From Cancer To Counselor:

From Cancer to Counselor B. Benson-Bini, 2004-10 An account of one woman's struggle with terminal cancer and the alternatives she used to deal with it successfully A must read for anyone with cancer Counseling People with Cancer Jann Aldredge-Clanton, 1998-01-01 Few moments are as devastating as when one hears a diagnosis of cancer and one out of three Americans will hear this diagnosis in their lifetimes In this book Jann Aldredge Clanton brings a perspective from a theology of hope for people struggling with cancer She believes that in the midst of a frightening illness our spiritual task is to reunderstand our life story in light of the sacred story of God's love in the world This book is full of practical insights to enable pastors and pastoral counselors to help persons cope with the diagnosis and experience of cancer The purpose of the Counseling and Pastoral Theology series is to address clinical issues that arise among particular populations currently neglected in the literature on pastoral care and counseling This series is committed to enhancing both the theoretical base and the clinical expertise of pastoral caregivers by providing a pastoral theological paradigm that will inform both assessment and intervention with persons in these specific populations Counseling About Cancer Katherine A. Schneider, 2011-10-26 Important scientific discoveries and ever changing guidelines for how to identify and manage patients with hereditary cancer syndromes are constantly evolving This Third Edition of Counseling About Cancer is completely updated and expanded to feature five entirely new chapters on breast cancer colon cancer other solid tumors clients and families and genetic test results and follow up This is the only reference and clinical book on the market for cancer genetics counselors and other healthcare providers who must quickly assimilate complex and ever changing data on the hereditary risk for cancer From Cancer Patient to Cancer Survivor National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, National Cancer Policy Board, Committee on Cancer Survivorship: Improving Care and Quality of Life, 2005-12-01 With the risk of more than one in three getting cancer during a lifetime each of us is likely to experience cancer or know someone who has survived cancer Although some cancer survivors recover with a renewed sense of life and purpose what has often been ignored is the toll taken by cancer and its treatment on health functioning sense of security and well being Long lasting effects of treatment may be apparent shortly after its completion or arise years later The transition from active treatment to post treatment care is critical to long term health From Cancer Patient to Cancer Survivor focuses on survivors of adult cancer during the phase of care that follows primary treatment The book raises awareness of the medical functional and psychosocial consequences of cancer and its treatment It defines quality health care for cancer survivors and identifies strategies to achieve it The book also recommends improvements in the quality of life of cancer survivors through policies that ensure their access to psychosocial services fair employment practices and health insurance This book will be of particular interest to cancer patients and their advocates health care providers and their leadership health insurers employers research sponsors and the public and their elected representatives Advanced Therapy of Breast Disease S. Eva Singletary, Geoffrey L. Robb, Gabriel

N. Hortobagyi, 2004 The information surveyed in this volume is designed to provide the clinician with an expert overview of the current state of the art in breast cancer management It should provide at least a flavor of the major paradigm shift that is occurring in this rapidly evolving field Breast cancer management is moving away from a kill or cure model and advancing toward a model focused on strategies of prevention and of long term management of breast cancer as a chronic disease The acceptance of this new paradigm by patients and clinicians alike will represent a major focus for the twenty first century

Cancer-Related Genetic Testing and Counseling Institute of Medicine, National Cancer Policy Forum, 2007-09-22 These proceedings of a workshop presented to the Institute of Medicine's IOM National Cancer Policy Forum on March 30 2007 are the result of forum discussions about genetic testing and counseling at its meetings on June 16 and October 30 2006 Those discussions led by forum members Betty Ferrell and Patricia Ganz noted that genetic testing and counseling are becoming more complex and important for informing patients and families of risks and benefits of certain courses of action and yet organized expert programs are in short supply The subject matter involves not only the scientific and clinical aspects but also workforce and reimbursement issues among others Drs Ferrell and Ganz proposed that the forum could provide a useful review of the various important implications of these issues by holding and reporting a workshop on the subject They volunteered to work with staff to organize and lead such a workshop The agenda for the workshop is reproduced in the appendix to these proceedings It includes the presentations of the invited speakers and the comments of speakers forum members and others in attendance as transcribed and edited to eliminate redundancies grammatical errors and otherwise make them more readable Cancer Related Genetic Testing and Counseling Workshop Proceedings summarizes the workshop When Cancer Strikes Nabil G.

Hagag,1998-06 By the end of 1997 more than 1 3 million new cases of cancer will be diagnosed and it is estimated that two of every three American families will at some time have at least one family member diagnosed with cancer The current trend towards earlier discharge from acute care hospitals and an expected increase in home care may result in more adult children becoming involved in caring for a physically dependent parent Furthermore advances in cancer treatment have led to increased survivorship which in turn has led to caregiving demands that many exist for several months to years Family caregiving requires adjustments in daily schedules imposes financial burdens and causes the individual members to re evaluate their relationships with the patient The book is intended to raise awareness of the stresses evoked by a caregiving relationship Taking Time ,1990 The Molecular Basis of Human Cancer William B.
