ThirdWay ,2001-11 Monthly current affairs magazine from a Christian perspective with a focus on politics society economics and culture      Reconciliation and Peace in South Sudan Levi Lukadi Noah,2012-07-14 This work carried out prior to the creation of The Republic of South Sudan focuses on the Christian perspective of reconciliation and peace in South Sudan In a country gripped in what was set to be until recently Africa s longest running civil war the Sudanese state had been on many occasions inherently unjust repressive and extremely violent against sections of its own citizens resulting in long lasting conflict and war This conflict stretches deep into the history and geography of the region This study investigates people s views and trends to find out whether the end of hostilities would mark the end of interpersonal group tribal and interethnic conflict created by the war It asks are people ready to forgive those who have wronged them during the war without demanding justice What would constitute true peace in Sudan Do the church and the government in Sudan each have a role in bringing sustainable peace Findings of the research show an overwhelming desire for reconciliation and peace but with very different ways of reaching it It is however recognized that to constitute true peace in South Sudan there is need for equality and justice observation of the law democratic governance complete transformation equitable distribution of resources and services and freedom of worship For this to be achieved both the church and government must play critical roles Memories of the war are still fresh in people s minds The government must recognize the trauma people have suffered deal with the roots of the conflict and address the crimes committed so that wounds inflicted can be healed and people can then live harmoniously The church must teach people the biblical understanding of peace and reconciliation through repentance and forgiveness so that peace can have true meaning      ThirdWay ,2001-11 Monthly current affairs magazine from a Christian perspective with a focus on politics society economics and culture      Public administration, democracy and peacebuilding in the Democratic Republic of the Congo Jean Chrysostome K. Kiyala ,2025-08-01 The Democratic Republic of Congo DRC presents a striking paradox vast natural and mineral wealth coexist with persistent poverty weak infrastructure and fragile institutions Kiyala s four part scholarly book explores these tensions aiming to identify practical and effective strategies to address the country s complex challenges To meaningfully confront the DRC s enduring crises Kiyala argues that public administration must engage with key drivers of insecurity and instability These include 1 Employing the Dodd Frank Act s Section 1502 on conflict minerals particularly the impact of the de facto embargo on the 3Ts tin tungsten and tantalum 2 The question of Congolese citizenship for the Banyamulenge Tutsi communities of the DRC and the need for legislative clarity 3 Regional and international collaboration to address ongoing threats to peace such as the remnants of the FDLR and other armed groups 4 The complex integration of the M23 movement and other armed factions into the national army through effective screening vetting and identification processes 5 The revitalisation of transitional justice reconciliation and national healing efforts Without addressing these core issues with resolve and coherent strategies efforts toward lasting peace and sustainable development will remain elusive The book also introduces the peacebuilding evolution systems theory PBEST a novel framework that integrates peacebuilding theory with insights from neuroscience The PBEST emphasises the progressive development of peace from individual disposition to collective global action for domestic and international security Rich in empirical analysis this scholarly work offers significant insights not only for scholars and researchers but also for practitioners and policymakers in African studies political science public administration and conflict resolution

Fannie Lou Hamer's Revolutionary Practical Theology Karen D. Crozier,2020-10-12 In Fannie Lou Hamer's Revolutionary Practical Theology Crozier acknowledges analyses and constructs the civil and human rights leader's Christian thought and practice Commonly known for her political activism Hamer is presented as a religious thought leader whose embodiment of ideas and ideals helped to disrupt and transform the Jim Crow of the South within and beyond electoral politics Through primary source documents of Hamer's oral history interviews autobiographical writings speeches and multimedia publications on or about her life and legacy Crozier allows Hamer to have her say on racial and environmental justice concerns Crozier introduces Hamer as a revolutionary practical theologian who resided on the margins of the church academy and society

Rediscovering the Ministry of Blessing Russ Parker,2014-02-20 The Bible teaches us Russ Parker writes that blessing is a unique ministry resource gifted to believers to effect the purposes of God in people's lives In this enthralling book the author tells of situations of family estrangement depression and chronic illness of times of hopelessness and helplessness where miraculous transformation has been wrought through calling on God to bless someone with the richest blessing they are able to receive As he has travelled the country teaching on the ministry of blessing Russ has seen an enthusiastic response and uptake especially amongst those involved in prayer ministry He believes it is time for all who want to be part of God's renewal both in church and through reaching out to the wider community

