George Inness And The Science Of Landscape:

George Inness and the Science of Landscape Rachael Z. DeLue, 2008-09-15 George Inness 1825-94 long considered one of America's greatest landscape painters has yet to receive his full due from scholars and critics. A complicated artist and thinker, Inness painted stunningly beautiful evocative views of the American countryside. Less interested in representing the details of a particular place than in rendering the subjective mystery of nature, Inness believed that capturing the spirit or essence of a natural scene could point to a reality beyond the physical or, as Inness put it, the reality of the unseen. Throughout his career, Inness struggled to make visible what was invisible to the human eye by combining a deep interest in nineteenth-century scientific inquiry including optics, psychology, physiology, and mathematics with an idiosyncratic brand of mysticism. Rachael Ziady DeLue's George Inness and the Science of Landscape, the first in-depth examination of Inness's career to appear in several decades, demonstrates how the artistic, spiritual, and scientific aspects of Inness's art found expression in his masterful landscapes. In fact, Inness's practice was not merely shaped by his preoccupation with the nature and limits of human perception; he conceived of his labor as a science in its own right. This lavishly illustrated work reveals Inness as profoundly invested in the science and philosophy of his time and illuminates the complex manner in which the fields of art and science intersected in nineteenth-century America. Long awaited, this reevaluation of one of the major figures of nineteenth-century American art will prove to be a seminal text in the fields of art history and American studies. Moved to Tears Rebecca Bedell, 2018-11-13 In this volume, Bedell examines received ideas about sentimental art. Countering its association with trite and saccharine Victorian kitsch, she argues that major American artists from John Trumbull and Charles Willson Peale in the eighteenth century and Asher Durand and Winslow Homer in the nineteenth to Henry Ossawa Tanner and Frank Lloyd Wright in the early twentieth produced what was understood in their time as sentimental art: art intended to develop empathetic bonds and to express or elicit social affections including sympathy, compassion, nostalgia, and patriotism.

Nocturne Hélène Valance, 2018-01-01 A beautifully illustrated look at the vogue for night landscapes amid the social, political, and technological changes of modern America. The turn of the 20th century witnessed a surge in the creation and popularity of nocturnes and night landscapes in American art. In this original and thought-provoking book, Hélène Valance investigates why artists and viewers of the era were so captivated by the night. Nocturne examines works by artists such as James McNeill Whistler, Childe Hassam, Winslow Homer, Frederic Remington, Edward Steichen, and Henry Ossawa Tanner through the lens of the scientific developments and social issues that dominated the period. Valance argues that the success of the genre is connected to the resonance between the night and the many forces that affected the era, including technological advances that expanded the realm of the visible such as electric lighting and photography, Jim Crow era race relations, America's closing frontier and imperialism abroad, and growing anxiety about identity and social values amid rapid urbanization. This absorbing study features 150 illustrations encompassing paintings, photographs, prints, scientific illustration, advertising and popular media to explore the predilection for night imagery as a sign of the times George Inness and the Visionary Landscape Adrienne Baxter Bell, George Inness, 2003 The American landscape painter George Inness 1825 1894 was one of the most thoughtful and inventive artists of his generation Haunted Visions Charles Colbert, 2011-05-10 Spiritualism emerged in western New York in 1848 and soon achieved a wide following due to its claim that the living could commune with the dead In Haunted Visions Spiritualism and American Art Charles Colbert focuses on the ways Spiritualism imbued the making and viewing of art with religious meaning and in doing so draws fascinating connections between art and faith in the Victorian age Examining the work of such well known American artists as James Abbott McNeill Whistler William Sydney Mount and Robert Henri Colbert demonstrates that Spiritualism played a critical role in the evolution of modern attitudes toward creativity He argues that Spiritualism made a singular contribution to the sanctification of art that occurred in the latter half of the nineteenth century The faith maintained that spiritual energies could reside in objects and thus works of art could be appreciated not only for what they illustrated but also as vessels of the psychic vibrations their creators impressed into them Such beliefs sanctified both the making and collecting of art in an era when Darwinism and Positivism were increasingly disenchanting the world and the efforts to represent it In this context Spiritualism endowed the artist's profession with the prestige of a religious calling in doing so it sought not to replace religion with art but to make art a site where religion happened Variations in Christian Art Diane Apostolos-Cappadona, 2024-01-25 The artistic traditions of four major Christian denominations are examined and outlined in detail in this groundbreaking volume that presents the first synthesis of the artistic contributions of those traditions Diane Apostolos Cappadona has curated a volume that presents four single authored contributions in one place broadening the study of Christian art beyond Roman Catholic Orthodox and protestant traditions to consider these more recent Christian approaches in close and expert detail Rachel Epp Buller examines art in the Mennonite tradition Mormon art is considered by Heather Belnap Quaker contributions by Rowena Loverance and Swedenborgian art by Diane Apostolos Cappadona Each writer presents elements of the theology of their chosen tradition through the prism of the artists and artistic works that they have selected Alongside mainstream artistic figures such as William Blake less known figures come to the fore and the volume features color illustrations that support and underline the theological and artistic themes presented in each section of the book Together these studies of artistic presentations in these four traditions will be a much need means of filling a gap in the study of Christian art Painting the Woods Deborah Paris, 2020-12-11 When first time author and artist Deborah Paris stepped into Lennox Woods an old growth southern hardwood forest in northeast Texas she felt a disruption that was both spatial and temporal Walking the remnants of an old wagon trail past ancient stands of pine white oak elm hickory sweetgum maple hornbeam and red oak she felt drawn into a reverie that took her back to the beginning both physically and metaphorically Painting the Woods Nature Memory and Metaphor explores the experience of landscape through the lens of art and art making It is a place based meditation on nature art memory and time grounded in Paris's experiences over the course of a year in Lennox Woods Her account unfolds through the twin arcs of the changing seasons and her creative process as a landscape painter In the tradition of Annie Dillard's Pilgrim at Tinker Creek narrative passages interweave with observations about the natural history of Lennox Woods its flora and fauna art history the science of memory Transcendentalist philosophy the role of metaphor in creative work and even loop quantum gravity theory Each chapter explores a different aspect of the forest and a different step in the art making process illuminating our connection to the natural world through language comprehension of time and visual depictions of the landscape The complex layers of the forest and Paris's journey through it emerge as metaphors for the larger themes of the book just as the natural world underpins the art making drawn from it Like the trail that winds through Lennox Woods memory and time intertwine to provide a path for understanding nature art and our relationship to both

