Heat And Light Practical Guide To Energy Conservation In Church Buildings:

Heat and Light Brian Marks, Ian G. Hanna, 1994-01 Churches and church halls can be inefficient and expensive on heating and lighting but often much can be done to save energy and cost This book is a practical guide on how to get the fellowship warmer without sending the bills through the roof The authors are official consultants to the Church of Scotland on heating and lighting and have decades of professional experience Their advice covers the design maintenance and efficiency of heating and lighting systems The book is written with church fabric or property committees especially in mind and is suitable for use by any denomination or group Heating Your Church William Bordass, Colin Bemrose, 1996 Includes information about how the location condition and contents of the building to be heated and how the expectation of the congregation must be taken into account The different types of heat emitters available are also explained Energy and Environmental Issues for the Practising Architect Ian C. Ward, 2004 Producing an energy efficient and environmentally friendly building can be a daunting task for the every day architect who may only be commissioned infrequently to produce such a building This book aims to remove the mystery and complexity from this process by helping the architect understand and put into practice the many issues involved in generating an energy efficient and environmentally friendly design Sustainable Building Conservation Oriel Prizeman, 2019-07-25 This book incorporates UK and international case studies and essays to identify the overlaps in the interests of energy and building conservation The relevance and adjustments of qualitative and quantitative frames of reference are introduced alongside the various expertise of the contributors architects designers conservation consultants and academics The second part of the book showcases sustainable domestic and non domestic heritage projects translating the preceding research into information that practitioners can use in their everyday work The book will appeal to architecture students newly qualified professionals and conservation architects and will enhance readers ambitions so that they feel equipped and inspired to work with old buildings sensitively creatively and sustainably Museums Journal Elijah Howarth, F.
