High-Risk Children In Schools Robert Pianta,Daniel Walsh,2014-06-03 High Risk Children in Schools offers a way for psychologists and educators to see and talk about the growing population of at risk children those likely to fail at formal schooling while helping to redefine the relationship between schools and families Using systems theory and developmental psychology the authors present a new framework for the study and education of children who are at risk This framework the Contextual Systems Model creates a dialogue between the child and schooling through which meaning goals and experiences are shared and accepted

Promise and Dilemma Eugene Y. Lowe, Jr., 2021-02-09 Issues of diversity and affirmative action have turned elite higher education in the United States into contested terrain Rights revolutions in the country have raised hopes that have proved difficult to fulfill Most particularly expectations about access and opportunity redressing the unfairness of the past have collided with widely held beliefs that educational institutions should treat each person fairly as an individual and should promote high academic standards Promise and Dilemma gathers the reflections of a group of leading educators on whether and how objectives of diversity equity and excellence can be simultaneously pursued Empirical in orientation these essays focus on constructive proposals and on the role of social and political consensus Furthermore they contrast what we believe we know with what empirical data and institutional experience can teach us Eugene Lowe's substantive introduction reviews the history of the practice of affirmative action in colleges and universities The other essays are by L Scott Miller of The College Board Mamphela Ramphele vice chancellor of the University of Cape Town Neil J Smelser of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences Stanford and Claude M Steele of Stanford University Also included are commentaries by Randall Kennedy Harvard Law School Richard J Light John F Kennedy School of Government Harvard University Chang Lin Tien the University of California Berkeley and Philip Uri Treisman the University of Texas

Education As My Agenda J. Robinson, 2017-03-06 When Gertrude Williams retired in 1998 after forty nine years in the Baltimore public schools The Baltimore Sun called her the most powerful of principals who tangled with two superintendents and beat them both In this oral memoir Williams identifies the essential elements of sound education and describes the battles she waged to secure those elements first as teacher then a counselor and for twenty five years as principal She also described her own education growing up black in largely white Germantown Pennsylvania studying black history and culture for the first time at Cheyney State Teachers College and meeting the rigorous demands of the program which she graduated from in 1949 In retracing her career Williams examines the highs and lows of urban public education since World War II She is at once an outspoken critic and spirited advocate of the system to which she devoted her life

Something in Common Robert Rothman, 2011-10-01 Something in Common is the first book to provide a detailed look at the groundbreaking Common Core State Standards and their potential to transform American education This book tells the story of the unfolding political drama around the making of the Common Core State Standards for math and English language arts which were adopted by 43 states and the District of Columbia over a six month period in 2010 after decades of similar proposals had gone down in flames As a senior fellow at the major organization promoting the Common Core standards education writer Bob Rothman gives the reader a bird's eye view of this unfolding drama and brings the major players to life with lively anecdotes and behind the scenes details He describes the developments leading up to the historic agreement and compares them to earlier efforts He also explains the content of the standards in depth describes steps being taken to implement them and examines how the assessment consortia plan to measure student performance against the new standards The book is a must have reference work for researchers practitioners school leaders policy makers and others interested in contemporary education policy and reform Secondary School Librarian's Survival Guide Jane E.
