German Expressionism and the Messianism of a Generation Lisa Marie Anderson, 2011-01-01 This book reads messianic expectation as the defining characteristic of German culture in the first decades of the twentieth century It has long been accepted that the Expressionist movement in Germany was infused with a thoroughly messianic strain Here with unprecedented detail and focus that strain is traced through the work of four important Expressionist playwrights Ernst Barlach Georg Kaiser Ernst Toller and Franz Werfel Moreover these dramatists are brought into new and sustained dialogues with the theorists and philosophers of messianism who were their contemporaries Walter Benjamin Ernst Bloch Martin Buber Hermann Cohen Gershom Scholem In arguing for example that concepts like Bloch's utopian self encounter Selbstbegegnung and Benjamin's messianic now time Jetztzeit reappear as the framework for Expressionism's staging of collective redemption in a new age Anderson forges a previously underappreciated link in the study of Central European thought in the early twentieth century

German Expressionism Dorothy Price, 2020-06-24 This book presents new research on the histories and legacies of the German Expressionist group Blaue Reiter the founding force behind modernist abstraction For the first time Blaue Reiter is subjected to a variety of novel inter disciplinary perspectives ranging from a philosophical enquiry into its language and visual perception to analyses of its gender dynamics its reception at different historical junctures throughout the twentieth century and its legacies for post colonial aesthetic practices The volume offers a new perspective on familiar aspects of Expressionism and abstraction taking seriously the inheritance of modernism for the twenty first century in ways that will help to recalibrate the field of Expressionist studies for future scholarship Blaue Reiter still matters the contributors argue because the legacies of abstraction are still being debated by artists writers philosophers and cultural theorists today

Expressionism Neil H. Donahue, 2005 New essays examining the complex period of rich artistic ferment that was German literary Expressionism German Expressionism, 1978 Art Index Retrospective Alice Maria Dougan, Margaret Furlong, 1960 Weimar Cinema and After Thomas Elsaesser, 2013-04-15 German cinema of the 1920s is still regarded as one of the golden ages of world cinema Films such as The Cabinet of Dr Caligari Dr Mabuse the Gambler Nosferatu Metropolis Pandora's Box and The Blue Angel have long been canonised as classics but they are also among the key films defining an image of Germany as a nation uneasy with itself The work of directors like Fritz Lang F W Murnau and G W Pabst which having apparently announced the horrors of fascism while testifying to the traumas of a defeated nation still casts a long shadow over cinema in Germany leaving film history and political history permanently intertwined Weimar Cinema and After offers a fresh perspective on this most national of national cinemas re evaluating the arguments which view genres and movements such as films of the fantastic Nazi Cinema film noir and New German Cinema as typically German contributions to twentieth century visual culture Thomas Elsaesser questions conventional readings which link these genres to romanticism and expressionism and offers new approaches to analysing the function of national cinema in an advanced culture industry and in a Germany constantly reinventing itself both geographically and politically Elsaesser argues that German cinema's significance lies less in its ability to promote democracy or predict fascism than in its contribution to the creation of a community sharing a historical imaginary rather than a national identity In this respect he argues German cinema anticipated some of the problems facing contemporary nations in reconstituting their identities by means of media images memory and invented traditions German Expressionist Drama James MacPherson Ritchie, 1976 The Routledge Companion to Expressionism in a Transnational Context Isabel Wünsche, 2018-09-03 The Routledge Companion to Expressionism in a Transnational Context is a challenging exploration of the transnational formation dissemination and transformation of expressionism outside of the German speaking world in regions such as Central and Eastern Europe the Baltics and Scandinavia Western and Southern Europe North and Latin America and South Africa in the first half of the twentieth century Comprising a series of essays by an international group of scholars in the fields of art history and literary and cultural studies the volume addresses the intellectual discussions and artistic developments arising in the context of the expressionist movement in the various art centers and cultural regions The authors also examine the implications of expressionism in artistic practice and its influence on modern and contemporary cultural production Essential for an in depth understanding and discussion of expressionism this volume opens up new perspectives on developments in the visual arts of this period and challenges the traditional narratives that have predominantly focused on artistic styles and national movements Arts Digest, 1926 The Bookman, 1923 Art Index, 1959 Postdramatic Theatre and Form Michael Shane Boyle, Matt Cornish, Brandon Woolf, 2019-03-21 Postdramatic theatre is an essential category of performance that challenges classical elements of drama including the centrality of plot and character Tracking key developments in

Smith, 2017-07-05 During the period in which Expressionist artists were active in central Europe art historians were producing texts which also began to be characterized evocatively as expressionist yet the notion of an expressionist art history has yet to be fully explored in historiographic studies of the discipline This anthology offers a cross section of noteworthy art history texts that have been described as expressionist along with critical commentaries by an international group of scholars Written between 1912 and 1933 the primary sources have been selected from the published scholarship of both recognized and less familiar figures in the field s Germanic tradition Wilhelm Worringer Fritz Burger Ernst Heidrich Max Dvor Heinrich W lfflin and Carl Einstein Translated here for the first time these examples of an expressionist turn in art history along with their secondary analyses and the book s introduction offer a productive lens through which to re examine the practice and theory of art history in the early twentieth century