Rewilding the Church Steve Aisthorpe,2020-07-30 Following on from his bestselling The Invisible Church Steve Aisthorpe finds inspiration for his new book in the ecological concept of rewilding an approach to the environment that allows nature to break free from the dulling effects of strategic control and bring wonder back into our lives Applying this thinking to the Church Steve Aisthorpe imagines what might happen if we put less faith in our strategies and plans which inevitably depend on our own capabilities and resources and allow the Spirit to lead us beyond our capacity to imagine Rewilding the Church explores afresh the compelling invitation of Jesus to Follow me and the call to throw off everything that hinders and entangles It poses provocative questions and issues a call to contribute to the great rewilding of the Church and to be rewilded ourselves The same human instincts that have disrupted our natural environment have also constrained and domesticated the Church and Rewilding the Church commends a rediscovery of the adventure of faith Steve Aisthorpe is one of the freshest and most original voices in the church today

Liberating the Will of Australia Geoffrey Burn, 2020-08-03 Why do many First People in Australia find themselves continually under siege Why do many interventions fail to produce what was hoped for Why is it that when there have been many positive developments at some deep level nothing seems to have changed Will the Uluru Statement from the Heart ensure the future security of the First Peoples in Australia By developing strands from Christian theology Liberating the Will of Australia answers these questions in a way that gets to the heart of the problem It is shown that the way that the First Peoples were treated by the first European in comers became an indelible part of what Australia currently is This explains why harm is often done even when good is intended and why some problems are too complex to solve But that does not mean that we need to be stuck in the past through deep repentance by the Subsequent Peoples much more than an apology we can take hold of the work of God to bring new things out of what is broken Ultimately this is profoundly hopeful Although focusing on Australia the theological tools developed can be applied in other colonial and post colonial contexts The Church Militant Graham R. Smith, 2016-11-08 A worldview of spiritual warfare is widely held among charismatics and Pentecostals but it has been criticized for producing paranoia and denying personal responsibility It is less well known that the term was first used in print around 1970 by Anglican charismatics What did it mean to them then and what are the practical effects of their worldview Should we now be adopting a more sophisticated ontology of evil such as Nigel Wright s non ontological realist view or Amos Yong s apophatic theology of the demonic rather than the traditional one that Satan and demons are real ontological entities This practical theological study begins with a study of Anglican charismatic pioneers and an in depth case study of a charismatic Anglican congregation before grappling with the ontological question in dialogue with Wright together with Barth and Walter Wink Yong and Gregory Boyd A fresh engagement with the biblical texts then argues for a positive realist ontology for rebellious demonic powers and presents a Trinitarian model of spiritual warfare praxis that emphasizes personal responsibility and promotes freedom from fear Confronting Technology Matthew T.

Prior, 2020-03-16 We are living through a digital revolution which already touches every area of life and will continue to shape the future in as yet unforeseen ways Digital technologies are an ordinary part of daily life and yet they also present an unprecedented challenge to Christians to articulate a biblical theological framework to navigate times of rapid change The work of the French theologian Jacques Ellul is a theological time bomb primed for times like these Accounts of Ellul s career often divide off his sociology and theology but this book argues that Ellul conceived a single project of bringing technology into confrontation with the Word of God tackling the phenomenon he named technique the pursuit of maximal power and efficiency implicit in the technological enterprise with a profound depth of biblical and ethical insight Centering himself on the apocalypse or revelation of Jesus Christ in history Ellul offers a monumental timely though far from flawless contribution to contemporary ethical debates about the uses and abuses of technologies His work blazes a trail that Christians and all concerned for the future would do well to follow as we avoid both the naivety of technological neutrality and the dread of technological determinism

