From Deterrence To Defence The Inside Story Of Strategic Policy:

From Deterrence to Defence Michael Charlton, 1987 Interviews with American and European political leaders document the development and logic of current U S nuclear policy and the goals of the Strategic Defense Initiative

Harold Brown Edward Coltrin Keefer, 2018 Author Edward Keefer chronicles and analyses the tenure of Secretary of Defense Harold Brown who worked to counter the Soviet Union's growing military strength during the administration of President Jimmy Carter. Flush with cash from oil and gas development the Soviets came closest to matching the United States in strategic power than at any other point in the Cold War threatening to make the U S land based missile force vulnerable to a first strike. By most reckonings the Kremlin also surpassed the West in conventional arms and forces in Central Europe creating a direct threat to NATO. In response Brown a nuclear physicist advocated for the development of more technologically advanced weapon systems to offset the Soviet military advantage but faced Carter's efforts to reign in the defense budget. Eventually the secretary backed by the JCS the national security adviser and key members of Congress persuaded a reluctant Carter to increase defense spending for the last two years of his term. As a result weapons development such as stealth technology precision guided bombs and cruise missiles went forward. These initiatives and more provided a head start for the acclaimed Ronald Reagan revolution in defense. As the author points out there was more continuity than contrast in defense policy between Carter and Reagan. The book also highlights Brown's policymaking efforts and his influence on Carter as the administration responded to international events such as the Middle East peace process the Iran revolution and hostage crisis the rise of radical Islam negotiations with the Soviets over arms limitations the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan and the creation of a new security framework in the Persian Gulf region. Other topics cover policy toward Latin America Africa China and Southeast Asia. The book is also a history of the Defense Department including the continual development of the All Volunteer Force and the organizational changes that saw improved policy formulation and acquisition decisions. Aubin,1998-11-30 Using journalists own standards as the measure an exhaustive analysis of nearly 3000 network news reports from the Reagan Bush and Clinton administrations reveals that the networks may do more to misinform than inform on a whole range of complex issues related to national defense This study paints a disturbing picture of the inadequate coverage ABC World News Tonight CBS Evening News and NBC Nightly News provide to millions of viewers each night Aubin concludes that network coverage of defense issues was too often tainted by preconceived attitudes and lapses in journalistic standards While as much as twenty five cents of every dollar went to the defense budget during some of the periods reviewed the networks hardly covered the key issues surrounding the Reagan defense buildup or the dramatic cuts that followed the end of the Cold War In addition to their inadequate coverage the networks also deprived Americans of balanced coverage of the investments made in high tech weapons that ultimately prevailed in the Gulf War Though the networks receive good marks for foreign policy coverage they need to improve the quality of defense reports This book provides them with the lessons and prescriptions for doing so and it serves as a primer for all Americans who want to know just what it was that the networks failed to tell them     The Evolution of Nuclear Strategy L.
