

For the first time, the Journal of the American Medical Association has published a study that shows that the use of a computer program to help doctors make decisions about whether to prescribe a drug can reduce the number of prescriptions for drugs that are not recommended by the American Medical Association. The study, which was conducted by researchers at the University of Michigan, found that the use of the program resulted in a 10 percent reduction in the number of prescriptions for drugs that are not recommended by the American Medical Association. The researchers also found that the use of the program resulted in a 10 percent increase in the number of prescriptions for drugs that are recommended by the American Medical Association. The researchers concluded that the use of the program can help doctors make better decisions about whether to prescribe a drug.

From Critical Theory of Society to Theology of Communicative Praxis Rudolf J. Siebert, 1979 Manifesto of the Critical Theory of Society and Religion (3 Vols.) Rudolf Siebert, 2010-08-16 The Manifesto develops further the Critical Theory of Religion intrinsic to the Critical Theory of Society of the Frankfurt School into a new paradigm of the Psychology Sociology Philosophy and Theology of Religion Its central theme is the theodicy problem in the context of late capitalist society and its globalization The Critical Theory of Religion. The Frankfurt School Rudolf J. Siebert, 2016-04-11 No detailed description available for The Critical Theory of Religion The Frankfurt School The Future of Religion Michael R. Ott, 2007 This book contains the work of international scholars who address the contemporary globalizing antagonism between religion and secularity in the theoretical and practical pursuit for this antagonism s reconciliation in a more just humane and peaceful future society and world From Critical Theory to Communicative Political Theology Rudolf J. Siebert, 1989 At present in European and American civil society a new paradigm of doing not only philosophy psychology and sociology but also religiology and theology is emerging communicative action A new communicative political theology including a critical religiology is arising Its central theme is the theodicy problem The present study approaches this theme in the framework of a critical religiology and communicative political theology narratively as well as discursively In search for a solution to the theodicy problem we explore with the help of critical theorists from M Horkheimer over W Benjamin and Th W Adorno to J Habermas and of political theologians from J B Metz over H Peukert to E Arens the philosophical and theological constellation of justice love freedom and reconciliation This study follows the dialectical method determinate negation affirmation through negation of negation Marx, Critical Theory, and Religion , 2006-08-01 The Sociology of Religion has had several frameworks guiding its analysis including functionalism interpretive sociology phenomenology symbolic interactionism and now rational choice theory Marxism has tended to ignore religion assuming it is something that would eventually disappear even though it retained theological elements This collection of essays brings together a group of scholars who use frameworks provided by Marx and Critical Theory in analyzing religion It s goal is to establish a critical theory of religion within the sociology of religion as an alternative to rational choice In doing so it engages in a critique of the positivism uncritical praise of the market neoconservatism and one dimensional conception of rationality of the rational choice theory of religion Jürgen Habermas Luca Corchia, 2010 Traditional Religion and Culture in a New Era Reimon Bachika, 2017-12-04 Where will postmodern culture lead us in the twenty first century Will it destroy traditional cultures together with the old established religions that were its foundation These questions and the new concerns they evoke are explored in this important collection of original essays Contributors challenge entrenched assumptions about what many social scientists consider irreversible cultural trends These include cultural differentiation emphasis on individual identity movement toward religion as a private act rather than a community commitment and above all emphasis on the relativity of all knowledge and values The volume asserts three lines of argument in opposition to these trends The first is the teleological significance of traditional religions and archaic knowledge History can be said to have no goal but the same must not follow for human culture One can conceive individually of a hundred goals to live for However the quality of life cannot be that diverse Taken to the extreme cultural particularity and philosophical nihilism are insults to the life that emerged on our planet eons ago Second this volume emphasizes moral concern and the importance of universal values Ideas of human well being have been formulated from ancient times Religious beliefs invariably contain statements of value in the form of commandments and exhortations that express fundamental goals for a quality of life Third the nature of religion and spirituality is discussed Religion today has become controversial socially and marginal sociologically The role of religion in society is sometimes problematic or abused but it is also underestimated and misunderstood The authors suggest that contemporary religion might best be viewed as non ideological spiritual culture This in turn looks to a future in which religion and culture coalesce This volume includes an international cast of scholars from Japan the United States Canada the United Kingdom Germany Greece Italy New Zealand and Belgium All have engaged in research outside their own countries Taken as a whole this volume addresses issues of interest to those in the fields of futures studies religion and philosophy and in particular those concerned with human agency personal responsibility and public choice

Towards a Contextual Transformational Practical Theology for Leadership Education in South Africa Gordon E. Dames, 2016 Towards a contextual transformational practical theology for leadership education in South Africa is a courageous effort by a prominent South African practical theologian to develop a framework for the theory and practice of leadership education in an African context Taking the harsh realities of South Africa as point of departure the author demonstrates how an indigenous South African practical theology can be developed through a critical interaction between Western and African ideas Prof Jaco S Dreyer Professor of Practical Theology University of South Africa

Religion as a Humain Capacity Ernest Thomas Lawson, Timothy Light, Brian Courtney Wilson, 2004 Prepared in honor of E Thomas Lawson the essays in Religion as a Human Capacity offer a broad range of cognitivist theoretical explorations of religion as well as cutting edge applications of cognitive and other contemporary theories to religious data

The Churches and the Development Debate Ignatius Swart, 2006-05-01 This book newly addresses the question about the Christian churches participation in development The innovative element of this reflection is the way in which the author finds meaning and significance particularly in the concept of a fourth generation approach to strategic development engagement The book s essential argument is that a fourth generation strategy an approach that makes the contemporary social or people s movements the primary subjects of its development action and theory holds the greatest prospect for authentic participation by the Christian churches in development