Child Soldiers and Restorative Justice Jean Chrysostome K. Kiyala, 2018-07-18 This book investigates how while children used as soldiers are primarily perceived as victims of offences against international law they also commit war atrocities In the aftermath of armed conflict the mainstream justice system targets warlords internationally armed groups and militias commanders who abduct and enrol children as combatants leaving child perpetrators not being held accountable for their alleged gross human rights violations Attempts to prosecute child soldiers through the mainstream justice system have resulted in child rights abuses Where no accountability measures have been taken demobilised young soldiers have experienced rejection and eventually some have returned to soldiering This research provides evidence of the potential of restorative justice peacemaking circles and locally based jurisprudence specifically the Baraza to hold former child soldiers accountable and facilitate their reintegration into society

Christian Anthropology , Wounded Healers & Reconciliation Fatigue Bryan Mark Urbsaitis, 2009-06-01 How do NGOs understandings of reconciliation differ from those of their clients within a larger project of national healing How do staff at these NGOs balance remembering the past with nation building and international development when they may be victims themselves Why do certain groups and individuals continue to feel marginalized so long after liberation And how might NGOs in South Africa constitute a reconciliation social movement Wounded Healers argues that while South Africans have been reconciling apartheid era abuses since 1994 ongoing reconciliation struggles of individuals must not be overlooked within the larger quest for national healing Focusing on memorialization missing persons 30 000R reparation payouts as well as on the continued oppression of marginalized identity based on culture race class gender sexual orientation and HIV and AIDS this ethnographic analysis will appeal to all those interested in post conflict democratization NGOs international development non Western communication conflict peace building communication education ethnography cultural anthropology activism Africa and anyone interested in global social justice

Growth and Decline in the Anglican Communion David Goodhew, 2016-12-15 The Anglican Communion is one of the largest Christian denominations in the world Growth and Decline in the Anglican Communion is the first study of its dramatic growth and decline in the years since 1980 An international team of leading researchers based across five continents provides a global overview of Anglicanism alongside twelve detailed case studies The case studies stretch from Singapore to England Nigeria to the USA and mostly focus on non western Anglicanism This book is a critical resource for students and scholars seeking an understanding of the past present and future of the Anglican Church More broadly the study offers insight into debates surrounding secularisation in the contemporary world facilitate reconciliation between the Canadian state and Indigenous Peoples Its call to honour treaty relationships reminds us that we are all treaty people including immigrants and refugees living in Canada The contributors to this volume many of whom are themselves immigrants and refugees take up the challenge of imagining what it means for immigrants and refugees to live as treaty people Through essays personal reflections and poetry the authors explore what reconciliation is and what it means to live in relationship with Indigenous Peoples Speaking from their personal experience whether from the education and health care systems through research and a community garden or from experiences of discrimination and marginalization contributors share their stories of what reconciliation means in practice They write about building respectful relationships with Indigenous Peoples respecting Indigenous Treaties decolonizing our ways of knowing and acting learning the role of colonized education processes protecting our land and environment creating food security and creating an intercultural space for social interactions Perhaps most importantly Reconciliation in Practice reminds us that reconciliation is an ongoing process not an event and that decolonizing our relationships and building new ones based on understanding and respect is empowering for all of us Indigenous settler immigrant and refugee alike

Dilemmas of Reconciliation

Carol Prager,Trudy Govier,2010-10-30 How can bitter enemies who have inflicted unspeakable acts of cruelty on each other live together in peace At a time in history when most organized violence consists of civil wars and when nations resort to genocidal policies when horrendous numbers of civilians have been murdered raped or expelled from their homes this book explores the possibility of forgiveness The contributors to this book draw upon the insights of history political science philosophy and psychology to examine the trauma left in the wake of such actions using as examples numerous case studies from the Holocaust Russia Cambodia Guatemala South Africa and even Canada They consider the fundamental psychological and philosophical issues that have to be confronted offer insights about measures that can be taken to facilitate healing and summarize what has been learned from previous struggles Dilemmas of Reconciliation is a pioneering effort that explores the extraordinary challenges that must be faced in the aftermath of genocide or barbarous civil wars How these challenges of reconciliation are faced and resolved will affect not only the victims ability to go on with their lives but will impact regional stability and ultimately world peace
