International Handbook of Violence Research Wilhelm Heitmeyer, John Hagan, 2003-12-31 An international manual is like a world cruise a once in a lifetime experience All the more reason to consider carefully whether it is necessary This can hardly be the case if previous research in the selected field has already been the subject of an earlier review or even several competing surveys On the other hand more thorough study is necessary if the intensity and scope of research are increasing without comprehensive assessments That was the situation in Western societies when work began on this project in the summer of 1998 It was then too that the challenges emerged any manual especially an international one is a very special type of text which is anything but routine It calls for a special effort the state of the art has to be documented for selected subject areas and its presentation made as compelling as possible The editors were delighted therefore by the cooperation and commitment shown by the eighty one contributors from ten countries who were recruited to write on the sixty two different topics by the constructive way in which any requests for changes were dealt with and by the patient response to our many queries This volume is the result of a long process It began with the first drafts outlining the structure of the work which were submitted to various distinguished colleagues Friedhelm Neidhardt of Berlin Gertrud Nunner Winkler of Munich and Roland Eckert of Trier to name only a few supplied valuable comments at this stage

Philosophy of Educational Knowledge W. Brezinka, 2012-12-06 For two reasons we are particularly proud to include Wolfgang Brezinka's Philosophy of Educational Knowledge in this series of books on Philosophy of Education The first is the philosophical interest of the work itself its remarkable scholarship and the importance of the philosophical positions will be obvious to all readers The second is that it brings to the English speaking world a wonderful example of educational philosophy as now being practiced in the German speaking world All too often philosophers in the Anglo American tradition have not seen the sort of perspective on educational thinking that infuses this work And since this book has been widely read in its original version it has had a considerable impact upon philosophy of educational research and science in the German speaking countries An understanding of this may help in the development of even more cooperative relations among students of education in all countries C 1 B Macmillan D C Phillips PREFACE TO THE ENGLISH EDITION I am not unmindful how little can be done in a mere treatise on Logic or how vague and unsatisfactory all precepts of Method must necessarily appear when not practically exemplified in the establishment of a body of doctrine Doubtless the most effectual mode of showing how the sciences may be constructed would be to construct them JOHN STUART MILL 1843 1 Parents have a duty to educate their children teachers to educate their pupils For this reason there is widespread interest in education Knowledge of education has long been offered under names like pedagogy pedagogical theory Originally this meant practical knowledge based on common sense Since the Enlightenment however attempts have been made to acquire scientific knowledge of education

The Semiotic Sphere Thomas A. Sebeok, Jean Umiker-Sebeok, 2012-12-06

Although semiotics has in one guise or another flourished uninterruptedly since pre Socratic times in the West and important semiotic themes have emerged and developed independently in both the Brahmanic and Buddhist traditions semiotics as an organized undertaking began to bloom only in the 1960s Workshops materialized with a perhaps surprising spontaneity over much of Europe Eastern and Western and in North America Thereafter others quickly surfaced almost everywhere over the literate globe Different places strategically allied themselves with different legacies but all had a common thrust to aim at a general theory of signs by way of a description of different sign systems their comparative analysis and their classification More or less permanent confederations were forged with the most diverse academic disciplines and amazingly varied frameworks were devised suited to the needs of the times and the sites to carry the work of consolidation forward Bit by bit mutually supportive international networks were put together Today it can truly be asserted that semiotics has become a global enterprise This of course is far from saying that the map is uniform or even that world wide homogeneity is in the least desirable While our conjoint ultimate goal remains steadily in focus the multiplicity of avenues available for its realization is inherent in the adventure of the search itself

Variable Structure Systems with Application to Economics and Biology R. R. Mohler, A. Ruberti, 2012-12-06 The proceedings of the Second US Italy Seminar on Variable Structure Systems is published in this volume Like the first seminar its conception evolved from common research interests on bilinear systems at the Istituto di Automatica of Rome University and at the Electrical and Computer Engineering Department of Oregon State University Again the seminar was focused on variable structure systems in general In this case however emphasis is given to applications in biology and economics along with theoretical investigations which are so necessary to establish a unified theory and to motivate further developments in these applications of social significance By bringing together the talents of social and biological scientists with those of engineers and mathematicians from throughout Italy and the United States the seminar was intended to yield a cross pollination of significant results and a base for more meaningful future research The editors are encouraged by the progress with which they hope the reader will agree is made in this direction No pretense is made however that completely satisfactory integration of theoretical results and applications has been accomplished at this time Among the more important conclusions which have resulted from this seminar are that bilinear and more general variable structure models arise in a natural manner from basic principles for certain biological and economic processes
