counselor who must find a delicate balance between being a spiritual father and psychological caregiver Also included are resource appendices and a bibliography for further reading Jesus Wept is an invaluable resource that can ease the burden of what is certainly one of the most challenging tasks any counselor is called upon to perform The Living Church, 1997 Always Precious in Our Memory Kristen J. Losing Alicia John L. Titus, 2011. In Losing Alicia, readers not only witness a father's struggle over the murder of his young, vibrant, and beautiful daughter, but they walk with him through his agonizing grief after one of the most horrific tragedies in history: September 11, 2001. Olga Bonfiglio is a freelance writer and author of Heroes of a Different Stripe. Unflinchingly honest, John Titus takes us on a journey from an unimaginable night of the soul to the realization that as long as we have faith and love, we are never alone. David Potorti, Co-founder, September 11th Families for Peaceful Tomorrows. This book isn't the government or the media's take on 9/11; it's a father talking with all the pain, eloquence, and wisdom of a broken heart. For the real story of 9/11, the human story, delve into Losing Alicia. If you read one book about 9/11, make it this one. Marianne Williamson, New York Times best-selling author, international speaker.

Ancient Philosophy of the Self Pauliina Remes, Juha Sihvola, 2008-08-26. Pauliina Remes and Juha Sihvola. In the course of history, philosophers have given an impressive variety of answers to the question: What is self? Some of them have even argued that there is no such thing at all. This volume explores the various ways in which selfhood was approached and conceptualised in antiquity. How did the ancients understand what it is that I am fundamentally as an acting and affected subject interpreting the world around me, being distinct from others like and unlike me? The authors highlight the attempts in ancient philosophical sources to grasp the evasive character of the specifically human presence in the world. They also describe how the ancient philosophers understood human agents as capable of causing changes and being affected in and by the world. Attention will be paid to the various ways in which the ancients conceived of human beings as subjects of reasoning and action, as well as responsible individuals in the moral sphere and in their relations to other people. The themes of persistence, identity, self-examination, and self-improvement recur in many of these essays. The articles of the collection combine systematic and historical approaches to ancient sources that range from Socrates to Plotinus and Augustine.
