The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard, Ian Thompson, Emma Waterton, Mick Atha, 2018-09-03 This new edition of The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies contains an updated and expanded selection of original chapters which explore research directions in an array of disciplines sharing a concern for landscape a term which has many uses and meanings It features 33 revised and or updated chapters and 14 entirely new chapters on topics such as the Anthropocene Indigenous landscapes challenging landscape Eurocentrism photography and green infrastructure planning The volume is divided into four parts Experiencing landscape Landscape heritage and culture Landscape society and justice and Design and planning for landscape Collectively the book provides a critical review of the various fields related to the study of landscapes including the future development of conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as current empirical knowledge and understanding It encourages dialogue across disciplinary barriers and between academics and practitioners and reflects upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape The Companion provides a comprehensive and up to date guide to current thinking about landscapes and serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike

The New Dimensions of the European Landscapes R.H.G Jongman, 2005-05-09 The European Landscape is under stress of changing land use and a changing attitude of its users Globalization the disappearance of the iron curtain and the recent EU enlargement to 25 countries have changed the economic and environmental dimensions of Europe Europe is changing its face from a western and eastern part to one European Union and to fast connections between its centres of activity The rural and cultural heritage of Europe has to be adapted to cope with this change However its landscape is worth to be conserved as well because it represents the European history in the same way as castles and churches It even more represents the history of the common people because it has been the tradition of the rural population that made these landscapes It cannot be prevented that Europe is changing and it is good that Europe adapts to the new dimensions of the world We in Europe have to define what we think is important and what must be conserved what can be adapted to be used for new functions and what can be abolished because it has no value These decisions will determine the new dimensions of the European landscapes The Frontis Workshop on the New Dimensions of the European Landscape was held on 10-12 June 2002 Wageningen University and Research Centre organized this workshop aiming to develop visions on the landscape in Europe its development and design in the future and to strengthen the international network in landscape planning

Edward Gates, David L. Trauger, Brian Czech, 2014-11-20 The proposed book focuses on one of the most important issues affecting humankind in this century Peak Oil or the declining availability of abundant cheap energy and its effects on our industrialized economy and wildlife conservation Energy will be one of the defining issues of the 21st Century directly affecting wildlife conservation wherever energy extraction is a primary economic activity and indirectly through deepening economic recessions Since cheap abundant energy has been at the core of our industrial society and has resulted in the technological advancements we enjoy today the peak in world oil extraction would potentially have major impacts on civilization unless we prepare well in advance One potential economic solution covered in the book would be a Steady State Economy with a stable population and per capita consumption particularly in such industrialized countries as the United States Furthermore the lack of cheap abundant energy directly and indirectly affects conservation efforts by professional societies and federal and state agencies and NGOs concerned with wildlife issues We need to recognize these potential problems and prepare as much as possible for the consequences stemming from them Selected Papers from the Asia Conference on Economics & Business Research 2015 Stanley Soh, 2016-07-01 The book is a compilation of selected papers presented at the Asia Conference on Economics Business Research in 2015 The peer reviewed contributions cover topics such as microeconomics macroeconomics financial economics accounting and economics organizational behavior marketing business ethics general management strategic management operations management and public sector management The volume serves as a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners in the area of economics and business research in Asia Wildlife Science Timothy E. Fulbright, David G. Hewitt, 2007-06-20 Consciously or not wildlife managers generally act from a theoretical basis although they may not be fully versed in the details or ramifications of that theory In practice the predictions of the practitioners sometimes prove more accurate than those of the theoreticians Practitioners and theoreticians need to work together but this proves di
