Terrestrial Palaeoecology and Global Change Valentin Abramovich Krasilov, 2003 This book critically evaluates the currently popular ideas of global change based on the plate tectonics extraterrestrial impacts greenhouse warming etc and offers alternative models Krasilov presents ecosystem evolution as a sustainability oriented process with an increase in the biomass to dead mass ratio as a measure of progress This general tendency is reversed by the geobiospheric crises starting in the earth's interior and surfacing as the concerted geomagnetic tectonomagmatic geochemical and climatic events These affect biota through turnovers of biotic communities and the adequate changes in population adaptive strategies a major force under the species originations and extinctions as well as the genomic evolution The evolution of humans is envisaged as guiding this species to the role of the earth's custodian The book is important for evolutionists ecologists geologists climatologists geneticists integrative biologists botanists zoologists and the general educated person who is intrigued by the dynamic historical processes which shape the evolution of biosphere It could be used as a course book for undergraduate and graduate studies and is an excellent example of inspiring and creative interdisciplinary research of our planet Valentin Krasilov is the author of 20 books among them the Palaeoecology of Terrestrial Plants Cretaceous Period Angiosperm Origins Ecosystem and Ecosystem Evolution etc The new book is based on his lifetime experience in the fields of palaeobotany palaeoecology structural geology and evolutionary biology

Moving Beyond Self-Interest Stephanie L. Brown, R. Michael Brown, Louis A. Penner, 2012 Moving Beyond Self Interest is an interdisciplinary volume that discusses cutting edge developments in the science of caring for and helping others In Part I contributors raise foundational issues related to human caregiving They present new theories and data to show how natural selection might have shaped a genuinely altruistic drive to benefit others how this drive intersects with the attachment and caregiving systems and how it emerges from a broader social engagement system made possible by symbiotic regulation of autonomic physiological states In Part II contributors propose a new neurophysiological model of the human caregiving system and present arguments and evidence to show how mammalian neural circuitry that supports parenting might be recruited to direct human cooperation and competition human empathy and parental and romantic love Part III is devoted to the psychology of human caregiving Some contributors in this section show how an evolutionary perspective helps us better understand parental investment in and empathic concern for children at risk for or suffering from various health behavioral and cognitive problems Other contributors identify circumstances that differentially predict caregiver benefits and costs and raise the question of whether extreme levels of compassion are actually pathological The section concludes with a discussion of semantic and conceptual obstacles to the scientific investigation of caregiving Part IV focuses on possible interfaces between new models of caregiving motivation and economics political science and social policy development In this section contributors show how the new theory and research discussed in this volume can inform our understanding of economic utility policies for delivering social services such as health care and education and hypotheses concerning the origins and development of human society including some of its more problematic features of nationalism conflict and war The chapters in this volume help readers appreciate the human capacity for engaging in altruistic acts on both a small and large scale Handbook of Prejudice, Stereotyping, and Discrimination Todd D. Nelson, 2009-02-17

This Handbook provides a uniquely comprehensive and scholarly overview of the latest research on prejudice stereotyping and discrimination All chapters are written by eminent prejudice researchers who explore key topics by presenting an overview of current research and where appropriate developing new theory models or scales The volume is clearly structured with a broad section on cognitive affective and neurological processes followed by chapters on some of the main target groups of prejudice based on race sex age sexual orientation and weight A concluding section explores the issues involved in reducing prejudice Chapters on the history of research in prejudice and future directions round off this state of the art Handbook The volume will provide an essential resource for students instructors and researchers in social and personality psychology and also be an invaluable reference for academics and professionals in the fields of sociology communication studies gerontology nursing medicine as well as government and policymakers and social service agencies Evolving Learner Lainie Rowell, Kristy Andre, Lauren Steinmann, 2020-02-19

Learn from Kids Peers and the World to Transform Professional Learning What can kids teach us about educational practices It turns out plenty PD is evolving into professional learning PL where personalized experiences focus on goals and outcomes rather than seat time In Evolving Learner successful PL is framed through three critical sources learning from kids from peers and from the world Woven throughout the book are tangible connections to cycles of inquiry where a harmonious balance is the ultimate goal when students are engaged in inquiry for deeper learning and teachers are engaged in a parallel process to improve their practice The authors unique framework shifts away from factory model PD and transforms it into experiences tailored to kids and adult learners specific needs Clear strategies for accomplishing PL are presented through A framework where both students and teachers are active agents of learning Cycles of inquiry to empower students to become the owners of learning Techniques to make thinking visible for teachers and students Cutting edge coverage of applying technology to professional learning including the use of social media gamification and digital badges The time is right to reclaim ownership of your professional learning Evolving Learner is an essential guide for embarking on this journey Brief History of the Gymnosperms John Malcolm Anderson, Heidi M. Anderson, Christopher J. Cleal, 2007

This book offers a global synthesis of gymnosperm families fossil and extant providing a new and distinctive perspective on the macroevolutionary biodiversity trends within this group through their 375 million year history The stratigraphic ranges of the 84 gymnosperm families are plotted according to their first and last appearances in the fossil record Also included is a systematic coverage of floral kingdoms biodiversity patterns insect associations and other fields traced period by period from

Individualism and the Rise of Egosystems Matteo Pietropaoli, 2023-03-15 This book is a socio philosophical journey across several aspects of our society s focus on individual freedom taking cues from some of the most prominent thinkers of our time The author posits that the human quest for freedom mostly dominated by the Western culture but by no means confined to the West has reached its ultimate paradox of making contemporary humans fundamentally unable to act as ecosystems thus cooperate and collaborate They have become egosystems completely centred on the attainment of their own individual satisfaction The author sees this as the culmination of a rightful quest for self affirmation which has been a key driver of progress across human history and by no means a negative one But the paradox is that such a human centred notion of freedom and individual accomplishment results in a much reduced ability to operate in sync with others at the time when mankind would need more cooperation collaboration and selflessness to address the key challenges it faces from climate change to inequalities Through the examination of the broad and interdisciplinary themes typical of social philosophy and the most recent cultural studies in direct confrontation with the thought of authors such as Lipovetsky and Bauman Lasch and Beck Ehrenberg and Han this book examines shifts in cultural norms at the possible end of a millenary civilization
