African Literature as Political Philosophy Mary Stella Chika Okolo, 2008-02-29 The politics of development in Africa have always been central concerns of the continent's literature Yet ideas about the best way to achieve this development and even what development itself should look like have been hotly contested African Literature as Political Philosophy looks in particular at Achebe's Anthills of the Savannah and Petals of Blood by Ngugi wa Thiong'o but situates these within the broader context of developments in African literature over the past half century discussing writers from Ayi Kwei Armah to Wole Soyinka M S C Okolo provides a thorough analysis of the authors differing approaches and how these emerge from the literature She shows the roots of Achebe's reformism and Ngugi's insistence on revolution and how these positions take shape in their work Okolo argues that these authors have been profoundly affected by the political situation of Africa but have also helped to create a new African political philosophy education nationality or citizenship and religion A Grammar of Emai Ronald P. Schaefer, Francis O. Egbokhare, 2016-12-19 This reference grammar is the first ever description of West Africa's Edoid language Emai. It incorporates narrative lexical and grammatical field results over the last three decades. Treated are morphology, syntax and argument structure after an introductory phonology and orthographic overview highlighting grammatical and lexical tone. Individual chapters delineate noun and verb phrase structure as well as clause shape in discourse and clause combination. Noun inflection and derivation are detailed as is verb inflection in the context of tense, aspect and modality. Noun phrase character encompasses remnant noun classes, nominal modification types and pronoun forms followed by conjunction. Verb phrase features include complex predicates, both verbs in series and verb plus postverbal particle, functionally distinct copulas, double objects and sentence complement types constrained by matrix verb. Also analyzed are preverbal and postverbal adverbials relative to information question types. Multi-clause constructions are profiled as to coding varieties across dependent clauses as well as precedence relations. A concluding chapter presents a sample narrative in orthographic form, interlinear gloss and English free translation.

Enclaves of Exception Omolade Adunbi, 2022-05-10 How do we measure and truly grasp the sweeping social and environmental effects of an oil-based economy? Focusing on the special economic zones resulting from China's trading partnership with Nigeria, Enclaves of Exception offers a new approach to exploring the relationship between oil and technologies of extraction and their interrelatedness to local livelihoods and environmental practices. In this groundbreaking work, Omolade Adunbi argues that even though the exploitation of oil resources is dominated by big corporations, it establishes opportunities for many former Nigerian insurgents and their local communities to contest the ownership of such resources in the oil-rich Niger Delta and to extract oil themselves and sell it. Based on extensive ethnographic fieldwork, Enclaves of Exception makes clear that although both the free trade zones and the now booming local artisanal refineries share the goals of profit making and are enthusiastically supported by those benefiting from them economically, they have yielded dramatically the same environmental outcome for communities around them: that included pollution with precarious effects on the health of the populations in the regions and displacement of population from their livelihood practices.

Nationalism and African Intellectuals Toyin Falola, 2004 An examination of the attempt by Western-educated African intellectuals to create a better Africa through connecting nationalism to knowledge from the anti-colonial movement to the present day. This book is about how African intellectuals, influenced primarily by nationalism, have addressed the inter-related issues of power, identity, politics, self-assertion and autonomy for themselves and their continent from the mid-nineteenth century onward. Their major goal was to create a better Africa by connecting nationalism to knowledge. The results have been mixed, from the glorious euphoria of the success of anti-colonial movements to the depressing circumstances of the African condition as we enter a new millennium As the intellectual elite is a creation of the Western formal school system the ideas it generated are also connected to the larger world of scholarship This world is in turn shaped by European contacts with Africa from the fifteenth century onward the politics of the Cold War and the subsequent collapse of the Soviet Union In essence Africa and its elite cannot be fully understood without also considering the West and changing global politics Neither can the academic and media contributions by non Africans be ignored as these also affect the ways that Africans think about themselves and their continent Nationalism and African Intellectuals examines intellectuals ambivalent relationships with the colonial apparatus and subsequent nation state formations the contradictions manifested within pan Africanism and nationalism and the relation of academic institutions and intellectual production to the state during the nationalism period and beyond Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin

Making of an African Giant Dan Mou, 2015-10-16 The performance of Nigeria has recently been vehemently criticized as not commensurate with her human and material potentialities The hope that Nigeria is by destiny the African Giant appears to be fading Some analysts seeing this have blamed it on the character defects of the leadership in Nigeria They argue that because the leaders are predatory and corrupt they have preoccupied themselves with their interests which are primitive accumulation and luxurious lifestyles Meanwhile the rest of the citizens are suffering This book argues that such character defects may indeed exist in some of Nigerian leaders However these are not the main reasons for their dismal performance regarding the welfare of the citizens The main problem is that Nigerian leaders seem to have largely lost control over the state and its policies which appear to have been captured by the dominant classes and groups local and international Nigerias main problem is therefore a structural one Nonetheless the book concludes as the security economic political and social crises intensify Nigerian leaders even if it is simply for self preservation will be forced by the objective conditions to move against the interests of these dominant classes and groups It is only then that Nigeria can realistically be restored to the possibility of becoming an African Giant

National Security, Democracy, & Good Governance in Post-Military Rule Nigeria, Volume One Dr. Dan Mou, 2016-12-30 This book shows that the security economic political and social problems challenging national security democracy and good governance currently in Nigeria would get better or worse depending on what happens to the seventy one percent 71% of Nigerias population still living below poverty line This is in spite of the billions of petrodollars that Nigeria garnered as revenue over the past few decades It reveals that one does not need to be a political prophet to predict that if these challenges are not successfully addressed through good governance and inclusive growth this country will witness the worst civil disobedience violence revolts militancy breakdown of law and order more kidnappings and more of the citizens trying to check out of the country to other parts of the world in future It concludes however that under such intense pressures the Government of Nigeria even if it is simply for its self preservation will be forced by the objective conditions to
