Foot and Mouth Disease A.J. van der Zijpp, M.J.E. Braker, C.H.A.M. Eilers, H. Kieft, T.A. Vogelzang, S.J. Oosting, 2023-08-28 A Foot and Mouth Disease outbreak is not by definition similar to a Foot and Mouth Disease crisis Why then did the 2001 outbreak result in a crisis situation in the Netherlands It was not because nobody was prepared for it The Ministry of Agriculture Nature Management and Fisheries had a scenario in stock The scenario was applied as intended The scenario did what it was supposed to do it prevented the spreading of the disease it resulted in a relatively soon eradication of the disease and it minimised damage to agricultural exports Nevertheless the crisis was there Foot and Mouth Disease new values innovative research agenda s and policies reports a process in which individuals and groups involved in the crisis participated in a joint analysis of what caused the crisis and in the making of a policy and research agenda The conclusion was that ignorance of the societal function of animals and countryside was the cause of the crisis the scenario focussed on Foot and Mouth Disease control in a production oriented environment In reality many people perceived that the scenario and its rigid application threatened nonproduction values such as the companion role of animals and the recreation function of the landscape Inevitably a next outbreak of Foot and Mouth Disease will occur However research and policy makers should seriously take up this perception of animals and countryside to prevent an outbreak of becoming a deep crisis again EU beef farming systems and CAP regulations Patrick Sarzeaud, Andie Dimitriadou, Milan Zjalic, 2023-08-28 The new Common Agricultural Policy launched in 2003 and implemented since 2005 appears as a big change mainly due to the introduction of the Single Payment Scheme and the decoupling of subsidies from production EU beef production is one of the sectors mostly affected by the existing CAP regulations This book addresses what the impact could be on the future of European beef farming systems and in what ways could beef farmers adapt in order to ensure the sustainability of their farms Within the Cattle Network Working Group of EAAP a group of European economists The Beef Task Force composed of experts and researchers from a number of EU countries engaged in a common project with the object of monitoring and developing studies on policy impact and farm strategy analysis The BTF joined national studies into a common report which is divided into four parts the current picture of beef farming systems in Europe CAP implementation at national level first impact of reformed CAP on farming systems future evolution of European beef production and land use This book highlights disparities in CAP implementation and presents the main developments regarding EU beef farming systems size increase farm regional specialization adaptation to market requirements and eventually social expectations It is of interest to policy makers and all those who concern themselves with the cattle industry Ethical futures: bioscience and food horizons Kate Millar, Pru Hobson West, Brigitte Nerlich, 2023-09-04 In an ever changing interconnected world the agriculture and food system faces constant challenges in many forms such as the impacts of climate change uncertainty surrounding the use of novel technologies and the emergence of new zoonotic diseases Alongside these challenges professionals working in the food system are faced with opportunities to improve food production and distribution As decision makers attempt to balance these threats and opportunities in order to secure more sustainable production systems the key question that arises is What do we envisage as the future for agriculture and food production With numerous voices advocating different and sometimes conflicting approaches ranging from organic farming to wider use of GMOs through in vitro meat production this discussion of the future raises significant ethical questions The contributions in this book bring together a diverse group of authors who explore a set of themes relating to the ethical dimensions of the agriculture and food futures including the role of novel technologies the potential issues raised by the use of biofuels the ethics of future animal production systems concepts of global food security as well as chapters on food governance priorities and educational aspects It is intended that this volume serves as an interesting collection and acts as a source of stimulation that will contribute to wider debate and reflection on the future of the agriculture and food system

Cultures of Technology and the Quest for Innovation Helga Nowotny, 2006-02-01 Underlying the current dynamics of technological developments their divergence or convergence and the abundance of options promises and risks they contain is the quest for innovation the contributors to this volume argue The seemingly insatiable demand for novelty coincides with the rise of modern science and the onset of modernity in Western societies Never before has the Baconian dream been so close to becoming reality wrapped into a globalizing capitalism that seeks ever expanding markets for new products artifacts and designs and new processes that lead to gains in efficiency productivity and profit However approaching these developments through a wider historical and cultural perspectives means to raise questions about the plurality of cultures the interaction between hardware and software and about the nature of the interfaces where technology meets with economic social legal historical constraints and opportunities The authors come to the conclusion that inside a seemingly homogenous package and a seemingly universal quest for innovation many differences remain
