From Centrally Planned To Market Economies Vol 1 An Overview:

ERD Working Paper Series ,2002      Labor Market Distortions, Rural-Urban Inequality, and the Opening of the People's Republic of China Economy Thomas Hertel,2008-05 Evaluates the impact of some key factor market reforms on rural urban inequality income distribution using a household disaggregated recursive dynamic computable general equilibrium model of the People s Republic of China It also explores how these factor market reforms interact with product market reforms currently under way as part of the country s World Trade Org WTO accession process The simulation results show that reforms in the rural land rental market hukou system as well as increasing off farm labor mobility would reduce the urban rural income ratio dramatically Furthermore the combination of WTO accession factor market reforms improves both efficiency equality significantly Charts tables graphs      Framework for Establishing Priorities in a Country Poverty Reduction Strategy Ron Duncan,2008-05 This paper reviews the history progress of understanding development theory over the past 50 years Development thinking has evolved from an early paradigm that focused on savings capital investment to subsequent arguments favoring the inclusion of human capital policy technical change finally to the inclusion of the role of institutions good governance Secure property rights in the broadest sense which are applicable to all resources not just land are particularly important to realize investment yield This evolution of development thought describes a conceptual framework that can guide development practitioners in prioritizing sequencing characterizing all interventions aimed at reducing poverty      European Social Model Assar Lindbeck,2008-06 Developing countries esp the least developed ones have more to learn from social policies in Europe during the early 20th cent than from the elaborate welfare state arrangements after WW2 In addition to macro economic growth and stability the main ambitions must be to fight human deprivation incl illiteracy malnutrition and poor access to water and sanitation in some cases also weak incompetent and or corrupt governments Informal systems in the fields of transfers and social services must not be destroyed when developing countries embark on more formal systems The European experience also warns against the creation of social systems that are so generous that disincentives and receding social norms distort the nat economy      Eastern Europe at the Turn of the Twenty-First Century Ian Jeffries,2002-02-07 Following on from Jeffries 2001 Economies in Transition A Guide to China Cuba Mongolia North Korea and Vietnam at the Turn of the Twenty First Century this comprehensive survey of economic and political change focuses on the countries of Eastern Europe Jeffries also discusses the general issues involved in economic transition including big      Role of Infrastructure in Land-Use Dynamics and Rice Production in Viet Nam's Mekong River Delta Christopher Edmonds,2008-06 Examines the role of infrastructure development and technical change in explaining increases in agricultural production and changes in land use in the Mekong Delta Region of Viet Nam during the mid 1990s The transportation costs involved in moving agricultural input and output between farms and markets significantly effect farm land use and production decisions Greater transport costs reduce the likelihood that farms adopt intensive cropping patterns or cultivate non rice crops Results suggest that the quality of local water management infrastructure is much more important than transport costs in explaining the increased intensity of land use and level of production observed in the Mekong Delta during the 1990s Illustrations

The Countries of the Former Soviet Union at the Turn of the Twenty-First Century Ian Jeffries,2004-01-08 Providing a unique level of coverage this book provides a comprehensive survey of the political and economic development of the countries of the former Soviet Union from the mid 1990s onwards How Can Cambodia, Lao PDR, Myanmar, and Viet Nam Cope with Revenue Lost Due to AFTA Tariff Reductions? Kanokpan Lao-Araya,2008-12 In joining the Assoc of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN and ASEAN Free Trade Area Cambodia Lao PDR Myanmar and Viet Nam have agreed to comply with the Common Effective Preferential Tariff CEPT Scheme which reduces intra ASEAN tariff rates on certain imports and may reduce gov t revenue This study proposes tax structure and tax admin reforms and other policies that can be introduced to enhance revenue collection They can Strategically allocate goods among the four CEPT scheme lists Improve their tax systems by replacing traditional general sales taxes with Value Added Tax Reduce inefficiencies that impede tax collection and Discourage tax avoidance and evasion and reduce corruption among tax officials

Rural China Jie Fan,Thomas Heberer,Wolfgang Taubmann,2015-05-15 This book reports the findings of two field studies conducted between 1993 and 2001 in seven townships and six provinces in China The authors describe the process of rural urbanization and its related economic social and political changes by focusing mainly on the zhen town in addition to administrative offices and companies involved in the local economy and village committees The authors show that the social changes resulting from China s economic reforms are occurring mainly from below and that this process is also resulting in a weakening of the economic and political dominance of the central government Other changes discussed in this study include the development of new ownership structures and the increasing dominance of the private sector a shift in the functions of administrative offices as the bureaucracy becomes increasingly business oriented the rise of a new local elite a rebirth of traditional social structures clans local associations and the emergence of new interest groups and institutions to represent their needs

