Geopolitics at the end of the twentieth century, 1999

Geopolitical Traditions David Atkinson, Klaus Dodds, 2002-09-26 Condemned as an intellectual poison by the late American geographer Richard Hartshorn geopolitics has confounded its critics Today it remains a popular and important intellectual field despite the persistent allegations that geopolitics helped to legitimate Hitler's policies of spatial expansionism and the domination of place Using insights from critical geopolitics and cultural history the contributors focus on how geopolitics has been created negotiated and contested within a variety of intellectual and popular contexts Geopolitical Traditions argues that geopolitics has to take responsibility for the past whilst at the same time reconceptualising geopolitics in a manner which accounts for the dramatic changes in the late twentieth century The book is divided into three sections firstly Rethinking Geopolitical Histories concentrates on how geopolitical conversations between European scholars and the wider world unfolded secondly Geopolitics Nation and Spirituality considers how geopolitical writings have been strongly influenced by religions iconography and doctrine with examples drawn from Catholicism Judaism and Hinduism and thirdly Reclaiming and Refocusing Geopolitics contemplates how geopolitics has been reformulated in the post war period with illustrations from France and the United States Geopolitical Traditions brings together scholars working in a variety of disciplines and locations in order to explore a hundred years of geopolitical thought Sanjay Chaturvedi Punjab University India Paul Claval Eaubonne France Michael J Heffernan Nottingham University UK Les Hepple University of Bristol

Boundaries, Territory and Postmodernity David Newman, 2013-11-05 Contributions to this collection seek to determine the extent to which states and boundaries have in fact disappeared or are simply changing their functions as we move from an era of fixed territories into a post Westphalian territorial system A group of international political geographers and political scientists examine the changing nature of the state pointing to significant changes on the one hand but equally noting the continued importance of territory and boundaries in determining the political ordering of the post modern world

EU Geopolitical Actorness in a Changing World Liridon Lika, Dealan Riga, 2025-02-24 This book elaborates on the assumption that the European Union EU actorness might be shifting from normative to geopolitical and strategic focus Over the past few years the EU has faced growing challenges such as disruptions in its vicinity diffusion of global power and renewed geopolitical competition These external pressures have significantly impacted the EU prompting it among other measures to announce a Geopolitical Commission Academic literature has acknowledged the EU's shift from normative power to an increasingly geoeconomic and geopolitical approach However the notion of geopolitical actorness warrants closer scrutiny of its implications on foreign policy This edited volume critically examines the EU's evolving strategy in a changing world It provides a conceptual framework for rethinking the Union's global role and the renewal of foreign policy tools The book offers a fresh and innovative perspective on whether the EU's ambition to assert new geopolitical leadership is actually backed by the effective implementation of policies and strategies needed to address emerging global challenges

Global Geostrategy Brian Blouet, 2020-09-23 This is a new examination of Halford Mackinder's seminal global geostrategic work from the perspective of geography diplomatic history political science international relations imperial history and the space age Mackinder was a man ahead of his time He foresaw many of the key strategic issues that came to dominate the twentieth century Until the disintegration of the Soviet Union western defence strategists feared that one power or alliance might come to dominate Eurasia Admiral Mahan discussed this issue in The Problem of Asia 1900 but Mackinder made the most authoritative statement in The Geographical Pivot of History 1904 He argued that in the closed Heart Land of Euroasia was a strategically placed region with great resources that if controlled by one force could be the basis of a World Empire James Kurth in Foreign Affairs has commented that it has taken two World Wars and the Cold War to prevent Mackinder's prophecy becoming reality In World War I and World War II Germany achieved huge territorial gains at the expense of the Russian empire and the Soviet Union In the former conflict the Russian empire was defeated by Germany but the western powers insisted that the territorial gains made by Germany at the treaty of Brest Litovsk be given up In World War II Britain and the US gave material support to Stalin's totalitarian regime to prevent Nazi Germany gaining control of the territory and resources that might have been a basis for world domination The west highly conscious of Mackinder's dictum 1919 that Who rules East Europe commands the Heartland quickly adopted policies to contain the Soviet Union History has therefore proved Mackinder's work to be of vital importance to generations of strategic thinking and he remains a key influence in the new millennium This book will be of great interest to all students and scholars of strategic studies and military history and of geopolitics in particular

Contested Worlds provides an introduction both to a multitude of geographical worlds which are currently being actively constructed and contested and to a range of different perspectives on these worlds being adopted and contested by geographers. It is unique in its focus on the role of contestation in both the construction of geographical studies and in the geographies these studies seek to address. These issues are explored through a combination of general theoretical discussion and detailed international case studies. The areas discussed range in scale from the global through the regional and national to the local worlds of the inner city, the neighbourhood and the village with connections drawn between these scales. The book concludes that geography is being made in quite different ways. It asserts that geography is intrinsically a contested enterprise and that this should be embraced as part of geographers becoming more critically involved in the making and studying of new contemporary human geographies.