The Frankfurt School on Religion Eduardo Mendieta, 2005-07-22 In The Frankfurt School on Religion Eduardo Mendieta has brought together a collection of readings and essays revealing both the deep connections that the Frankfurt School has always maintained with religion as well as the significant contribution that its work has to offer. Rather than being unanimously antagonistic towards religion as has been the received wisdom, this collection shows the great diversity of responses that individual thinkers of the school developed and the seriousness and sophistication with which they engaged the core religious issues and major religious traditions. Through a careful selection of writings from eleven prominent theorists including several new and previously untranslated pieces from Leo Lowenthal, Max Horkheimer, Herbert Marcuse and Jürgen Habermas, this volume provides much needed sources for religious leaders, philosophers and social theorists as they grapple with the nature and functions of religion in the contemporary social, political and economic landscape. The Frankfurt School on Religion recovers the religious dimensions of the Frankfurt School, for too long sidelined or ignored, and offers new perspectives and insights necessary to the development of a fuller and more nuanced critical theory of society. Selections and essays from Ernst Bloch, Erich Fromm, Leo Lowenthal, Herbert Marcuse, Theodor W. Adorno, Max Horkheimer, Walter Benjamin, Johann Baptist Metz, Jürgen Habermas, Helmut Peukert, Edmund Arens. Liberation Theologies, Postmodernity and the Americas David Batstone, Eduardo Mendieta, Lois Ann Lorentzen, Dwight N. Hopkins, 2013-09-13. Simultaneously arising out of such diverse contexts as the black community in the United States, grassroots religious communities in Latin America and feminist circles in North Atlantic countries, theologies of liberation have emerged as a resource and inspiration for people seeking social and political freedom. Over the last three decades, liberation theology has irrevocably altered religious thinking and practice throughout the Americas. Liberation Theologies, Postmodernity and the Americas provides a meaningful and spirited debate on vital interpretive issues in religion, philosophy and ethics. The renowned group of scholars explore liberation theologies' uses of discourses of emancipation, revolution and utopia in contrast with postmodernism's suspicion of grand narratives while assessing what the postmodernism liberation debate means for strategies of social and political transformation. Guided by the experiences of those at the margins of social power, liberation theologies demystify the eurocentric myths of secularization and modernity and calls for a re-appraisal of religion in contemporary societies. Contributors: Edmund Arens, David Batstone, Maria Clara Bingemer, Enrique Dussel, Gustavo Gutierrez, Jürgen Habermas, Franz Hinkelammert, Dwight Hopkins, Lois Ann Lorentzen, Eduardo Mendieta, Amos Nascimento, Elsa Tamez, Mark McLain Taylor and Sharon Welch. Robert Allen Warrior. Readings in Contemporary Rhetoric Karen A. Foss, 2002. Christian Justice and Public Policy Duncan B. Forrester, 1997-08-28. Disagreements about justice are not simply academic matters. They create problems for practice and for policy making. In a morally fragmented society in which nobody knows what justice is, issues such as wages, policy, punishment and poverty become particularly difficult to handle. People striving to act justly are often uncertain how this might be done. Secular theories such as those of Rawls, Hayek, Habermas and modern feminist theorists examined here give some guidance for problems of justice that arise on the ground but have serious limitations. This book argues that Christian theology, although it can no longer claim to provide a comprehensive theory of justice can provide insights into justice theological fragments which give illumination challenge some aspects of the conventional wisdom and contribute to the building of just communities in which people may flourish in mutuality and hope

Thought Wilfrid Parsons, Francis Xavier Talbot, Gerald Groveland Walsh, 1987 Homo Florens? Nadia

Marais, 2023-10-09 What does it mean to flourish Human flourishing lies at the heart of the good news of the gospel and yet contemporary theologies know not only one way of speaking about what it means to flourish If we embed our theological grammars of flourishing in the doctrine of salvation as the doctrine in which theological flourishing talk is arguably rooted and from which rich fruit may be borne there is not one but various ways in which to speak about what it means to flourish Yet what governs our speaking Why do we speak of flourishing as we do The various conceptions of human flourishing that are outlined in this book piety joy and comfort being fully alive healing and dignity grace happiness and blessing represent a collection of attempts not only to imagine human flourishing but also to imagine ways of speaking about human flourishing Perhaps what theology could offer to the vibrant and robust conversations on human flourishing lies exactly in the reminder to take care about how we speak about that which is truly and deeply human our longing to flourish

The Promise of Critical Theology Marc P. Lalonde, 2006-01-01 Written in tribute to one of the foremost Catholic theologians in the English speaking world the essays in The Promise of Critical Theology address the question Can critical theology secure its critical operation without undermining its foundation in religious tradition and experience Is critical theology simply an oxymoron when viewed from both sides of the equation From Marc Lalonde's introductory essay which delimits Davis fundamental position that the primary task of critical theology is the critique of religious orthodoxy the essays examine Davis distinction between faith and belief and build upon the promise of critical theology as inextricably bound to the promise of faith They ask What is its promise What particular religious ideas themes stories are appropriate for its concrete expression How can the community of faith receive its transformative message What might be the contribution of other religious traditions and philosophies Essays by Paul Lakeland Dennis McCann Kenneth Melchin Michael Oppenheim and Marsha Hewitt respond to these and other questions and critically relate Davis work to ongoing developments in modern theology critical theory philosophy and the social sciences Their diversity attests to the comprehensive scope of Davis thought and exemplifies the progressive character of contemporary religious discourse They honour Davis and illuminate the promise of critical religious thinking in itself

Critical Theory in Political Practice Stephen T. Leonard, 1987

From Critical Theory Of Society To Theology Of Communicative Praxis: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Paffen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
