Advertising and Advertisements Elbert Hubbard, 1929 Tourists and Trade Bruce A. Austin, 2023-06-01 Amid the economic turmoil of the Great Depression in 1929 Clarence Wemett an upstate New York petroleum merchant underwrote a craft shop bordering U S Route 20 and a few years later a different one 15 miles away At precisely the wrong time for such things to happen the improbable idea of selling discretionary goods targeted to a consumer market characterized by 25 percent unemployment at a rural highway s roadside achieved traction the first shop was in business for a quarter century the second for nearly 40 years More significant than their surprising longevity is the shops long lasting contribution to a nascent national movement that spans crafts personally created for individual use to the commercial work that sees craft elevated to a fine art craft objects moved from pantry shelves to museum vitrines and craftworkers from hobbyists to professionals The roadside shops introduced a business model that 70 years later is widely experienced on a very different but equally super highway the Internet and their story is a chapter in the pre history of the modern crafts movement The Culture of Tourism, the Tourism of Culture William P. Clements Center for Southwest Studies,2003 The Southwest has long been an American dreamscape and inherently this has had its affect on the land and its people Among other topics discussed in the package of essays is how the area is transformed by tourism and how native people gain autonomy by presenting their experiences and cultures to tourists American Bungalow ,2006
