Health Womens Work And Industrialization:

Women Workers in Industrialising Asia A. Kaur, 2016-01-13 This collection contributes to key theoretical debates about women workers in Asia and breaks new ground by focussing on issues that have been little documented in other studies in the area It provides new information and insights into labour systems associated with labour intensive export manufactures and state labour relations in a comparative context The contributors present a range of unique and varied perspectives from which they consider aspects of the increasing integration of Asian economies exploring implications for their labour markets

Women, Poverty and Ideology in Asia Haleh Afshar, B. Agarwal, 2016-07-27 This book examines the contradictions between the prevailing ideologies and cultural practices and the economic interests of women in poor households in Asia Here the primacy of economic needs necessitates that all members of the household women men and children engage in income generating employment yet at the same time prevailing ideologies often impose restrictions on women s work Thus caught in the poverty trap they face conflicting choices between survival needs and social acceptability This collection of essays demonstrate the differing or complementary roles played by different agents such as the State private employers religious groups the community and the family and their effects on the lives of impoverished women in India Pakistan Iran Sri Lanka Korea Malaysia Hong Kong and Singapore The degree of complementarity or contradiction varies according to country class caste and ethnicity What is of interest however is the way they are manifested and in whose interest they are resolved

Industrialization in the Modern World John Hinshaw, Peter N. Stearns, 2013-11-12 This unique two volume work analyzes the Industrial Revolution from a global perspective and traces its influences up to the present day encouraging students to rethink the significance of events past and present By taking a fresh approach to its topic Industrialization in the Modern World From the Industrial Revolution to the Internet enables students to see this ongoing phenomenon not as a standalone event but as a catalyst for the formation of today s globalized industrializing world Spanning the period from 1750 to the present the work offers some 450 entries that cover developments in Africa and Asia as well as in Europe and the United States Numerous essays are organized around specific questions or problems others examine significant events countries or industries The work deals with all the major aspects of traditional industrialization textiles coal steel as well as modern variations China computers the Internet With a targeted approach the authors will help students see how industrialization in one society influenced another how industrialization spread throughout the world and the causes and effects of each country s individual revolution

Japanese Industrialization and Its Social Consequences Hugh Patrick, 2023-04-28 Business, Government and Labor Linda Y C Lim, 2017-12-07 Business Government and Labor in the Economic Development of Singapore and Southeast Asia analyzes the inter linked and evolving roles of private sector business government public policy and labor markets in the economic development of Singapore and its Southeast Asian neighborhood It does this through 16 essays written by Prof Linda Y C Lim an early and long established scholar of these subjects and published over a 35 year period For Singapore often considered the world s most successful economy the essays highlight the determining role of government s industrial and social policy through to the present day when the growth model of the past faces many external market and domestic resource constraints In the rest of Southeast Asia in contrast the essays explore how private sector business dominated by the locally domiciled ethnic Chinese minority thrived and drove economic growth in underdeveloped markets with imperfect institutions and consider if and how this might change with China s increasing presence in the regional economy A final set of essays analyzes the forces underlying women s employment from labor intensive Southeast Asian export factories in the 1980s to Singapore s foreign labor dependent economy and its current productivity challenges Taken together the essays show how government business and labor interact in the process of economic development

Ethnic Minorities and Industrial Change in Europe and North America Malcolm Cross,1992-10-22 Following World War II racial and ethnic minorities formed a pool of low paid labour upon which the industrial city depended When industrial production shifted overseas the new local technological industries required fewer better skilled workers The consequence for those excluded was disastrous In this book leading authorities compare the situation of minorities in the post industrial cities of Europe and North America