The Medicine of Art Elizabeth L. Lee, 2021-12-30 In 1901 the sculptor Augustus Saint Gaudens proclaimed in a letter to Will Low Health is the thing Though recently diagnosed with intestinal cancer Saint Gaudens was revitalized by recreational sports having realized midcareer there is something else in life besides the four walls of an ill ventilated studio The Medicine of Art puts such moments center stage in order to consider the role of health and illness in the way art was produced and consumed Not merely beautiful or entertaining objects works by Gilded Age artists such as John Singer Sargent Abbott Thayer and Augustus Saint Gaudens are shown to function as balm for the ill providing relief from physical suffering and pain Art did so by blunting the edges of contagious disease through a process of visual translation In painting for instance hacking coughs bloody sputum and bodily enervation were recast as signs of spiritual elevation and refinement for the tuberculous who were shown with a pale chalky pallor that signalled rarefied beauty rather than an alarming indication of death Works of art thus redirected the experience of illness in an era prior to the life saving discoveries that would soon become hallmarks of modern medical science to offer an alternate therapy The first study to address the place of organic disease cancer tuberculosis syphilis in the life and work of Gilded Age artists this book looks at how well known works of art were marked by disease and argues that art itself functioned in medicinal terms for artists and viewers in the late 19th century

Painting the Inhabited Landscape Margaretta M. Lovell,2023-03-27 The impulse in much nineteenth century American painting and culture was to describe nature as a wilderness on which the young nation might freely inscribe its future the United States as a virgin land that is unploughed unfenced and unpainted Insofar as it exhibited evidence of a past its traces pointed to a geologic or cosmic past not a human one The work of the New England artist Fitz H Lane however was decidedly different In this important study Margaretta Markle Lovell singles out the more modestly scaled explicitly inhabited landscapes of Fitz H Lane and investigates the patrons who supported his career with an eye to understanding how New Englanders thought about their land their economy their history and their links with widely disparate global communities Lane's works depict nature as productive and allied in partnership with humans to create a sustainable balanced political economy What emerges from this close look at Lane's New England is a picture not of a virgin wilderness but of a land deeply resonant with its former uses and a human history that incorporates rather than excludes Native Americans as shapers of land and as agents in that history Calling attention to unexplored dimensions of nineteenth century painting Painting the Inhabited Landscape is a major intervention in the scholarship on American art of the period examining how that body of work commented on American culture and informs our understanding of canon formation