Measuring Competitiveness in the World's Smallest Economies Ganeshan Wignaraja,2008-05 Attempts to measure competitiveness CP across countries have typically neglected the world s smallest economies Hence a simple composite index the Small State Manufactured Export CP Index or SSMECI was developed to benchmark industrial CP The SSMECI represents the first attempt to provide a comprehensive picture of the CP performance of small states The performance of small states varies across geographical regions income groups country size classes High performing small states had better macroeconomic conditions higher levels of foreign invest more trade openness better levels of educ modern infrastructure A coherent market oriented CP strategy in small states is vital to success on international markets Tables nuclear capability and intentions recent initiatives in international relations and relations with the United States and adverse economic and social conditions

Crisis and Reform in Eastern Europe Ferenc Fehér, Andrew Arato, Communism in Eastern Europe is in crisis Its dimensions are social and economic its manifestation is political This volume a collection of essays by leading authorities describes the symptoms of the crisis diagnoses the causes of the malady and offers alternative scenarios for therapy A unique dimension of this collection is its avoidance of one dimensional explanations The contributors approach the subject from very different angles and start from very distinct sociopolitical premises The volume includes original accounts of unexplored aspects of East European communism as well as classic interpretations of the economic crisis and social stagnation that characterize the area Contributions not only examine the sociopolitical behavior of the ruling apparatus but also analyze its strategies political culture and the opposition Both the professional and the general reader seeking more information about Eastern Europe will find this volume an extensive in depth portrait of the current situation in what many observers predict may develop into the major area of tension in post World War II Europe Ferenc Fehér a collaborator and friend of George Lukács was a leading member of the Budapest School Forced into exile in 1977 he was taught in Australia and is now in New York at the New School for Social Research He has published widely in several languages on the philosophy of art political theory and history

Alternative Political Economy Models of Transition John Marangos, 2017-07-05 The collapse of centrally administered socialism in Russia and Eastern Europe resulted in what is commonly referred to as the transition problem the transformation from a centrally administered socialist economic system to one that is market based Economic science has been faced with the challenge of developing an appropriate body of analysis advice and direction to help other nations that may be undergoing this process In this volume John Marangos adopts a political economy approach that yields alternative models of transition The volume develops transition models from what Marangos defines as the primary elements of six variables 1 economic analysis 2 definitions of the Good Society 3 speed of transition 4 political structure 5 ideological structure and 6 initial conditions The models developed include the shock therapy model the neoclassical gradualist model of transition the post Keynesian model the pluralistic market the socialist model and the non pluralistic market socialist model After identifying the primary elements of each transition model Marangos considers the elements of each model with respect to the desirable reforms An essential element of the transition process is not only to identify the necessary reforms but also a sequence in which the reforms should be introduced For each transition model developed in this book a set of primary and secondary elements were provided in conjunction with a sequence of reforms Analyzing the transition problem from a political economy perspective Marangos shows that it is possible to have inconsistencies within each transition model and between transition models yet be able to identify the potential for implementation and maintenance of necessary reforms each model recommends This volume contributes to the understanding of the process of transition with the objective of identifying an optimal model of transition

The Political

Economy of Asian Transition from Communism Sujian Guo, 2017-11-28 A comparative study of the political economy of the transition from communism in East and Southeast Asian countries China North Korea Vietnam Laos and Cambodia addressing the key theoretical questions generated from the debate between shock therapists and gradualists While accurately defining the pre reform model this book explores the causal variables that have contributed to reform efforts within Asia examining the significance of the sequencing of political and economic transition and the interplay between politics and the economy in determining variations in transition outcomes Comparing the real world experiences of transition nations in communist Asia with Eastern Europe prominent questions are brought to the fore will market capitalism or market socialism prevail after the grand failure of communism This book makes an important contribution to the political economy theory of comparative communist and post communist studies and provides detailed analytical insights that will prove influential in future theoretical work

North Korea Ian Jeffries, 2013-06-17 There is much intense interest in North Korea at present This partly arises from questions about Korea s nuclear capability and intentions and about the extent to which North Korea may be viewed as a rogue state or part of the axis of evil In addition however North Korea has recently begun experimenting with reforms along Chinese lines The vigour with which these will be pursued and related questions about the degree of engagement or otherwise with South Korea are also important issues This book provides full details of economic and political developments in North Korea since 1989 when the communist world began to change irrevocably

Why Are Some Countries Richer Than Others? Jesus Felipe, 2008-10 Provides evidence of a problem with the influential testing and assessment of Solow s 1956 growth model proposed by Mankiw et al 1992 and a series of papers evaluating the latter First the assumption of a common rate of technical progress maintained by Mankiw et al 1992 is relaxed Solow s model is extended to include the different levels and rates of technical progress of each country This increases the explanatory power of the cross country variation in income capital of the OECD countries to over 80% The estimates of the parameters are statistically significant and take the expected values and signs Second the estimates merely reflect a statistical artifact This has serious implications for the possibility of actually testing Solow s growth model Illus