The Origins of the Welfare State Lisa DiCaprio,2023-12-11 Women workers and the revolutionary origins of the modern welfare state In May 1790 the French National Assembly created spinning workshops ateliers de filature for thousands of unemployed women in Paris These ateliers disclose new aspects of the process which transformed Old Regime charity into revolutionary welfare initiatives characterized by secularization centralization and entitlements based on citizenship This study is the first to examine women and the welfare state in its formative period at a time when modern concepts of human rights were elaborated In The Origins of the Welfare State Lisa DiCaprio reveals how the women working in the ateliers municipal welfare officials and the national government vied to define the meaning of revolutionary welfare throughout the Revolution Presenting demands for improved wages and working conditions to a wide array of revolutionary officials the women workers exercised their rights as passive citizens capaciously and shaped the meanings of work welfare and citizenship Looking backward to the Old Regime and forward to the nineteenth century this study explores the interventionist spirit that characterized liberalism in the eighteenth century and serves as a bridge to the history of entitlements in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

Women in Kolkata's IT Sector Zakir Husain,Mousumi Dutta,2013-12-30 Based on a survey of women workers in Kolkata s IT sector this book argues that growth of the IT sector has created a demand for skilled professionals This has provided scope for highly educated urban women to create a space of self expression and enjoy enhanced status and prestige within their families These women workers carefully plan their career and daily activities keeping in mind the need to balance diverse and conflicting needs of work and home This kind of decision making occurs outside the utilitarian framework and is better framed in terms of Herbert Simon s satisficing approach which takes into account the bounded rationality of agents Written in lucid non technical language the book will be an invaluable addition to existing works on gender and labour studies and will be of interest to social scientists undertaking research on gender labour and the IT sector

Women and Industrialization in Asia Susan Horton,2002-09-26 It is well known that the female work force has played a large part in the Asian export miracle Yet their role has commonly been depicted as confined to sweat shops and tea houses This book examines the bigger picture regarding women in the labour market and how this has been changing in the course of development and industrialisation Drawing on labour force survey data from across the continent the book includes studies on India Indonesia Japan Korea Malaysia the Philippines and Thailand Written in an accessible style and with the key issues amply supported by up to date quantitative data Women and Industrialisation in Asia produces some surprising results and dispels some common myths regarding the position of female workers in the region

In a New Light Abigail Harrison Moore,R.W. Sandwell,2021-07-15 In the early 1970s a German study estimated that women expended as many calories cleaning their coal mining husbands work clothes as their husbands did working below ground arguably making the home as much a site of industrialized work as factories and mines But while energy studies are beginning to acknowledge the importance of social and historical contexts and to produce more inclusive histories of the unprecedented energy transitions that powered industrialization women have remained notably absent from these accounts In a New Light explores the vital place of women in the shift to fossil fuels that spurred the Industrial Revolution illuminating the variety of ways in which gender and energy intersected in women s lives in nineteenth and twentieth century Europe and North America From their labour in the home where they managed the adoption of new energy sources to their work as educators in electrical housecraft and their protests against the effects of industrialization women took on active roles to influence energy decisions Together these essays deepen our understanding of the significance of gender in the history of energy and of energy transitions in the history of women and gender By foregrounding women s energetic labours and concerns the authors shed new light on energy use in the past and provide important insights as societies move towards a carbon neutral future An Index to Women's Studies Anthologies Sara Brownmiller,Ruth Dickstein,1994 The Bioarchaeology of Structural Violence Lori A. Tremblay,Sarah Reedy,2020-08-27 This volume is a resource for bioarchaeologists interested in using a structural violence framework to better understand and contextualize the lived experiences of past populations One of the most important elements of bioarchaeological research is the study of health disparities in past populations This book offers an analysis of such work but with the benefit of an overarching theoretical framework It examines the theoretical framework used by scholars in cultural and medical anthropology to explore how social political and or socioeconomic structures and institutions create inequalities resulting in health disparities for the most vulnerable or marginalized segments of contemporary populations It then takes this framework and shows how it can allow researchers in bioarchaeology to interpret such socio cultural factors through analyzing human skeletal remains of past populations The book discusses the framework and its applications based on two main themes the structural violence of gender inequality and the structural violence of social and socioeconomic inequalities TIME'S NOW for Women Healthcare Leaders Patricia A.
