demonstrates that contrary to widespread historical opinion Denis Healey was not necessarily set against carrier air power from his arrival in office and was willing to consider the procurement of a medium carrier for the navy Furthermore the work highlights the importance of the Mediterranean in the rehabilitation and renewal of self confidence by the navy in the late 1960s Although focusing primarily on policy and strategic matters the book incorporates wider historical consideration reviewing other factors that influenced policy making such as foreign policy financial resources materiel manpower and recruitment in addition to the administrative machinery and the cultural environment of the time In so doing Dr Hampshire offers a vivid insight into the interactions of government and military at a critical juncture in the changing nature of Britain's global role
