From Forager To Farmer In Flint:

From Forager to Farmer in Flint Michael D. Stafford, 1999 The transition from foraging to farming in prehistoric Denmark has been a topic of debate over the past sixty years Michael Stafford contributes to this discussion via an analysis of stone tools from several well known sites in Denmark spanning the transition to agriculture Results of this analysis are applied to several recent theoretical approaches seeking to explain how and when the transition happened and a new perspective is synthesised and defended Lithic Analysis George H. Odell, 2012-12-06 Procedures by which archaeological stone tools have been analyzed have traditionally operated on an apprenticeship model whereby a novice acquires competency at the elbow of a grizzled but revered expert in the field After shuffling through literally thousands of stones and asking hundreds of questions the neophyte eventually reaches a level at which he or she can fly solo requiring less and less attention from the Master While this pedagogical model has been frequently tried and tested it is not always the most efficient method it is very labor intensive and it requires a resident lithics expert a situation that often does not exist in reality Learning the ropes would clearly be more practical if there were a manual to consult a book that provides information and direction so that the Master might at least be spared the most elemental questions and would not have to be available all the time For years no such manual existed but recently the ice has been broken by Bill Andrefsky's Lithics Macroscopic Approaches to Analysis and Brian Kooyman's Understanding Stone Tools and Archaeological Sites These are good books and can profitably be employed by fledgling lithic analysts My own interest in writing a manual for stone tool analysts derives initially from the way I was trained literally at the knees of two Masters in this case revered but not grizzled Dr Raymond R Newell in typological and technological matters and Dr Ruth E Tringham in functional studies From Forager to Farmer in the Boreal Zone Marek Zvelebil, 1981 This volume is part of a two volume set ISBN 9781407389639 Volume I ISBN 9781407389646 Volume II ISBN 9780860541400 Volume set Seeking the First Farmers in Western Sjælland, Denmark T. Douglas Price, 2022-06-16 This volume summarizes 30 years of fieldwork in Denmark some of the evidence for the spread of agriculture and the Neolithic into Scandinavia and some opinions about the origins of agriculture It is intended to be both academic and personal and to describe the actual process of research because most projects involve elements of both There is an introduction to each chapter that relates some of the more personal aspects of the research and the bulk of each chapter will be a more technical scientific report on our investigations Each chapter will deal with one of the components of the project survey testing and excavations We excavated eight sites from the Late Mesolithic and Early Neolithic that are discussed in this volume The concluding chapter summarizes our research in the area and proffers opinions on a variety of archaeological subjects with visits to climate change seasonality and sedentism hunter gatherer complexity aDNA inequality and the origins and spread of agriculture Europe's First Farmers T.
