Regulation and the Performance of Communication and Information Networks Gerald R. Faulhaber,Gary Madden,Jeffrey Petchey,2012-01-01 Due to their economic characteristics and also to their consequences on many aspects of collective life information networks have always been at the edge of regulatory innovations and at the center of policy debates The contributors of this volume combine long term visions of the factors determining regulatory policies with up to date analyses of technicalities to be dealt with to provide the reader with an extended understanding of the issues and constraints shaping the future of digital networks Eric Brousseau Universit Paris Dauphine France and the European University Institute Italy Digital markets worldwide are in rapid flux The Internet and World Wide Web have traditionally evolved in a largely deregulated environment but recently governments have shown great interest in this rapidly developing sector and are imposing regulations for a variety of reasons that are changing the shape of these industries This book explores why the industrial organization of broadband ISPs Internet backbone providers and content application providers are in such turmoil The expert contributors straddle the turbulent past of the telecoms sector and also contribute to its exciting though unpredictable future via positive analysis of past communications policies which is then utilized to deduce lessons to guide future policy making decisions It is illustrated that broadband ISPs no longer simply provide a conduit for service delivery they are also involved in producing content and transaction services themselves in competition with content and delivery providers The blurring of the traditional lines between these three sectors as each enters into the others markets is highlighted The conclusion is that we are witnessing the emergence of powerful competing platforms linked in complex ways that challenge traditional economic analyses Exploring governance issues regulation and investment next generation service markets and wireless communication this book will prove a fascinating and illuminating read for scholars researchers post graduate students and policymakers with an interest in ICT technology and innovation economics and industrial organization

Management and Economics of Communication M. Evaluation of Competition Policy Fabienne Ilzkovitz, 2020-05-18 Competition authorities are increasingly interested in understanding the impact of their activities on markets and consumers The goal is to improve competition policy rules and decision making practices and to get robust evidence on the benefits of competition and competition policy for society as a whole Discussions with competition authorities practitioners and academics have shown the need to take stock of the experience gained in this field by the European Commission and to present it in an easily accessible way The studies collected in this volume prepared by senior Commission officials and competition policy experts range from the ex post evaluation of specific policy interventions to the assessment of the broader impact of competition policy The issues and topics examined include the following objectives and scope of evaluations by the European Commission description of counterfactual evaluation techniques used conditions for a successful ex post evaluation of a competition policy intervention a wide selection of individual cases covering a variety of economic sectors applications in merger control antitrust and State aid direct benefits of competition policy interventions for consumers deterrent effects of such interventions on market participants and macroeconomic outcomes in terms of job creation productivity and GDP growth This matchless book assembles within a single volume all that is needed for competition policy analysts and practitioners to undertake ex post economic evaluations While its collection of state of the art ex post evaluation studies has a clear value for competition authorities it is sure to be welcomed as well by competition law practitioners in the private sector who will greatly appreciate the effort made to cast a critical eye on decisions taken in the past Moreover it allows for addressing some of the new challenges facing competition policymakers Fabienne Ilzkovitz is Principal Advisor responsible for the economic evaluation of competition policy within the Directorate General for Competition of the European Commission and since 2014 she has coordinated various ex post evaluation projects in the Directorate General She is also Associate Professor of Economics in the Solvay Brussels School of Economics and Management at the Universit Libre de Bruxelles Belgium Adriaan Dierx is Senior Expert on ex post economic evaluation within the Directorate General for Competition of the European Commission He has managed a number of studies aimed at assessing the economic impact of the European Commission's competition policy interventions Macroeconomics and the History of Economic Thought H.M. Krämer, Heinz Kurz, H.-M.

Trautwein, 2012-03-29 The essays in this Festschrift have been chosen to honour Harald Hagemann and his scientific work They reflect his main contributions to economic research and his major fields of interest The essays in the first part deal with various aspects within the history of economic thought The second part is about the current state of macroeconomics The essays in the third part of the book cover topics on economic growth and structural dynamics Internet, Economic Growth and Globalization Claude E. Barfield, Günter S. Heiduk, Paul J.J. Welfens, 2012-11-02 The dynamics of the digital economy in the US Europe and Japan are rather different Some EU countries come close to the USA as the leading OECD country in the new economy but Japan faces particular problems in catching up digitally Information and communication technology will affect productivity growth production the financial system and trade Setting adequate rules for the digital economy at the national and international level is a key challenge for industrialized countries Moreover cultural and organizational challenges will also have to be met Liberalization and Regulation of the Telecommunications Sector in Transition Countries Ekaterina Markova, 2008-11-14 Telecommunications are increasingly recognized as a key component in the infrastructure of economic development For many years there were state owned monopolies in the telecommunications sector In transition economies they were characterized by especially poor performance and high access deficits as telecommunications were considered to be a non profit oriented production process intended to support the socio economic superstructures As a result the starting point for the reform processes in transition countries was quite poor performed public monopolies functioned under completely different circumstances as the peers in the market economies The main question of this book is what the strategies for the successful future development of the telecommunications sector in transition countries are The special focus is on Russia the largest of the transition countries Asian Economic and Political Issues Frank H. Columbus, 1998 It is predicted by some observers that the 21st century will be remembered as the Asian Century Many of the countries in the region seem to be able to take the economic and trade baton when one of the others experience problems The region in general continues to grow economically politically and militarily The articles presented in this book examine the current political and economic situations in nations across Asia particularly focusing on economic developments Contents Preface The Challenge of Removing Administrative Barriers to FDI in China Negative Externality Tacit Bargaining and Cigarette Demand The Case of Environmental Tobacco Smoke in Japan Modelling Development Control of Residential Development A Probit Analysis of Rent Seeking and Policy Autonomy in Town Planning in Hong Kong Social Capital Does it Pay The Institutional Impact on Conditions and Consequences of Access to Social Capital the Case of the Former GDR The Role of Foreign Investment in Guangdong s Economic Development Natural Disasters and Long run Economic Growth in Asia and Around the World The Role of Urban Policy in the Battle against Poverty The Experience of the Philippines
