Economic Analysis of Environmental Policies Donald N. Dewees, C.K. Everson, William A. Sims, 1975-12-15 A framework is concisely presented for the economic analysis of pollution problems and for evaluating proposed solutions The substantial recent literature on environmental economics is reviewed and related to Ontario environmental policy Topics include the theory of externalities as an explanation of environmental problems policy objectives costs of information and monitoring and the impact of these costs on control policy selection Three case studies of specific pollution problems sulphur dioxide from a smelter lead from downtown factories and urban automobile emissions are given and possible solutions explored The authors methodology is applicable not only to air and water pollution but also to noise aesthetic degradation and solid waste This study will be welcomed by specialists civil servants and students trying to understand the economic aspects of environmental maintenance

Economic Analysis Of Environmental Problems Gregory C Chow, 2014-11-27 This book introduces the basic tools of dynamic optimization in economics to study environmental problems applies econometric methods to estimate and test the models derived by dynamic optimization and discusses environmental problems in a broad perspective including the design and implementation of environmental policies Although the coverage is selective it represents what the author has to offer from his perspective and experience gained in research in dynamic optimization econometrics and policy analysis especially for China The volume is self contained for readers with mathematical background of first year graduate students in the analytical fields of science and engineering but only limited training in economics while an economics text presumes more knowledge of economics Once the tools are mastered the reader can pursue his own research on the topic if he is interested or simply become a more mature citizen in the global economy
