Pilgrimage to Jerusalem and the Holy Land, 1187-1291 Denys Pringle, 2016-04-08 This book presents new translations of a selection of Latin and French pilgrimage texts and two in Greek relating to Jerusalem and the Holy Land between the fall of Jerusalem to Saladin in 1187 and the loss of Acre to the Mamluks in 1291 It therefore complements and extends existing studies which deal with the period from Late Antiquity to Saladin's conquest Such texts provide a wealth of information not only about the business of pilgrimage itself but also on church history topography architecture and the social and economic conditions prevailing in Palestine in this period Pilgrimage texts of the 13th century have not previously been studied as a group in this way and because the existing editions of them are scattered across a variety of rather obscure publications they tend to be under utilized by historians despite their considerable interest For instance they are often more original than the texts of the 12th century representing first hand accounts of travellers rather than simple reworkings of older texts Taken together they document the changes that occurred in the pattern of pilgrimage after the fall of Jerusalem in 1187 during its brief reoccupation by the Franks between 1229 and 1244 and during the period from 1260 onwards when the Mamluks gradually took military control of the whole country In the 1250s 60s for example because of the difficulties faced by pilgrims in reaching Jerusalem itself there developed an alternative set of holy sites offering indulgences in Acre The bringing of Transjordan southern Palestine and Sinai under Ayyubid and later Mamluk control also encouraged the development of the pilgrimage to St Catherine's monastery on Mount Sinai in this period The translations are accompanied by explanatory footnotes and preceded by an introduction which discusses the development of Holy Land pilgrimage in this period and the context dating and composition of the texts themselves The book concludes with a comprehensive list of sources and a detailed index

Pilgrims to Jerusalem in the Middle Ages Nicole Chareyron, 2005 Every man who undertakes the journey to the Our Lord's Sepulcher needs three sacks a sack of patience a sack of silver and a sack of faith Symon Semeonis an Irish medieval pilgrim As medieval pilgrims made their way to the places where Jesus Christ lived and suffered they experienced among other things holy sites the majesty of the Egyptian pyramids often referred to as the Pharaoh's granaries dips in the Dead Sea unfamiliar desert landscapes the perils of traveling along the Nile the customs of their Muslim hosts Barbary pirates lice inconsiderate traveling companions and a variety of difficulties both great and small In this richly detailed study Nicole Chareyron draws on more than one hundred firsthand accounts to consider the journeys and worldviews of medieval pilgrims Her work brings the reader into vivid intimate contact with the pilgrims thoughts and emotions as they made the frequently difficult pilgrimage to the Holy Land and back home again Unlike the knights princes and soldiers of the Crusades who traveled to the Holy Land for the purpose of reclaiming it for Christendom these subsequent pilgrims of various nationalities professions and social classes were motivated by both religious piety and personal curiosity The travelers not only wrote journals and memoirs for themselves but also to convey to others the majesty and strangeness of distant lands In their accounts the pilgrims relate their sense of astonishment pity admiration and disappointment with humor and a touching sincerity and honesty These writings also reveal the complex interactions between Christians Jews and Muslims in the Holy Land Throughout their journey pilgrims confronted occasionally hostile Muslim administrators who controlled access to many holy sites Bedouin tribes Jews and Turks Chareyron considers the pilgrims conflicted frequently simplistic views of their Muslim hosts and their social and religious

Jerusalem Pilgrimage, 1099-1185 John Wilkinson, Joyce Hill, 2017-05-15 In the Latin Kingdom of Jerusalem many pilgrims came to Jerusalem The translations in this book are of seventeen western accounts of pilgrimage written between 1099 and 1185 and there are two additional accounts from eastern pilgrims Abbot Daniel from Russia and John Phocas from Antioch As a whole this collection shows the gradually developing way in which western Christians understood the Holy Places Some early pilgrims depended on authorities many of whom by 1099 were out of date They tried to deliver the truth about the Holy Places and to be reticent about their own reactions But the pilgrims who appear later in the collections made their own archaeological judgements and were more free about their own reactions Pilgrimage after 1099 was altered by the fact that by their victory over Jerusalem the Dome of the Rock fell into the Crusader s hands Otherwise the differences of practice between eastern and western pilgrims were slight Thus eastern pilgrims visited the Greek and western pilgrims the Latin monasteries Western pilgrims had a different idea of the location of Emmaus and before 1185 a western Way of the Cross was beginning to take shape These were slight differences and in general all Christian pilgrims whether from east or west visited the same Holy Places as they had during the preceding period Most of the works in this collection were translated into English a century ago by the Palestine Pilgrim s Text Society But these texts were produced separately as pamphlets and lacked a general introduction In this book therefore the texts are retranslated sometimes from more accurate texts In introducing the texts some valuable new evidence from archaeology has been used and enabled a new assessment of their dates
