Wildman of Rhythm John Radanovich, 2009-09-20 Benny More 1919-1963 was one of the giants at the center of the golden age of Cuban music Arguably the greatest singer ever to come from the island his name is still spoken with reverence and nostalgia by Cubans and Cuban exiles alike Unable to read music he nevertheless wrote more than a dozen Cuban standards His band helped shape what came to be known as the Afro-Cuban sound and later salsa More epitomized the Cuban big band era and was one of the most important precursors to the music later featured in the Buena Vista Social Club Even now to hear his recordings for the first time it is impossible not to be thrilled and amazed Journalist John Radanovich has spent years tracking down the musicians who knew More and More family members seeking out rare recordings and little known photographs Radanovich provides the definitive biography of the man and his music whose legacy was forgotten in the larger scheme of political difficulties between the United States and Cuba Even the exact spelling of More s first name was unknown until now The author also examines the milieu of Cuban music in the 1950s when Havana was the playground of Hollywood stars and the Mafia ran the nightclubs and casinos

Identity Mediations in Latin American Cinema and Beyond Cecilia Nuria Gil Mariño,Laura Miranda,2019-09-12 The appearance of sound film boosted entertainment circuits around the world drawing cultural cartographies that forged images of spaces nations and regions By the late 1920s and early 30s film played a key role in the configuration of national and regional cultural identities in incipient mass markets Over the course of the twentieth and early twenty first centuries this transmedia logic not only went unthreatened but also intensified with the arrival of new media and the development of new technologies In this respect this book strikes a dialogue between analyses that reflect the flows and transits of music films and artists mainly in the Ibero American space although it also features essays on Soviet and Asian cinema with a view to exploring the processes of configuration of cultural identities As such this work views national borders as flexible spaces that permit an exploration of the appearance of transversal relations that are part of broader networks of circulation as well as economic social and political models beyond the domestic sphere