Antebellum American Pendant Paintings Wendy N. E. Ikemoto, 2017-07-06 Antebellum American Pendant Paintings New Ways of Looking marks the first sustained study of pendant paintings discrete images designed as a pair It opens with a broad overview that anchors the form in the medieval diptych religious history and aesthetic theory and explores its cultural and historical resonance in the 19th century United States Three case studies examine how antebellum American artists used the pendant format in ways revelatory of their historical moment and the aesthetic and cultural developments in which they partook The case studies on John Quidor's Rip Van Winkle and His Companions at the Inn Door of Nicholas Vedder 1839 and The Return of Rip Van Winkle 1849 and Thomas Cole's Departure and Return 1837 shed new light on canonical antebellum American artists and their practices The chapter on Titian Ramsay Peale's Kilauea by Day and Kilauea by Night 1842 presents new material that pushes the geographical boundaries of American art studies toward the Pacific Rim The book contributes to American art history the study of a characteristic but as yet overlooked format and models for the discipline a new and productive framework of analysis focused on the fundamental yet complex way images work back and forth with one another

The Technical Image Horst Bredekamp, Vera Dünkler, Birgit Schneider, 2019-04-10 In science and technology the images used to depict ideas data and reactions can be as striking and explosive as the concepts and processes they embody both works of art and generative forces in their own right Drawing on a close dialogue between the histories of art science and technology The Technical Image explores these images not as mere illustrations or examples but as productive agents and distinctive multilayered elements of the process of generating knowledge Using beautifully reproduced visuals this book not only reveals how scientific images play a constructive role in shaping the findings and insights they illustrate but also however mechanical or detached from individual researchers choices their appearances may be how they come to embody the styles of a period a mindset a research collective or a device Opening with a set of key questions about artistic representation in science technology and medicine The Technical Image then investigates historical case studies focusing on specific images such as James Watson's models of genes drawings of Darwin's finches and images of early modern musical automata These case studies in turn are used to illustrate broad themes ranging from Digital Images to Objectivity and Evidence and to define and elaborate upon fundamental terms in the field Taken as a whole this collection will provide analytical tools for the interpretation and application of scientific and technological imagery

Optiques Andrea Goulet, 2013-04-05 Andrea Goulet takes the study of the novel into the realm of the visual by situating it in the context of nineteenth century scientific and philosophical discourse about the nature of sight She argues that French realism detective fiction science fiction and literature of the fantastic from 1830 to 1910 reflected competition between two modern visual modes a not yet outdated idealism and an empiricism that located truth in the body More specifically the book argues that key narrative forms of the nineteenth century were shaped by a set of scientific debates between idealism and materialism in Honor Balzac's Comédie humaine between deduction and induction in early French detective fiction and between objective vision and subjective vision in the optogram fictions of Jules Verne and others Goulet aims to revise critical views on the modern novel in a number of ways For instance although many literary studies focus on the impact of cinema photography and painting Optiques asserts the materialist bases of realism by establishing a genealogy of popular fictional genres as fundamentally optical that is as articulated according to bodily notions of sight With its chronological and interdisciplinary scope Optiques stands to contribute an important chapter to the study of literary modernity in its scientific context All Things Cease to Appear Elizabeth Brundage,2017-02-07 This literary thriller s complex narrative involves a cursed house an unsolved murder and impeccable writing The New York Times Book Review The basis for the Netflix film Things Heard and Seen Recent transplants to the small town of Chosen New York the Clares have not received the warmest welcome once a thriving dairy farm their home is haunted by the tragedy that left the former owner s three sons orphaned and adrift Late one winter afternoon professor George Clare knocks on his neighbor s door with terrible news he returned from work to find his wife Catherine murdered in their bed Someone took an ax to her head while their three year old daughter Franny played alone in her room across the hall As one dark secret peels away to reveal others and as the Clare marriage reveals itself to have a sinister darkness that rivals the farm s history Elizabeth Brundage offers a rich and complex portrait of the scars that can haunt a community for generations and the dark longings inside each and every one of us that drive us to do inexplicable things A Companion to American Art John Davis,Jennifer A.
