multilingualism language death is not uncommon in the South Asian context We do not know how the language situation in South Asia will be affected by modern information and communication technologies Will cultural and linguistic diversity be strengthened or weakened as they become increasingly prevalent in all walks of life This volume brings together areas of research that so far do not interact to any significant extent traditional South Asian descriptive linguistics and sociolinguistics documentary linguistics issues of intellectual and cultural property and fieldwork ethics and language technology Researchers working in the areas of documentary linguistics and language technology have become aware of each other in the last few years and of how work in the other area could be potentially useful in furthering their own aims Similarly the insights of documentary linguistics are making their way into descriptive linguistics and sociolinguistics However the potential for synergy among these areas of research is almost limitless This volume provides the reader not so much with a do it yourself recipe for applying modern technology to the problem of language shift in South Asia today but rather with some basic knowledge about the problems involved and some directions from which solutions could be forthcoming a toolbox rather than a blueprint for helping to shape the linguistic future of South Asia   The Working Languages of the European Community Albert John Walford,1991   Thesaurus of Engineering and Scientific Terms Engineers Joint Council,1967   Encyclopedia of Military Science G. as Foreign Languages Wen-Chuan Lin,2019-09-19 Learning English and Chinese is becoming increasingly important to the prospects of young people This book compares English as a Foreign Language teaching in Taiwan with Chinese as a Foreign Language education in England in order to highlight how classroom activities are embedded within multiple settings including ethnic or other social group cultures family and community resources and school visions or goals The book illustrates how in Taiwan different ethnic groups recognise access and value English language learning to varying extents Its findings illuminate why some ethnic groups are highly motivated to learn English and are able to gain privileged economic positions in the job market In England access to Chinese is marked by social class and the book argues that this could augment an educational apartheid that already exists in language teaching in secondary schools thereby exacerbating existing inequality China, a Travel Survival Kit Alan Samagalski,Michael Buckley,1984 German in the United Kingdom Centre for Information on Language Teaching and Research,1976 Journal of the Modern Language Association of Northern Ireland ,1978 Tibet Paul Hattaway,2025-01-14 The Tibetan Plateau is mountainous inaccessible and vast three times the land area of the UK but with only one tenth of the population Most Tibetans claim to be Buddhists but for many Buddhism is a veneer over older darker beliefs The spiritual realm is a daily reality in Tibet There are only tiny numbers of Tibetan Christians but the Roof of the World has a long and remarkable Christian history Paul Hattaway recounts the stories of the many courageous tenacious men and women who have attempted to exalt the Name of Jesus Christ in Tibet against overwhelming odds and in the face of powerful spiritual forces This is the fourth volume in The China Chronicles which tell the modern history of the Church in China Standard English Tony Bex,Richard J. Harari,2019-06-30 A stellar cast of fifteen contributors seeks to show the direction in which continental and continentally oriented American literary criticism has evolved in recent years Nine of the essays are published here for the first time five of the remaining six were translated by the editor from the French only one has previously appeared in English The essays make available some of the most important and most representative work that has been done in the wake of structuralism Among the topics treated are the relationships between semiology and literature anthropology and literature and psychoanalysis and literature modern

American poetics algebraic models as epistemological operators the modes of production of a poem Flaubert s view of history and poetic language Professor Harari has arranged the essays to move from the general to the particular and from the abstract to the concrete In an informative and ambitious introduction he discusses each essay in relation to the whole and explains the interrelationships among the various theories and strategies that are represented in the anthology A book meant for the specialist as well as the novice for the teacher of literature and criticism as well as the student Textual Strategies is a brilliant introduction to post structuralist critical theories and practices
