Joycelyn Moody,2003 Sentimental Confessions is a groundbreaking study of evangelicalism sentimentalism and nationalism in early African American holy women s autobiography At its core are analyses of the life writings of six women Maria

Stewart Jarena Lee Zilpha Elaw Nancy Prince Mattie J Jackson and Julia Foote all of which appeared in the mid nineteenth century Joycelyn Moody shows how these authors appropriated white sanctioned literary conventions to assert their voices and to protest the racism patriarchy and other forces that created and sustained their poverty and enslavement In doing so

Moody also reveals the wealth of insights that could be gained from these kinds of writings if we were to acknowledge the spiritual convictions of their authors if we read them because not although they are holy texts The deeply held passionately expressed beliefs of these women says Moody should not be brushed aside by scholars who may be tempted to view them as na ve or as indicative only of the racial class and gender oppressions these women suffered In addition Moody promotes new ways of looking at dictated narratives without relegating them to a status below self authored texts Helping to recover a

Behrendt, 2014-10-17 One of the most exciting developments in Romantic studies in the past decade has been the rediscovery and repositioning of women poets as vital and influential members of the Romantic literary community This is the first volume to focus on women poets of this era and to consider how their historical reception challenges current conceptions of Romanticism With a broad revisionist view the essays examine the poetry these women produced what the poets thought about themselves and their place in the contemporary literary scene and what the recovery of their works says about current and past theoretical frameworks The contributors focus their attention on such poets as Felicia Hemans Letitia Elizabeth Landon Charlotte Smith Anna Barbauld Mary Lamb and Fanny Kemble and argue for a significant rethinking of Romanticism as an intellectual and cultural phenomenon Grounding their consideration of the poets in cultural social intellectual and aesthetic concerns the authors contest the received wisdom about Romantic poetry its authors its themes and its audiences Some of the essays examine the ways in which many of the poets sought to establish stable positions and identities for themselves while others address the changing nature over time of the reputations of these women poets Catalog of the Police Library of the
