Footsteps of the Master Harriet Beecher Stowe,2014-10-01 From the introductory Rex Lux Lex Dux WHEN a city is closely besieged and many of its outworks destroyed the defenders retreat to the citadel In our day there is warm fighting about the outworks of Christianity Many things are battered down that used to be thought indispensable to its defence It is time to retreat to the citadel and that citadel is Christ The old mediaeval symbol shown above is still more than ever good for our day Jesus Christ of Nazareth is still our King our Light our Law our Leader These names comprise all that a human being needs in this transitory perplexing and dangerous pilgrimage of life We are born to suffer The very conditions of our mortal existence here imply suffering of the most terrible kind as a possibility a probability or a certainty We have affections absorbing our whole being which are hourly menaced by danger and by death at any moment our sweetest joys may become sources only of bitterest remembrance We are born to perplexity We stand amid the jar and conflict of a thousand natural laws to us inexplicable and which every hour threaten us in ourselves or those dearer than ourselves We stand often in no less perplexity of moral law in ways where the path of duty and right is darkened and beset We are born to die At the end of every possible road of life lies the dark River the unknown future If we cling to life it is only to see it wither gradually in our hands to see friends dropping from our side places vacant at our fireside infirmities and pains gathering about us and a new generation with their impetuous energies rising around us to say Why do you wait here Why are you not gone And the Hereafter What is it Who will go with us into that future where no friend however dear can accompany the soul What hand of power and love will take ours in the last darkness when we have let go all others The dear old book which we call the Bible gives our answer to all this It tells us of a Being so one with the great Author of nature and Source of all power that whoso hath seen him hath seen the Creator It tells us that all things that we behold in our material world were made by him and for him that it pleased the Father that in him should all fullness dwell and that to him all things in heaven and on earth are made subject It shows him to us from the beginning of time as constantly absorbed in the care and education of this world of ours He has been the Desire of all nations predicted waited for come at last *Footsteps of the Master. Calvert-Koyzis, Heather Weir, 2010-08-26 While people often believe that the feminist movements in Britain and North America began in the late twentieth century this is certainly not the case Women throughout the centuries have sought to break out of the constraints that their societies deemed appropriate for them For interpreters in the Christian tradition this often meant examining biblical texts that had been understood in ways that demeaned women and using their interpretations to encourage women to break out of their culturally proscribed spheres The essays in this volume are drawn from the Recovering Female Interpreters of the Bible Consultation at the SBL Annual Meeting and from sessions on female interpreters of Scripture at the Canadian Society of Biblical Studies The essays address female interpreters of the Bible such as Eudocia and Anna Jameson whose publications have been largely ignored in the fields of the history of biblical interpretation and reception history Through their publications these women used their interpretive and theological skills to break the boundaries that previous interpretations of the Bible and their societies imposed upon them Our Master's footsteps; or, Bible class notes for thoughtful girls Charlotte Bickersteth Wheeler, 1883 Until Today! Iyanla

Centre, 196? Liahona , 1925 Hearing the Scriptures Eugen J. Pentiuc, 2021-10-16 Throughout the ages interpreters of the Christian scriptures have been wonderfully creative in seeking to understand and bring out the wonders of these ancient writings That creativity has often been overlooked by recent scholarship concentrated as it is in the so called critical period

In this study Eugen J Pentiuć illuminates the remarkable way in which the Byzantine hymnographers liturgists expressed their understanding of the Old Testament in their compositions an interpretive process that he terms liturgical exegesis In authorship and methodology patristic exegesis and liturgical exegesis are closely related Patristic exegesis however is primarily linear and sequential proceeding verse by verse while liturgical exegesis offers a more imaginative and eclectic mode of interpretation ranging over various parts of the Bible In this respect says Pentiuć liturgical exegesis resembles cubist art To illuminate the multi faceted creativity of liturgical exegesis Pentiuć has chosen the vast and rich hymnography of Byzantine Orthodox Holy Week as a case study offering a detailed lexical biblical and theological analysis of selected hymns His analysis reveals the many different and imaginative ways in which creative liturgists incorporated and interpreted scriptural material in these hymns By drawing attention to the way in which the bible is used by Byzantine hymnographers in the living Orthodox tradition Hearing the Scriptures makes a ground breaking contribution to the history of the reception of the scriptures

Recovering Nineteenth-Century Women Interpreters of the Bible Christiana de Groot, Marion Ann Taylor, 2018-04-25 Women have been thoughtful readers and interpreters of scripture throughout the ages yet the usual history of biblical interpretation includes few women's voices To introduce readers to this untapped source for the history of biblical interpretation this volume presents forgotten works from the nineteenth century written by women including Grace Aguilar Florence Nightingale and Harriet Beecher Stowe among others from various faith backgrounds countries and social classes engaging contemporary biblical scholarship Due to their exclusion from the academy women's interpretive writings addressed primarily a nonscholarly audience and were written in a variety of genres novels and poetry catechisms manuals for Bible study and commentaries on the books of the Bible To recover these nineteenth century women interpreters of the Bible each essay in this volume locates a female author in her historical ecclesiastical and interpretive context focusing on particular biblical passages to clarify an author's contributions as well as to explore how her reading of the text was shaped by her experience as a woman
