book examines a question generally neglected in the study of international relations why does a militarily and economically less powerful state initiate conflict against a relatively strong state T V Paul analyses this phenomenon by focusing on the strategic and political considerations domestic and international which influence a weaker state to initiate war against a more powerful adversary The key argument of deterrence theory is that the military superiority of the status quo power coupled with a credible retaliatory threat will prevent attack by challengers The author challenges this assumption by examining six twentieth century asymmetric wars from the Japanese offensive against Russia in 1904 to the Argentine invasion of the Falkland Islands in 1982 The book's findings have wide implications for the study of war power deterrence coercive diplomacy strategy arms races and alliances

Courting Constitutionalism Moeen Cheema, 2021-12-16 Over the last decade the Supreme Court of Pakistan has emerged as a powerful and overtly political institution While the strong form of judicial review adopted by the Supreme Court has fostered the perception of a sudden and ahistorical judicialisation of politics the judiciary s prominent role in adjudicating issues of governance and statecraft was long in the making This book presents a deeply contextualised account of law in Pakistan and situates the judicial review jurisprudence of the superior courts in the context of historical developments in constitutional politics evolution of state structures and broader social transformations This book highlights that the bedrock of judicial review has remained in administrative law it is through the consistent development of the Writ jurisdiction and the judicial review of administrative action that Pakistan s superior courts have progressively carved an expansive institutional role and aggrandised themselves to the status of the regulator of the state The Return of Faraz Ali Aamina alleyways chasing the secrets his family's and his own that risk shattering his precariously constructed existence Profoundly intimate and propulsive The Return of Faraz Ali is a spellbindingly assured first novel that poses a timeless question Whom do we choose to protect and at what price

The Longest August Dilip Hiro, 2015-02-24 The partitioning of British India into independent Pakistan and India in August 1947 occurred in the midst of communal holocaust with Hindus and Sikhs on one side and Muslims on the other More than 750 000 people were butchered and 12 million fled their homes primarily in caravans of bullock carts to seek refuge across the new border it was the largest exodus in history Sixty seven years later it is as if that August never ended Renowned historian and journalist Dilip Hiro provides a riveting account of the relationship between India and Pakistan tracing the landmark events that led to the division of the sub continent and the evolution of the contentious relationship between Hindus and Muslims To this day a reasonable resolution to their dispute has proved elusive and the Line of Control in Kashmir remains the most heavily fortified frontier in the world with 400 000 soldiers arrayed on either side Since partition there have been several acute crises between the neighbors including the secession of East Pakistan to form an independent Bangladesh in 1971 and the acquisition of nuclear weapons by both sides resulting in a scarcely avoided confrontation in 1999 and again in 2002 Hiro amply demonstrates the geopolitical importance of the India Pakistan conflict by chronicling their respective ties not only with America and the Soviet Union but also with China Israel and Afghanistan Hiro weaves these threads into a lucid narrative enlivened with colorful biographies of leaders vivid descriptions of wars sensational assassinations gross violations of human rights and cultural signifiers like cricket matches The Longest August is incomparable in its scope and presents the first definitive history of one of the world's longest running and most intractable conflicts
