Ein Weites Feld Hc 1995:

International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004-08-02 The 13th edition of the International Who's Who in Poetry is a unique and comprehensive guide to the leading lights and freshest talent in poetry today. Containing biographies of more than 4 000 contemporary poets world wide this essential reference work provides truly international coverage. In addition to the well known poets talented up and coming writers are also profiled. Contents: Each entry provides full career history and publication details. An international appendices section lists prizes and past prize winners, organizations, magazines and publishers. A summary of poetic forms and rhyme schemes. The career profile section is supplemented by lists of Poets Laureate, Oxford University professors of poetry, poet winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature, winners of the Pulitzer Prize for American Poetry and of the King's Queen's Gold medal and other poetry prizes. Who's who in Germany Karl Strute, Theodor Doelken, 1983 Vols for 1956 include a separately pagged section. Directory of organizations, associations and institutions. Goethe and the English-speaking World Nicholas Boyle, John Guthrie, 2002 New studies of both Goethe's relationship to the English speaking world and its perception of Goethe and his works. Goethe's relations with the English speaking world have been the subject of scholarly investigation ever since his lifetime. This volume brings together eighteen articles that provide new points of view, a broad range of approaches and new and original findings on this relationship. These range from the discussion of applications of recent critical approaches such as chaos theory and Edward Said's Orientalism to Goethean texts through other more empirical contributions that bring to light new material, some of it deriving from archives in Weimar relating to Goethe's contact with English culture. Other essays involve the reassessment of questions of influence from both sides in the case of Cooper and Goethe, some standard assumptions are revised while in the case of Goethe and Edith Wharton and Goethe and George Eliot new comparative ground is broken. Close readings of portions of well known texts such as Faust and Wilhelm Meister challenge standard assumptions. The analysis of selected recent translations of Goethe's poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of Goethe's texts in one corner of the English speaking world Dublin is long overdue. Nicholas Boyle is Reader in German Literary and Intellectual History, Head of the Department of German in the University of Cambridge and Fellow of Magdalene College. John Guthrie is College Lecturer in German and Director of Studies in Modern Languages at New Hall, Cambridge. Catalogue raisonné Günter Grass, 2007 Before Günter Grass achieved worldwide fame as a novelist the future author of The Tin Drum studied sculpture at the art academies of Düsseldorf and Berlin. Over the past 60 years of artistic life he has created not only novels, poems, stories and plays but an extensive body of artworks in a diverse array of media. His writings are inconceivable without their visual counterpart for reasons both private and public. As a matter of method during the slow, intimate process of painting, drawing and modeling Grass develops the ideas for new novels. After he has finished a book he moves back to his studio and his drawing table. As a matter of aesthetics he created the dust jacket illustrations for each of his first editions which has lent his literary works a distinctive unified style These first installments of a five volume Catalogue Raisonn encompass Grass s most graphic and best known work fish cockerels rats portraits and self portraits Oscar and the tin drum player The complete five volume Catalogue Raisonn will include his complete etchings lithographs watercolors drawings and sculptures Readers of Grass s novels will discover a new dimension of his world which he once wrote is of the same ink as his writing others will simply discover an accomplished unexpected artist Titanic
