persistent double standard in media coverage of women s political campaigns through the past eighty years Journalists dwell on the candidates novelty in public office and describe them in ways that stereotype and trivialize them Especially demeaning are comments on women s appearance personality and family connections comments of a sort that would rarely be made about men candidates Are they too pretty or too plain What do their clothes say about them Are they feminine enough or too masculine Are they still just ordinary housewives or are they neglecting their families by heading for Washington or the state house Braden s study is based on both media accounts and the revealing personal interviews she conducted with a broad range of recent women politicians including Margaret Chase Smith Bella Abzug Kay Bailey Hutchison Nancy Kassebaum and Ann Richards All describe agonizing struggles to get across to the public the message that they are serious and competent candidates capable of holding high office and shaping our nation s course New York Magazine ,1984-07-16 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Voting and Political

Raised Italian-American Joseph Bonocore, 2005 Raised Italian American remembers the history stories traditions and values of growing up in an Italian neighborhood One of my fondest memories as a child was to take a ride and view the beautiful nativity scenes that were erected throughout the neighborhood each Christmas The popularity of these large statues they are called presepi in Italy started in Italy in the 17th century when it was fashionable to find them in palaces and homes of wealthy citizens The newfound enthusiasm of erecting a presepi during Christmas may be contributed to Saint Gaetano who openly encouraged people to create the presepi as a sign of devotion It wasn't until the later part of the 19th century that these presepi became a part of family traditions in nearly every home in Italy This set is a beautiful piece of art and is a prized possession of the families that own them I know that Phyllis grandmother cherished her presepi until the day she died and the family still think fondly of their grandmother every time they see it at Christmas time
